280 MINERS ENTOMBED IN FIERY GRAVE

TWO DEAD AND SIX HURT IN A BIG $2,000,000 BLAZE

WALLS FALL, BURYING FIREMEN UNDERNEATH

Entire Business Block in Cincinnati Destroyed by Flames; Falling Electric Light Pole Kills Youthful Spectator

CINCINNATI, Dec. 21.—Fire in the modern factory district of this city early today caused damage estimated at $2,000,000, the death of two men and the injury of six firemen.

The fire which started at 2 o'clock was one of the most disastrous the local department has had to battle with in many years. At the time it broke out a high wind was blowing. When the flames were finally brought under control ten firms had been burned out and eight large buildings destroyed.

LIST OF THOSE KILLED.

Among those killed were:
ROBERT D. GREAR, pipeman, Engine Company No. 4.
WALTER MORRIS, 18 years of age.

INJURED BY FALLING WALLS.

Among those injured were:
CAPTAIN W. T. TINGLEY, Engine Company No. 4.
FRANK HUMPHRIES, pipeman, Company No. 4.
GEIGER MORGAN, pipeman, Company No. 4
FIRE MARSHAL PHILIP HURLEY.
JOHN LUHN, fireman.
WILLIAM HALL, fireman.

BUSINESS HOUSES BURNED.

The firms burned out are Krippendorf & O'Neal Shoe Company, Taylor-Poole Leather Company, Cahill Shoe Company, Twin Lock Company, Sycamore Street Stable Company, barn; Griess-Pfleger Leather Company, Victor Safe and Lock Company, warehouse of the A. and J. Nurre Company, E. O. Duncan Paper Box Company and the Wildberg box factory.

The fire, it is believed, started in the engineroom of the plant of Krippendorf & O'Neal Company. Hardly had it been discovered when the flames leaped from almost every window from cellar to roof.

WIND AIDED FLAMES.

When the fire apparatus arrived it was seen that the shoe factory was doomed, and the firemen turned to the work of trying to save adjoining buildings. They virtually surrounded the fire with water, but it had too much of a start and, aided by the wind, it continued to spread

While the fire was at its height a wall of the Krippendorf building fell and buried Robert Grear. His body was recovered. Four other firemen were also caught by the falling wall and all badly injured.

FELL DOWN HATCHWAY.

Shortly afterward Fireman Luhn was at work in a stable in the rear of Griess-Pfleger Company when he stepped into a hatchway and fell two stories, breaking several ribs. He was most seriously hurt of any of the firemen.

FRENCH AVIATOR MAKES NEW RECORD

Legagneux Remains in the Air for Five Hours and Wins Prize

PAU, France, Dec. 21.—Legagneux, the French aviator, established a new record in the Michelin cup competition today remaining in the air from 8:31 o'clock until 2:35 and covering a distance of 516 kilometers, or 320.43 miles.

The Michelin cup is awarded annually to the aviator making within the year the longest sustained light in a closed circle and exceeding the record of the previous year. The winner receives a premium of $4000.

The prize was won last year by Henry Farman, who made 138 miles.

12 Hurt; Mail Burned; Wreck Manhattan Flyer

Trains Collide, One Hits Viaduct; Boiler Explodes; Baggage Cars Destroyed.

CHICAGO, Dec. 21.—A dozen persons were injured, one perhaps fatally in a collision today between the Manhattan flyer on the Pennsylvania railroad and a switch engine on the Panhandle Elevated structure at West Fifty-seventh street. The locomotive of the flyer was thrown off the track, crashing against a viaduct girder. The boiler exploded and set fire to the baggage and mail cars.

OAKLAND BOY VICTIM OF AUTO

Philip Brown Run Down and Killed by Machine Belonging to Henshaws.

Accident Unavoidable, Witnesses Say; Bereaved Widow Is Prostrated.

Stricken with grief over the death of her 10-year-old son Philip, who was run down and killed yesterday afternoon by an automobile carrying Mrs William G. Henshaw and a party, Mrs C. L. Brown refused today to make a statement. The widow is prostrated at her home at 806 Thirteenth street and grave fears are entertained for her health.

The accident that snuffed out the life of the boy occurred at Twelfth and West streets at 4 o'clock. Mrs. Henshaw with her two daughters, Mr. Harry Chickering and Miss Florence Henshaw, and Miss Alice Grimes were in the Henshaw machine, with Charles Sedgebeer at the wheel. Philip Brown had been sent on an errand to a grocery store at Twelfth and West streets and was hurriedly returning to his home when, dashing behind a street car, he ran into the Henshaw automobile.

BOY IS CRUSHED.

The chauffeur made every effort to stop the machine, throwing on the emergency brake and stopping his engines, but not before the lad was thrown to the ground by the left wheel of the machine, sustaining injuries that caused his death in a few minutes.

He was picked up, put in the automobile and rushed to the Receiving Hospital. There were no signs of life when the body was placed on the operating table.

Mrs. Henshaw, her daughters and Miss Grimes were transferred to another machine and taken to the banker's home, all of them verging on hysterics, brought on by shock.

According to eye witnesses the accident was unavoidable. Young Brown while in the grocery store asked for the time of day and remarked that he would have to hurry. He ran out of the place and stopped near the tracks on Twelfth street to let a car go by. Then he darted across the street and directly in the path of the oncoming automobile.

BROTHER SEEKS VICTIM.

Efforts to find the identity of the victim were futile until James Brown, a elder brother was sent in search of Philip, whose absence alarmed his mother. A witness to the accident, noting a resemblance to the injured lad in the features of his brother gave the family the first intimation of Philip's fate.

Sedgebeer, followed to the Receiving Hospital by Detectives Flynn and Keneely, made a statement, and was later released on his own recognizance. The police believe the accident was unavoidable.

Less than a week ago Sedgebeer

WILL ATTACK VALIDITY OF LETTERS

Sensation Promised by Mrs. Turnbull's Lawyers Along These Lines.

Contestant Full of Fight Today in Court; Cross Examination to Continue.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 21.—With spirit unbroken by two days of grueling cross-examination, and if anything more defiant than ever, giving back stab for stab, Mrs. Lillian Turnbull resumed the stand today for further questioning in the contest of her daughter, Beatrice, for a $2,500,000 share of the estate of Lucky Baldwin.

When she appeared today she was more pallid but her confidence apparently had been strengthend by the discovery made yesterday that her old letters which had been presented by counsel for the estate as a surprise to disconcert her, had not reposed in the court archives of San Francisco since her unsuccessful seduction suit in 1896, but had been sent to Boston after the issue of that case, where they remained in the possession of James R. Wood, a private detective. It was Wood who first acted in the interests of Col. Albert Pope, but who, according to Mrs. Turnbull's testimony "sold her out to Baldwin."

SHE ALLEGES FORGERY.

Some of these letters Mrs. Turnbull has declared to be forgeries. Others, she swore, contained interpolations which changed the entire purport of the originals.

Wood, she declared, was "the wickedest man I ever knew," and it now seems certain, in view of the discovery that the letters had not been in the San Francisco archives, that the "reserved sensations," promised by the attorneys representing Miss Turnbull in this case, will consist of an attack on the authenticity of the letters.

It is on these letters that counsel for the estate apparently rely to disprove the allegation of Mrs. Turnbull that Baldwin married her by contract and that Miss Beatrice Anita Turnbull was his daughter by that marriage.

The court had hardly resumed its session today when Judge Reeves announced that further hearing of testimony would be postponed until 2 o'clock this afternoon. Pressing probate cases necessitated the court's action in adjourning the Baldwin case. It was announced Mrs. Turnbull would resume her testimony at the afternoon session.

MEMORY NOT CLEAR.

When Mrs. Turnbull took the stand this afternoon Attorney McNab took her again over the ground of her visit to California.

She said Baldwin had urged her to

INDICT THREE BROKERS

Federal Action Against Boston Officials for Alleged Misuse of Mails.

BOSTON, Dec. 21.—Rev. Norman K. Plass, former president of the Redeemable Investigation Company; Charles H. Brooks, manager, and John F. Trappaden, an agent of the company, were indicted today by the federal grand jury for using the mails to defraud.

The Redeemable Investment Company was organized three years ago by Rev. Mr. Plass, former president of Washburn College, Topeka, Kan. Associated with him were several business men.

It was stated in the literature that the company controlled as a holding company, mining farm and timber properties in the northwest and in British Columbia.

When the federal officers visited the offices on October 19 and carried off the books and arrested Manager Brooks, Mr. Plass was on his way to British Columbia and it was not until three weeks later that he returned voluntarily and surrendered himself to the United States marshal. He said on arriving in Boston that he had resigned as president of the company two months previously.

Hornet Permitted to Start Voyage

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 21.—The steamer Hornet after a final thorough search by federal authorities to make sure that she carried no military equipment to be used in a revolutionary expedition, weighed anchor shortly before noon today and sailed on her mysterious voyage to Central American waters.

After starting down the river the steamer Hornet dropped anchor again near Algiers Point in the Mississippi.

DIAZ SEEMS TO FACE SERIOUS CRISIS

For First Time in His Career a Rebellion Seems Gaining and Holding Its Ground

Government Is Believed to Be Withholding True List of the Soldiers Killed

Defeat of Troop Train With Its Artillery Gives Big Impetus to Rebel Movement

CHIHUAHUA, Mexico, via El Paso, Dec. 21.—Amplified advices change but little today's telegraphic report of the cutting up of the government troop train at Mal Paso last Saturday. The official report of 21 federals killed, 10 missing and 42 wounded stands, with the addition that 30 slightly wounded, bringing the total injured to 72, also came on the train. The injuries of these 30 are not serious and it is not customary to carry them in the hospital lists. Most of them are on their feet.

Rumors have been abroad today that the federals lost 100 killed, but this seems to be without foundation, and probably referred to the total number of killed, wounded and injured, which makes about 100.

CAPTURES MAUSERS.

Verisimilitude is added to the government report of losses by the fact that the hospital train brought in 80 Mauser rifles, or about the number which their killed and wounded would have dropped. Also 100 killed to 72 wounded is far from the proportion which the killed in battle usually bear to the injured. It is considered a sanguinary battle where one man is killed to five wounded.

The defeat of the troop train with its three field pieces and 350 men intensifies the tension here. On top of the drawn battle of Cerro Prieto ten days ago, it is taken as confirmation of declarations that President Diaz, for the first time in his long tenure of office, confronts a real revolution.

The most ardent sympathizers with the revolt—and they include most of the unofficial population — scarcely hoped the insurgents would be able to make more than one stand against

CONGRESS TAKES RECESS FOR HOLIDAYS

Difficulty of Keeping Members in Seats Results in Little Business Accomplished

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—Congress has adjourned for the holiday recess until January 5.

CLIMAX AWAITED IN THREATENED R.R. STRIKE

Action Expected Tonight That May Throw Thousands Out of Work

CHICAGO, Dec. 21.—No action is expected in the treatened strike of engineers on railroads west north and south of Chicago before tonight.

Grand Chief Warren D. Stone of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, conferred with his executive committee, but had no announcement to make.

Senate Committee Finds That Lorimer Did Not Gain His Seat by Bribery

Chairman of the Senate Committee on Elections and the Illinois Senator who is cleared of charge of bribery.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—Senator Burrows, chairman of the committee on privileges and elections, presented to the Senate today the report of the investigation committee of the bribery charges made in connection with the election of William Lorimer as senator from Illinois.

The conclusion reached by the committee was as follows: "That in their opinion the title of Mr. Lorimer to a seat in the Senate has not been shown to be invalidated by the use of or employment of corrupt methods or practices."

NOT TO BE BELIEVED.

Charges that four members of the Illinois legislature were bribed and three other members paid bribes are not ignored by the committee. The report declares that those who confessed receiving bribes should not be believed and the votes of those who were charged with having paid bribes should be counted. In relation to the charges that a corruption fund was used in the Illinois legislature, the report says there is no evidence that it was used for the benefit of Mr. Lorimer.

STATEMENT BY BEVERIDGE.

On the floor of the Senate Mr. Beveridge made the statement that he had not been able to concur with or dissent from the findings because of the voluminous character of the testimony. He said he would digest the proceedings from the investigating committee during the holidays.

The statement of views sent to the committee by Senator Frazier, who was a member of the sub-committee, were not filed with the report.

THE CHARGE OF BRIBERY.

The report to the Senate recites that the memorial filed June 7, 1910, by Clifford W. Barnes, president of the Legislative Voters' league of Chicago, charged that "the election of William Lorimer, Senator from the state of Illinois, was brought about by bribery."

Then follows the instructions of the Senate given on June 20, directing the committee on privileges and elections to

Lu Etta Smith Brings Ill-Fated Child Into Court

SANTA ROSA, Dec. 21.—After a rest of nearly a week since her field cross-examination, Lu Etta Smith, chief witness against Dr. W. P. Burke, again took the stand today. Juror Oeltjen, whose illness caused the delay resumed his seat in the jury box.

Miss Smith appeared in court with her child in her lap. When District Attorney Lea asked her if it was her child, Attorney J. R. Leppo objected to the child's appearance in court and the taking of testimony in its connection. The court ruled that the child could be brought in for purposes of identification.

TELLS OF MEETING.

District Attorney Lea went into the question of the departure of Miss Smith for the Orient, after the indictment of Dr. Burke, and announced that later he would show the connection of the defendant with her disappearance.

The woman testified that Marian Dering gave her the money used on the trip. She then told of having signed at Mrs. Dering's request certain blank papers which she believed were to be used for the purpose of identification. Miss Smith then declared that the typewritten exoneration above her signature was a forgery. The letter to District Attorney Lea purporting to be an exoneration of Dr. Burke was introduced in evidence.

Accused Bullion Thieves Indicted; Trial Is Delayed

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 21.—It will probably be five or six weeks before the trial of the four defendants arrested in connection with the alleged theft of gold from the treasure ship Humboldt, in northern waters, can be heard in this city.

Last night the local grand jury voted indictments against the quartet of defendants, Elmer Smith, Margaret Henry and the two Woodsons, and today Attorney Cotton of the district attorney's office, is preparing the true bills which will be brought into Presiding Judge Van Nostrand's court tomorrow.

The reason for the delay in the trial is occasioned by the fact that witnesses will have to come a great distance, some of them from Alaska, and a great amount of labor will be required to get the evidence in shape for the hearing.

Maybelle Corey's Brother Sues to Cancel Transfer

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 21.—James Monroe Gilman, a brother of Maybelle Corey, former actress, and wife of the head of the steel trust, brought suit today against Attorney W. G. Deal to cancel the assignment of his interest in Kern county properties said to be valued at $3,000,000.

Gilman asserts that in June last Deal represented to him that a Hawaiian firm wanted to purchase the property, but could not sell bonds until a quit claim deed had been signed by Gilman.

He declares that he was prevailed upon to take this action and influence his sisters to do so, and asserts that Deal was acting for himself and that there was no syndicate behind him.

POISONOUS GAS FILLS ENTIRE MINE

Eight Rescued, but Remainder Are Believed to Have Perished

Rescue Parties Driven Back From Levels of the Colliery

Explosion Occurred Just After the Men Had Gone to Work

To Add to Horror Machinery Broke Down, Cutting Off Escape

BOLTON, Eng., Dec. 21.—An explosion, followed by fire, and causing many fatalities, occurred in the Little Hulton colliery of the Hulton Colliery Company here today, soon after 290 miners had gone below the surface.

The first rescue party brought seven men and a boy to safety and later recovered the bodies of five victims.

At the moment of the explosion flames spread through the affected passage and smoke and poisonous gas filled the mine.

MACHINERY BROKE DOWN.

The plight of the miners was rendered more dangerous by a mishap to the machinery of the shafts, where the cages refused to move for a time, preventing a quick escape and interfering with the ventilation.

The rising gases were checked by obstruction and driven back upon the entombed men. Meantime the fire raged fiercely, and it is supposed many who were not killed by noxious fumes were burned to death.

RESCUERS DRIVEN BACK.

Rescuers, wearing helmets, went into the pit and succeeded in extinguishing the flames in an area 150 feet in length, but encountered heavy falls of coal and slack.

At 2 o'clock only eight of the 290 imperiled men had escaped and the outlook for the rescue of others was dubious. At that hour ten bodies had been recovered.

FATE IN DOUBT.

The fate of some 280 men still entombed (the exact number cannot be known) remained in doubt this evening, but those who had been below in an effort to reach them expressed little hope that any more would be rescued.

For a time the lives of 700 men were in jeopardy, as a mine communicating with the one in which the explosion occurred was damaged by the shock, and it was some time before its 400 occupants could be reached and brought to the surface.

TEN DEAD BODIES FOUND.

The ten bodies recovered were lying close to the mouth of the pit. In each case death was due to asphyxiation.

One of the eight miners who escaped said the force of the explosion was such as the limbs of many men were blown off. The report was heard at points seven miles distant.

Thousands of persons from the surrounding country were still gathered at the pithead tonight. The holiday garb of the city is already being replaced with emblems of mourning.

DENY REPORTED CHURCH SCHISM

Rumored Troubles Branded as False by Pastor of St. Elizabeth's Church.

EDITOR TRIBUNE: Last Saturday our attention was called to an article in your paper stating that there was to be a division in St. Elizabeth's parish. It was claimed that such a division was desirable since the "major part of the services" was conducted in the German language.

We wish to state that the whole affair has been investigated by the fathers of St. Elizabeth's and been found to be absolutely unfounded.

The story was traced back to its author, who is an unreliable person and who on former occasions has been mixed up in similar affairs.

The Franciscan Fathers of St. Elizabeth's are trying their utmost to satisfy the demands of their large and very mixed parish, hence their solicitude to ward off anything which would cause discord amongst the various nationalities confided to their spiritual care.

A Valuable Stone Belonging to Crawford Hill Is Sold for $300.

PUEBLO, Colo., Dec 21.—A seven and one-half karat blue diamond, valued at $3000, which was stolen from the home of Crawford Hill, owner of the Denver Republican, in Denver last Saturday, was found in a pawnshop here yesterday. The gem had been sold for $300. There is no clew to the man who brought the diamond to the shop.

Lehigh Pays Dividend; Four Per Cent Increase

Stock Placed On Annual Basis of Ten Per Cent; Big Annual Gain.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 21.—The directors of the Lehigh Valley Railroad declared today a semi-annual dividend of 5 per cent, an increase of 2 per cent over the dividend paid last June. This puts the stock on an annual basis of 10 per cent, an increase of 4 per cent per annum.

remain with him, and McNab made an effort to learn whether she had come from Boston on a round trip.

"I don't remember whether it was a round trip ticket or not."

"Can't you remember whether you paid only for one way or both ways? You were not a rich woman then, and the amount necessary for such a trip was a consideration, was not it?"

A TENDER WOUND.

Recurring to the night of the alleged marriage, March 3, 1893, McNab said:

"When, as you say, Mr. Baldwin told you he had been divorced, did you inquire as to the cause of the divorce?"

"I did not."

"Did you make any inquiries?"

"He told me in such a pathetic, heartbroken way that I felt too sorry for him to risk reopening what I thought was a tender wound."

"Did you make any inquiries regarding his character?"

"No, I thought him an honorable, high-minded, moral man."

Continuing, Mrs. Turnbull said that when Baldwin gained her consent to marriage, she wanted the ceremony performed by a minister or justice. "But," she added, "he told me a contract was just as good and right, and said he had private reasons for having it that way."

VERY PERSUASIVE MAN.

"Had you no religious scruples, and had you never heard of a contract marriage before?"

"Mr. Baldwin was a very persuasive man," replied the witness, "and I had implicit confidence in him."

"And yet you had met him only three times," commented McNab. "Don't you know that the entire religious system of New England is violently opposed to divorce?"

NEVER SAW MRS. BALDWIN.

"But, when Baldwin said he had been divorced, it did not excite you to the purpose of making any inquiries?"

"I made no inquiries," said the witness.

"Ever meet Mrs. Baldwin?"

"Never saw the lady," said Mrs. Turnbull. "I never even knew where she lived until Mr. Baldwin went east in May 1893."

CHINESE ARRESTED.

ALAMEDA, Dec. 21.—Ten Chinese fishermen, arrested yesterday afternoon on San Leandro bay by Game Warden J. H. Davis, charged with taking undersized fish, were released yesterday afternoon by Judge R. B. Tappan on $20 bail each. Their trial date will be set later.

REVOLUTION GROWS AND DIAZ FACES CRISIS

Navarro's Failure to Hold Bad Pass May Mean Serious Loss to Government.

REBELS REINFORCED AND ROUT SOLDIERS

Situation Grows Worse Hourly and Rebellion Assumes Proportions.

The government stated that the revolt consisted of little save a nucleus of bandits augmented by misguided peons who could not handle a rifle, and whom it might be but police work to subdue.

Official reports double the government estimate of the number of insurrectos in the field. Cerro Prieto was a drawn fight. Mal Paso was a victory for the rebels. That summarizes in effect the result of important military happenings in the State of Chihuahua. Conservative Americans who have held all along that the government had a job on its hands, but would triumph eventually by force of numbers and resources, were talking in a different strain tonight. The discussion runs mostly as to how long General Navarro, with the main force of federals, can hold out. Reports that he has been killed remain without confirmation. His force, however, it is reported, is surrounded in the vicinity of Pedernales, which has been the chief theater of action, is in the plains about six miles from Mal Paso.

NAVARRO REPORTS.

Navarro's official report of his exploits last Thursday, as given out by the war office at the City of Mexico, are interesting in view of the defeat at Mal Paso. It is a commentary on Mexican official reports. The war office said that he dislodged the rebels from Mal Paso after two hours' fighting. He then returned from Mal Paso to Pedernales, where, after six hours of desperate shooting, the rebels disappeared in all directions.

Today comes the story of the federal wounded. They ran into a very serious predicament at a place where the official report declared that the enemy had been dislodged and had fled in disorder, not only from Mal Paso, but from Pedernales.

It is true, though not given out by the war office so far as known there, that Navarro reported here later that he had been unable to hold his advantage at Mal Paso and had been twice repulsed. He had been ordered to hold Mal Paso to form a junction with the soldiers of the troop train. He made a desperate attempt to do so but failed.

REBELS IN RESERVE.

His failure in this regard is attributed to the remarkable augmentation of the revolutionary numbers. It has been reported all along and asserted by insurrectos leaders, that a thousand men were held in reserve, having been ordered to remain at work in the mines until called for. This call went forth over a week ago. Whereas, their number at that time was not over a thousand, the official reports now put them at 2000. Navarro, on the other hand has not grown stronger.

The troop train left here Saturday morning. The night was spent at San Antonio. It has been proposed to disembark at that point, but the country looked so tranquil that it was decided to use the train a bit further. This brought the detachment to the east entrance of Mal Paso (Bad Pass). It was not intended to proceed further by train, but to take up the march there, scouting as they went.

REBELS OFTEN FIRE.

Scarcely had the process of disembarkation began, however, when the insurrectos opened fire from the mountain tops and sides. The soldiers fought back for five hours. Their efforts to board the train again is described as disorderly—almost panicky.

That they brought their wounded with them is denied. It is said that under the gruelling fire this was impossible. It was another detachment, it is reported, which, hurrying to the aid of the train, found the troopers gone and the enemy likewise. It picked up the wounded and continuing east, brought them to Bustillos.

These were placed aboard a freight train and sent to this city, where they arrived early today. The injured suffered intensely. There was but one doctor in the outfit and no appliances save the most crude.

The passenger train which was due here last Thursday night and was stopped by the revolutionists remains unreported, and presumably is at La Junta or Madera.

A REBEL APPEAL.

EL PASO, Texas, Dec. 21.—A circular signed by Pascual Oroszco, leader of the insurgents in Western Chihuahua and signing himself "Chief of Arms," appeals to all patriotic Mexicans in the state to rise and join the rebels. The circular recites that the rebels have not lost a battle, but have risked their lives and many have sacrificed them to prove to others that the Mexican government can be successfully resisted.

"Now" he declares, "is the opportune time to join us. We have not met a defeat."

Oroszco was formerly connected with the Mexico Northwestern railway and is the son of a wealthy Chihuahua cattleman. His father is a captain under him in the insurgent ranks.

SENATOR LORIMER RETAINS HIS SEAT

Evidence Before Investigating Committee Not Considered as Sustaining Charges.

investigate the charges and the fact that a sub-committee was appointed, composed of Senators Burrows, Gamble, Heyburn, Bulkeley, Frazier, Paynter and Johnstone.

ELECTION OF LORIMER.

The committee set forth as a statement of fact that Lorimer was elected on May 26, 1909, receiving 108 votes out of 202 cast on the joint ballot of the Illinois assembly. These votes were set out as follows:

Hopkins, 70; Lorimer, 108, and Stringer, 24.

WHAT MUST BE PROVED.

Under the head of "bribery" the committe says:

"In a number of cases that have been before the Senate of the United States it has been held that to invalidate the election of a Senator on account of bribery it must be made to appear, either, first, that the person elected participated in one or more acts of bribery or attempted bribery, or sanctioned or encouraged the same; or, second, that by bribery or corrupt practice enough votes were obtained for him to change the result of the election."

TESTIMONY QUOTED

Testimony was quoted by the report to show that at the outset of the investigation, counsel for the Chicago Tribune (who conducted the inquiry against Senator Lorimer) announced that he did not expect to connect Senator Lorimer with any acts of bribery.

The report says the investigation was chiefly directed to the claim that several members of the legislature were bribed to vote for Lorimer, and whether, if these charges were established, "a sufficient number were bribed to vote for Senator Lorimer to render his election to that office invalid."

CONFESSIONS OF LEGISLATORS.

The report says:

"Four members of the general assembly which elected Mr. Lorimer testified to receiving a money consideration for their votes. The members who thus confessed their own infamy were Charles A. White, Michael Link, H. J. Beckemeyer and Daniel W. Holstlaw."

The report names Charles A. White as "the chief of those self-accusers and the one on whose testimony the whole fabric of the accusation largely depends." And accuses him directly of corruption throughout his legislative career.

It is stated that White "appears to have conceived the plan of claiming to have been bribed in connection with the senatorial election as a basis of extorting money from Senator Lorimer."

NO CREDENCE GIVEN.

The conclusion of the committee in regard to the testimony of White is as follows:

"It may be said that after seeing, observing and hearing this witness, it was the opinion of a majority of the committee that no credence ought to be given to any part of his testimony tending to establish the fact of bribery."

The report quotes the testimony of Link, Beckemeyer and Holstlaw and comments thereon in part as follows:

CONCLUSIONS OF COMMITTEE.

"After a careful examination and consideration of all the evidence submitted, the committee is of the opinion that even if it should be conceded that the four members of the Illinois general assembly before referred to received money in consideration for their votes for Mr. Lorimer, there are no facts or circumstances from which it can legally be inferred that any other member or members of the said general assembly were bribed to vote for Mr. Lorimer.

"The majority for Mr. Lorimer in the joint assembly of the state of Illinois was 14. Unless therefore, a sufficient number of these votes were obtained by corrupt means to deprive him of his majority, Mr. Lorimer has a good title to the seat. If it were admitted that four of the members of the general assembly who voted for Mr. Lorimer were bribed to do so, he still had a majority of the votes cast in the general assembly and his election was valid."

SENATOR FRAZIER'S VIEWS.

The statement of views of Senator Frazier was made public late in the day. Senator Frazier declares that the four confessed bribe-takers implicated three other members of the legislature who bribed them; that these three votes also were corrupt, which would make seven tainted votes. Elimination of these seven votes, Senator Frazier holds, would make the vote received by Senator Lorimer less than a majority.

Gem Bait in Rat Trap Lands Thief in Jail

A Chicago Crook Loses Plunder and Breaks Fingers Before Final Undoing.

TRENTON, N. J., Dec. 21.—James Meany, of Chicago, says he is the original hard luck thief. He faced a prison sentence today for putting his hand in a rat trap.

While looting the home of Mrs. Julian Voorheis, Meany dropped a diamond ring into a rat trap. Three of his fingers were broken and he made no attempt to escape.

WOMAN ACCUSED OF MURDER TO BE TRIED

"Dr." Mary Adams' trial for the murder of Mrs. Eliza Tildsley of Emeryville, who died at Providence Hospital on the morning of November 6, as the result of two operations said to have been performed upon her by the prisoner, who runs a maternity hospital in Fruitvale, will begin in the criminal department of the superior court next Tuesday morning. It should have begun this forenoon, but owing to a lack of jurors Judge Brown continued the case. The Adams woman is represented by Attorneys John J. Allen and Mervin Samuels.

HIGH SCHOOL BOY GIVEN PROBATION

BERKELEY, Dec. 21.—Elmer Bradford, a nineteen-year-old pupil of the Berkeley High School, charged with petty larceny, has been placed on probation for six months by Police Judge Edgar. He was accused of stealing money from the pockets of Kenneth Hayes, a schoolmate.

TO COMPLY WITH ANTI-BOX ORDER

Restaurant Keeper Submits Plans for Reconstruction of Establishment.

The first attempt to comply with the new ordinance abolishing private boxes and rooms in local cafes and restaurants is to be made by Pat Kisich of the Saddle Rock, but the board of public works, to which he showed his plans for the reconstruction of his restaurant, are not sure that he has come within the meaning of the anti-box ordinance.

He was asked to bring in a legal opinion in conjunction with the plans and specifications. The matter will be considered at the meeting of the board Friday afternoon.

PLANS SUBMITTED.

Kisich plans to put in a mezzanine gallery, opening over the public dining room, the gallery to carry ornamental tables backed by old English benches with backs ending six feet from the floor. Openings are at each end, upon a passage way and upon the open court down upon the main public dining room.

Whether this gallery can be considered a public dining room from which the interior of the boxes can be seen is the legal question to be settled.

MAN KILLED BY FALL OF ELEVATOR

Work Hoist Breaks and Drops Seven Stories With Fatal Result.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 21.—Hurled from the seventh to the ground floor of the new Hotel Alexandria Annex by the breaking of a work elevator, Ernest Pearman is dead and J. Lawrence perhaps fatally injured. Charles Tontz and Steve Smith, two laborers, were injured but saved their lives by clinging to the sides of the elevator shaft until rescued.

The men had started from the ground floor with several barrels of putty and when they reached an upper floor increased their load to a total of about 2000 pounds. It is said this weight was greater than the elevator was built to carry, and the accident followed.

15 Years for Farmer Who Attacked Teacher

Defendant Confessed, Then He Pleaded Insanity; but Is Declared Guilty by Jury.

PEORIA, Ill., Dec. 21.—Joseph Hoffman, the young farmer who assaulted Miss Mazo Clark, a school teacher at Big Hollow, November 1, was found guilty today. The jury fixed his penalty at fifteen years in jail. Hoffman confessed his crime. The insanity plea was used as a defense.

driving the same car, ran into an embankment at Twenty-first and Grove streets and was ditched. Although no one was injured the accident was reported to the police. The accident occurred at a point where the Southern Pacific Company is making a crossing. Lights were displayed.

GIRL IS KILLED.

On May 27, 1907, Edith Youlton, an 11-year-old girl, was run down and killed on Boulevard avenue, near Bryant street, by an automobile driven by Miss Florence Henshaw, and last September William G. Henshaw had a narrow escape from being killed when his auto crashed into a Shattuck avenue and residing at 860 Thirteenth street car at Sixty-first street.

The boy was the son of Mrs. Charlotte Brown, a widow, registrar of the Alameda County Nurses' Association.

DESERTED BY HUSBAND.

AFRICA DEMANDS AMERICAN MULES

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—In South Africa the American mule is considered superior to the animals imported from Argentina, according to consul reports. The Missouri or Kentucky mule is the best suited for South Africa. One hundred mules were recently imported from the United States and they have proved so satisfactory that a contract for 200 more has just been closed.

The mules must be 14½ hands, deep girth, good bone and short legged and must be between four and seven years old. The price paid for an American mule in South Africa is slightly less than $250, but before they enter the country they are passed upon by a veterinary surgeon.

KRAUS JURY PRISONERS FOR REST OF TRIAL

ORVILLE, Cal., Dec. 21.—A misunderstanding juror and relentless judge have caused the jury in the Kraus case to be ordered under lock and key for the remainder of the trial.

Consternation reigned in the courtroom yesterday when Judge Gray sternly asked "Where is the twelfth juror?"

A poll was ordered and it was found that John H. Baker of Clear Creek had disappeared. A quick search found him hurriedly hitching up his team preparing to go home. For explanation as to why he had deserted the jury, he said that he understood the court to dismiss the jury for the day and that he was going home to finish some important work.

CUSSING MORAL, RULES JUSTICE

Kansas City Court Refuses to Grant Woman Divorce, But Scores Her.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Dec. 21.—When swearing is a habit, followed in good humor, it does not fall into the category of the immoral and cannot be scheduled as such an indignity as to entitle the wife to a divorce, according to an opinion rendered in the circuit court here yesterday by Judge T. A. Frank Jones, in granting a divorce to Samuel McGee, a Kansas City policeman.

Judge Jones severely reprimanded Mrs. McGee, saying that she had so conducted herself that the big policeman was nothing but a "mere cipher" in his own home.

"It is shown that Mrs. McGee is frugal and industrious," said the judge. "But that is not the gamut of wifely virtues. The law vests the husband with special authority in his household. The wife promises obedience to it when she marries. Mrs. McGee has not submitted to that authority."

NOW WHAT WOULD ROOSEVELT SAY?

Stork Proves Laggard Bird and Police Judge Upbraids Court Attaches.

There was a smile on the face of Judge Mortime. Smith as he took his place on the bench in Police Court No. 1 this morning despite the fact that this was the second day of absence of Clerk of the Court Fred Donohue. For news came to the court this morning that Mrs. Fred Donohue was the mother of a fine baby girl, the second in the Donohue family.

The judge smiled, and gazed at Prosecuting Attorney Ezra Decoto.

"Did you hear that Fred had another?" asked the judge. "How many have you?"

"None," admitted Decoto.

"How long have you been married?"

"Six or seven years."

The judge turned with regret to Court Officer John Murray, but was grieved to find that Murray, although married 24 years, had not contributed to the population of Oakland.

"This court is a disgrace," declared the jurist. "I have two and Fred has two. How about you, Van Court?"

"None, your honor," answered Court Stenographer E. S. Van Court, who entered the bonds of matrimony about 15 years ago. Court Bailiff Charles McCarthy, known as one of the handsomest men about the city hall, was the next to be questioned, and although married seven years, was forced to enroll himself under the banner of the anti-Teddyites.

The court looked disgusted and ordered a bouquet for Mrs. Donohue.

MANACLED BURGLAR MAKES HIS ESCAPE

SANTA ROSA, Dec. 21.—After capturing the man who robbed the White House dry goods store and two residences and recovering all of the stolen property, Chief of Police J. M. Boyes and Policeman I. Lindley allowed the thief to escape handcuffed last night. Several revolver shots were fired after the burglar, but he was not struck. Ray Glatfelder, son of Clement Glatfelder, a hack driver, is supposed to be the thief.

Sunday, December 11, Glatfelder entered the home of William T. Hurt, an employe of the White House, and stole a set of keys to the store. Before the thief had time to enter the store the lock was changed. A week later Hurt's home was again entered and another set was stolen, in addition to a considerable sum of money belonging to Hurt. The same night the White House was robbed of several hundred dollars' worth of goods. Last Monday night the home of J. W. Andrews was robbed of $27.

Glatfelder was suspected, and last night Chief Boyes and Officer Lindley surprised him in his home, where they found the stolen goods and the money. Glatfelder told the police he had buried the keys, and it was when the officers were digging for them that he made his escape.

$5,830,000 COST OF DREADNAUGHT

Newport News Company Is Awarded Contract to Build New "Texas."

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—The contract for building the 27,00-ton battleship Texas was awarded yesterday to the Newport News Shipbuilding Company, the lowest bidder, at $5,30,000. The award provides for reciprocating engines instead of the giant turbines now being installed on nearly all other modern ships. The government could have saved $55,000 by accepting the proposition of the Newport News Company to supply the ship with Curtiss turbines, or $40,000 if the British designed Parsons' turbines had been selected.

The decision to revert to the old reciprocating engines was based on the recommendation of the engineer in chief and other members of the construction board, the reason assigned being the superior economy of the reciprocating engines at "cruising" or middle rate speed. It is not contended that the turbine is not superior to the reciprocating engines at top speeds but it is argued that these speeds are little used so the economical consideration prevailed.

SISTER SHIP.

It appears that the navy department will refer without comment to congress the proposition of the Newport News Company to build the battleship New York, sister ship of the Texas, at the same figure, $5,830,000.

The department has been gathering some data from the various bureaus regarding the probable cost of constructing this ship in the New York navy yard, according to the terms of the last appropriation act, and it appears that this cannot be done within the cost. Latest figures show that to build the New York would involve an expenditure for labor of $3,200,000. The direct, or overhead charges, meaning cost of superintendence, etc., $1,000,000.

The authorized cost of the ship is $6,000,000 so that it would be necessary to have the limit increased by $1,300,000 if congress adhered to its original decision that the ship should be constructed in a navy yard.

As no bid in regular form was received for the construction of two colliers authorized by the last appropriation act within the limit of cost fixed, namely, $1,000,000, it will be necessary for congress to increase that limit also if these adjuncts to the fleet are to be built.

WOOD BRANDS WAR TALK LIE IN SPEECH

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—Major General Leonard A. Wood, chief of staff of the United States army, in an address last night at a banquet of the Burnside post, G. A. R., characterized the so-called war scare as "silly," declaring he neither saw any prospect of war nor had any fear of such a contingency.

"All this silly talk," said General Wood, "may be answered by one word of three letters, which I shall not offend you to repeat."

General Wood said that no additional troops had been asked for from congress, but that the suggestion had been made for a continuing committee of congress with the idea that recommendations occasionally presented to congress might have the indorsement of members of that body.

AUTHOR OF SEA TALES IS DEAD

Paul Eve Stevenson Ends Active Career; Was in Race for Emperor's Cup.

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—Paul Eve Stevenson, author and yachtsman, is dead at his apartments in the Hotel Belmont here of pneumonia, after an illness of only a few hours. He was 41 years old.

Born in New York City, Stevenson was a graduate of Columbia University and had devoted most of his time since graduation to yachting and the writing of sea tales. He was one of the participants in the ocean yacht race for the German emperor's cup in 1909, making the perilous voyage from Sandy Hook to The Lizard on board the yawl Alisa.

Among his sea stories were "A Deep Water Voyage," "By Way of Cape Horn," "The Race for the Emperor's Cup," "The Story the Ship Told," and "Aboard Ship in the Tropics." He was also an automobile enthusiast and a well-known New York clubman.

HUSBAND WANTS DIVORCE SET ASIDE

Lumberman Says That He Has Been Victim of Sharp Practice.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 21.—Claiming that he was double-crossed by his own wife and daughter, and purposely deceived into a reconciliation, which they never intended to keep, Samuel Hamilton, a lumberman, this morning petitioned that a divorce decree obtained by his wife, Jennie be set aside, alleging that she secured it by fraudulent methods.

Hamilton asserts that he was summoned to the office of his wife's attorney last August, whereupon his daughter served him with divorce papers. He was much taken back and accompanied the girl to his home, where, he declares, he brought about a reconciliation with his wife, Jennie Hamilton. He was unable to make sure of his ground, however, by reason of a business trip which compelled him to go to Vancouver.

On his return, after two weeks, he went to his home on Texas street and found nobody there. A little later his wife and daughter, Marjory, returned and informed him that he would have to get out, flashing before him a divorce decree and telling him that the court had given her the house as well as other property. He now declares that he has a good defense and wants the matter reopened.

During his absence in the north his wife had obtained the separation, the daughter swearing that she had served him with a summons in the case, as indeed she had.

CLEVER SWINDLERS FLEECE RENO BANK

RENO, Nev., Dec. 21.—One of the cleverest bank swindlers that ever operated on the Pacific coast has visited Reno and vanished considerably wealthier than when he came. His name is W. F. Gadd, alias Newell, alias Thorpe, alias Miller, alias Hugh Waldron. Accompanying him was a woman, who was first introduced as his mother, and afterward as his wife. Her name is Mrs. Waldron, alias Emma Goldstein. They arrived in Reno six weeks ago, and the man opened an account with the Washoe County Bank, making deposits in gold and currency and drawing only small checks, always keeping a balance.

Thursday he deposited a draft of $4270, drawn by the Miners' and Merchants' Bank of Ketchikan, Alaska, on the National City Bank, New York. Then Gould began to write larger checks. He posed as a mining engineer. Gadd purchased a diamond ring from the Sparks Jewelry Company, giving a check for $200. He outfitted at another store, and bought a handsome suitcase and other expensive articles, paying for them by check. Since Thursday he and the woman have not been seen. The bank wired the New York bank and received word that the draft was a fraud.

STRUGGLE ON VESSEL WITH INDIAN PIRATES

SEATTLE, Dec. 21.—Twenty armed Indians boarded the wreck of the steamship Olympic on Bligh island, Alaska, late Monday and attempted to loot the ship, attacking Captain J. T. Daniels and four of the crew who were on guard when the Indians were discovered making away with the last remaining lifeboat. Biting pounding and scratching, whites and reds rolled about the deck. Daniels finally settled the combat by wrestling a rifle from a native and laying about him like a demon. The natives were thrown bodily into the sea, where they were picked up by comrades in kyaks. Had the boat been stolen, Daniels and his companions would have been marooned on the wreck, which threatens to break up at any moment. The white men, a cablegram from Valdez says, were cut and bruised, but not seriously injured. Three boats and a quantity of stores were lost.

ACCUSES WAITRESS OF STEALING HIS PURSE

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 21.—May Scott, a waitress, was arrested by Policeman Kavanaugh and Special Officer McMahon at 1 o'clock this morning and charged at the city prison with grand larceny. She is accused by John Conges of 317 Third street with robbing him of a purse containing $40. The theft occurred in a house on Kearny street where Conges asserts the woman picked his pocket while he was in conversation with her.

BIDS AWARDED FOR HARBOR WORK

Mervy-Elwell Company to Extend Main Lake and Thirty-Sixth Street Sewer.

The Mervy-Elwell Company, a bridge building and construction company of this city, was awarded the contract as the lowest bidder on two important pieces of work in the development of the Key Route basin as a great municipal harbor, the bids aggregating close to $50,000.

A. J. Mervy appeared before the board of public works and explained that his firm was ready to start work immediately and the contract was ordered let.

The work includes the extension of the big main lake sewer and the Thirty-sixth street sewer beyond the Key Route rock wall, which is to follow the line of the present Key Route pier. The extension of these sewers is essential to the development of the harbor and is a most important piece of work. City Engineer Turner explained that the Mervy-Elwell Company has done considerable work for the city and has always given the fullest satisfaction and recommended the award of the contract.

COMPANY'S BIDS.

Bids from the Mervy-Elwell Company were as follows: Main lake sewer, $37,369; Thirty-sixth street sewer, $7,947.

Other bidders were Healy-Tibbets, Thompson Bridge Company, San Francisco Bridge Company, Hyde, Harjes & Co., W. M. Willett, and Cotton Bros.

At the meeting this morning the board received bids on five different propositions, and awarded contracts in several instances.

A very low bid was received for dredging in the Key Route basin to construct a clam shell levee behind the rock wall for which contract was let to Anson Blake last week. The Pacific Coast Dredging and Reclamation Company bid approximately $13,000, which is less than one-quarter of the highest bid. Four other bids were received. Work will be commenced as soon as the rock wall is ready to hold the levee.

BID ON CABLE.

But one bid was received for the temporary cable for the underground cable to connect up the police and fire telegraph and telephone system with the new building at Thirteenth and Oak streets, and on the recommendation of City Electrician George Babcock the contract was awarded to the Standard Underground Cable company at 37.7 cents per foot.

Bids received by the board for a heating system and for a mosaic floor in the fire and police telephone and telegraph building at Thirteenth and Oak streets were referred to the city architect and the city attorney to report Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The bids were as follows:

Steam heating plant for fire and police telegraph and telephone system: Henry F. Maddern, $40; John B. Sutton company, $660, D. Burloughs, $689, Robert Dalzell Jr., $687; J. E. O'Mara, $798. Oakland Concrete and Terrazza Mosaic company, $997.50. Rickon-Ehrhart Construction company, $1238.

PROFESSOR GETS $72,966 DAMAGES

Court Orders Ely Copper Company to Pay for Broken Contract.

WILMINGTON, Del., Dec. 21.—William Bullock Clark, professor in Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, was awarded $72,966 in the United States Circuit Court here against the Ely Central Copper company.

He sued for $100,000 damages for breach of contract. Two months ago he secured judgment and the proceedings today were to enable a jury to fix the damages.

Professor Clark entered into a contract to inspect the company's mining property in Nevada. He said he was to have received his emolument in stock. The contract was broken, however, and he did not make the trip.

GERMAN ALLIANCE IS STRONG FOR CURRLIN

Resolutions Unanimously Adopted, Again Indorsing Editor as Candidate For Commissioner

The German-American alliance, comprising 23 German societies in this county, intends to stand by its indorsement of Albert Currlin, proprietor and editor of the Oakland Journal, the leading German paper in Alameda county, as a candidate for commissioner under the new charter which has just gone into effect at the primary election which takes place on the third Tuesday of April next.

This fact was emphasized at a special meeting of the organization which was held last night for the purpose of setting forth the disapproval of the members of the organization of the views of Col Theo Gier in the premises.

The views in question were expressed in the columns of this paper. They were in substance that the alliance had not acted in an official manner in putting forward Mr. Currlin for commissioner. Furthermore, Mr. Currlin was not a seeker after office and, finally, City Treasurer Meese, who is a candidate for commissionership No. 1, would sufficiently represent the German voters at the coming election in this city.

NOT APPRECIATED.

Colonel Gier spoke with no feeling save that of friendship for Mr. Currlin and with no apparent purpose of undue advancing the interests of Mr. Meese in the coming election. It seems however, that the views of the colonel were not appreciated by the German-American Alliance for the reason that at the special meeting referred to resolutions were adopted replying to Colonel Gier and reiterating its support of Mr. Currlin for the position referred to.

RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED.

The resolutions, which were adopted unanimously, are as follows:

"Whereas, In an interview with Mr. Theo Gier, published in the OAKLAND TRIBUNE Friday, December 16, 1910, there are many misstatement in regard to the indorsement of Mr. Albert Currlin, publisher of the Oakland Journal, as a candidate for commissioner, we, the delegates to the German-American Alliance, most emphatically declare that we have indorsed Mr. Albert Currlin for this important position.

"This has not been done because Mr. Currlin is of German parentage, but because we are convinced that he is a capable man and well qualified to fill the position. Our alliance, while not a political organization in the usual interpretation of that term, would vote for any citizen who, in the opinion of the members, would be the right man in the right place, irrespective of nationality, party or religion.

"Mr. Gier's statement that the German American Alliance did not officially indorse Mr. Albert Currlin is not true, and we fail to see how Mr. Gier could make such a statement as he is not a delegate, never has been one and consequently was not present at the meeting.

"Mr. Gier is, furthermore, quoted as having said that he knows the sentiments of the German-American citizens of Oakland very well, but we consider that we, reresenting as we do nearly all the German societies of Alameda county with a membership of many thousands of German-American citizens, are far better qualified to judge their sentiments than any one person possibly could.

"That there may be no more misunderstanding, we again pledge our votes and our support to Mr. Albert Currlin for the position of commissioner and recommend him to all liberal minded citizens who wish to have a representative whose past record has proved him to be thoroughly honest and who is not afraid to stand up for his convictions.

"PAUL UTH,
"Secretary German-American Alliance of Alameda County."

WHAT CURRLIN SAID.

On the morning after the original action of the German-American Alliance, a representative of THE TRIBUNE asked Mr. Currlin as to whether or not he had decided to run for the office of commissioner, and he replied that he had not. He said that he had told the members of the alliance on the preceding night the same thing. The matter had been so suddenly brought to his attention that he had not had time to consider it, and that he would require, perhaps, until the middle of this week before determining what to do, as it was a matter on which he desired to consult with his friends.

This morning Mr. Currlin was spoken to by a representative of this paper on the same subject and again stated that he had not made up his mind as to whether or not he would make the run for the commissionership. He then told of the action of the alliance at its last special meeting, and declared that Secretary Uth had been instructed to furnish THE TRIBUNE with a copy of the resolutions adopted at that gathering, which appear in the foregoing.

ATTITUDE OF MEESE.

City Treasurer Meese, whose name has been mentioned in this discussion, was seen by a representative of THE TRIBUNE today and informed of the action of the German-American Alliance. He declared that he had not spoken to any of the members of the organization regarding their action, nor to Mr. Currlin. He said that, in the event of Mr. Currlin deciding to make the canvass, he did not think the latter would make an attempt to be elected to the commissionership to which he himself was aspiring.

ANOTHER CANDIDATE.

At the last meeting of the shoe workers' union, No. 324, the following resolutions, commending for the position of commissioner, Thomas F. Marshall, were unanimously adopted:

"Whereas, the popular sentiment throughout Greater Oakland has set in with strong and irresistible force, that no better or more suitable man can be found to fill the position of commissioner than our worthy brother, Thomas F. Marshall; and

"Whereas, knowing the sound labor union principals actuating his every thought and action, and adhered to, both in the spirit and the letter as laid down by us; and

"Whereas, it is a fact beyond any cavil or doubt, as the records of the press of every shade bear witness, that no other man has devoted so much thought, time and energy to win for Oakland an up-to-date and progressive form of civic government, as that now adopted by the people on December 8, 1910; be it therefore

"Resolved, that we call upon all brother unionists to cast their ballots on both election days in favor of brother Thomas F. Marshall for commissioner of this city of Oakland."

The resolutions were signed by Edward Young as president; Albert Noren, vice president, and A. F. Goodwin, secretary.

Mr. Marshall was chairman of the charter convention which did a great deal toward creating a sentiment for the new charter in this city, and suggested many of the ideas which have been incorporated into the new organic law.

MEETING OF AUDITORS.

Frank Garrison, county auditor-elect, is in Sacramento in attendance at the convention of county auditors from all parts of the state. The meeting has been called for the purpose of preparing drafts of bills to be presented at the next session of the legislature, tending to introduce a uniform system of accounting in the offices of auditors throughout the state. It is understood that when Mr. Garrison returns home he will announce the names of the deputies who will serve under him as county auditor for the next four years. The only announcement which, thus far, has been made in this respect, is that Edward H. Mayon who has been chief deputy in the office of City Treasurer Meese, is to be Auditor Garrison's deputy.

P. C. Frederickson, who is a candidate for commissioner in the newly annexed district, made his appearance at the city hall today and had a number of conferences with the attaches of the place.

BOARD OF EDUCATION.

W. H. Chapman, who resides on Forty-seventh avenue, in the annexed district, is a candidate for election as a member of the board of education under the new charter. He is well known in the eastern part of the city and has held several positions of honor and trust in that locality, among them being a member of the school board and of the sanitary board of Melrose.

As it apears at the present time, it is understood that City Treasurer Meese is to seek election as commissioner No. 1; Councilman Baccus will strive for commissioner No. 2; Councilman Stachler for commissioner No. 3, and Councilman Vose and P. C. Frederickson for commissioner No. 4.

FIREMEN HAVE CLOSE CALL.

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—Fire early today in the Mercantile building at Hudson and Vestry streets, occupied by Joseph Liebmann & Co., paper manufacturers, caused a loss estimated at $75,000.

Thirty firemen had a narrow escape when a back draught caught them shortly after the fire started, but all managed to get out safely though the blazing and smoke-filled rooms on the first floor.

Scores of families in nearby houses fled to the street, but the firemen were able to confine the flames to the business structure. It took them five hours to conquer the stubborn blaze.

After the narrow escape in the early stages of the fire Chief Croker would not permit his men to enter the building, and they fought the flames with street lines from water towers and the roofs of adjoining buildings.

WALTERS, Okla., Dec. 21.—Fire in the business district of this town today caused a loss of $100,000.

DIVA TO SING IN CITY'S STREET

Tetrazzini Will Give Talent Free to Amuse San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 21.—On Christmas Eve when all the East and indeed most all the world is storm-swept or snowbound, there will be an open-air concert in San Francisco, one of the most memorable and marvelous in the history of song. Tetrazzini, the great diva, will sing in the street, and the whole wide world will marvel.

There will be no admission fee, the Christmas melodies of the wonderful soprano will be as free as the air into which they will fall, and they will be inspired purely by the singer's love for San Francisco that she calls her own.

In no other city has such a concert been held, and in few others would such be dared. But sing she will, and in the streets of that city that appreciated her when she was unknown and now joins with the rest of the world in adoration.

AT LOTTA'S FOUNTAIN.

All San Francisco may hear the great diva for whose concert management Oscar Hammerstein and W. H. Leahy waged a battle in the United States courts in New York. She announced in New York she would sing in the street, and now she announces the time and place.

She will sing at Lotta's fountain on Christmas eve at 9 o'clock. She will sing from a platform erected for the occasion and will sing for those who were not fortunate enough to attend one of her formal concerts. The program is being prepared and will be announced today.

It is estimated that 100,000 persons will be able to congregate in the streets in the vicinity of Third and Market, where Lotta's fountain is situated. That number, it is estimated by Manager Leahy, will be within easy hearing distance of the great soprano, and he believes the open-air concert on Christmas eve will be a memorable event in the history of song in America.

HYNES DISSECTS MARTIN TESTIMONY

Argument for Prosecution Begun by Assistant Prosecuting Attorney.

Assistant District Attorney Hynes occupied the jury at the trial of Isabella J. Martin in Superior Judge Wells' court the greater part of today with the opening argument for the prosecution. The defense rested its case late yesterday afternoon and the assistant prosecutor immediately began a summing up of the evidence, containing the argument this forenoon and carrying it along most of the day. Mrs. Martin busied herself making copious notes of his remarks, now and then interposing protests, of which neither Judge Wells nor Hynes took any notice, because they were not well grounded.

The assistant district attorney's argument was in the nature of a careful and masterly dissection of the testimony presented, in which the flagrant contradictions and other discrepancies in Mrs. Martin's testimony were clearly set forth. He followed the story of the dynamiting of Judge Frank B. Ogden's residence, as told by the witnesses for the state, so closely that not the most unimportant incident in connection with it escaped the attention of the jury, and he laid stress upon the weak attempt of the defense to sidestep the crime by denouncing all of the prosecution's witnesses, the district attorney's office and even Judge Wells, as either liars or conniving to railroad her to the penitentiary.

DERELICT IS SEEN OF COAST OF WASHINGTON

Steamer Cole L. Drake Reports by Wireless Sighting an Abandoned Wreck

VICTORIA, B. C., Dec. 21.—The steamer Cole L. Drake reports by wireless that she passed an abandoned wreck at 10 o'clock last night off the coast of Washington. The wreck looked like that of a medium-sized fishing smack, but the Drake was unable to identify the derelict on account of darkness.

LAS PALMAS, Canaries, Dec. 21.—The Irma Woermann of the Woermann Steamship Line, which went out Monday to assist her sister ship, the Ingbert, which had been rendered helpless twelve miles off the coast, returned today with the disabled vessel in tow. Both steamers received the force of a terrific gale and some alarm for their safety had been felt.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Don't Pay Too Much For Shoes

Do you believe in paying the rent of many of the high class shoe houses along Broadway and Washington streets? Do you think because you tread on their carpets, gaze in expensive mirrors and sit on massive oaken benches that the merchandise you buy is better than that offered by others who perhaps do not offer these extra inducements to secure your trade?

This fact was never before so firmly established—the fact that retail stores doing business in upstairs quarters—in office buildings—were able to give you better merchandise for less money than it is now, and especially in the shoe line.

It stands to reason that the shoe merchant upstairs without the expensive show windows (which cost money for maintenance), without the costly fixtures (which cost more money), and without the high rent (which must be considered in the selling price of shoes) can and does sell a shoe for $2.50 that the downstairs shoe man with the above enumerated expenses must ask $4, $5 or even $6 for.

What's the use of paying this premium? None at all. There was a time when you had no recourse but now there's no excuse. Take the elevator to the parlors of the National Sample Shoe Shop, eighth floor, First National Bank building, and get a practical demonstration of just how it's done.

WIFE, MONEY AND CHILDREN VANISH

Husband Says That His Spouse Has Eloped With an Affinity.

An affinity, four children and $935 in cash is what H. Bluhm, general agent for the Manila Curtain company on this side of the bay, is alleged to have obtained when he eloped with Mrs. Annie Davidson, daughter of Solomon Block and wife of B. Davidson, a peddler living at 661 Madison street. When Davidson returned to his home last Thursday night after his day's work he found the house empty, and upon making search discovered that his family had flown. Later on in consultation with his father-in-law, it developed that the latter had missed $135 which he had secreted in a bureau drawer.

Wondering what had become of his spouse and children, Davidson commenced a search which lasted for several days, and yesterday when he went to the bank he was informed that $800 which he had on deposit there had been drawn by his wife. Further investigation brought to light the fact that Mrs. Davidson had eloped with one H. Bluhm, whereabouts unknown, and this morning an appeal was made to the police department that it endeavor to locate the missing family, particularly for the purpose of securing the money.

Bluhm is said to have laid violent siege to the heart of Mrs. Davidson since she became representative for the New York concern. In spite of the fact that they had sufficient money to enable them to put a goodly distance between themselves and the angered husband, it is not believed that they are far away and an early apprehension is expected.

$52 OFFERED FOR LIBRARY BUILDING

Low Bid Made for Purchase From City of Ancient Landmark.

The sum of $52 was the highest bid offered for the old 2-story building, at one time public library building, and for many years a landmark in Oakland, which now stands on Fourteenth street just west of the old city hall and which must be removed to make way for the new city hall. The building was occupied by the board of health and the engineering department of the city until these were removed last month to the city hall annex in Broadway near Nineteenth street.

The building was stripped of partitions and windows and doors and stands now merely a wooden frame shell. K. McTavish bid $52 for the old structure and was awarded the contract to demolish it. T. R. Fortin bid $30.

FAMILY OF MISSING MAN FEARS FOUL PLAY

Daniel Cooley, a mechanic, has been missing since last Saturday, and his friends have become worried about him, fearing that he may have met with foul play. The disappearance of Cooley was reported to the police by Mrs. C. B. Davis of 913 Kirkham street, at whose residence the man has been lodging for some time. Cooley is 42 years of age, 5 feet 9 inches in height, weighed 160 pounds. Had dark hair and blue eyes, and when last seen wore a black suit of clothes. He has occasionally been drunk for several days at a time in the past, and there is a probability that this may be an explanation of his absence.

PEOPLE ARE BUYING SUBSTANTIAL GIFTS

A HIGH GRADE PIANO OR AUTOPIANO MAKES THE IDEAL GIFT.

With Modern Methods This Is Now Brought Within Means of Every Family; Small Payments Each Month.

This is proving a season of sensible buying.

The evidence of this is nowhere more apparent than at the store of Eilers Music House. Judged by the throngs who have visited this store in the last ten days, it has had more the appearance of a department store than a piano house. All of which goes to show that people are buying substantial gifts this year instead of the knicknacks and baubles that are forgotten in a day.

But it also goes to show—and this is important—that the modern methods of merchandising are concentrating the piano business of San Francisco in this big Market street store.

All day yesterday found a veritable throng selecting and arranging for the delivery of Christmas Pianos and Autopianos.

HIGH QUALITY—MODERATE COST.

People who for years have been accustomed to pay extortionate prices for only medium grade pianos have been free to confess their surprise at now being able to buy really high grade instruments at moderate prices. Even those who have held credits and checks and bonds on other houses have invariably found it to their advantage to buy here, where moderate prices and high quality are combined.

No person who contemplates the buying of a Piano and to whom the saving of money is an object can afford not to investigate what the Eilers Music House has to offer.

No grade of Pianos, from the very highest that care, workmanship and experience can produce to the cheapest Piano that is reliable, but that is found here. Such world famed names as the Chickering, the Sohmer, the Decker, the Hazelton, the Kimball, the Lester, the famous Autopiano and the Steinway Mignon are in themselves the best evidence of the quality to be had here.

AND THE LITTLE "BABIES."

This store is equipped with the most complete stock of Grand Pianos on the coast. From the various styles of uprights in Colonial, Chippendale, Mission and Art designs to the tiny little "baby" that takes up little more room on your floor than an ordinary upright piano, and the most highly approved of Player Pianos, the most exacting tastes can here be thoroughly satisfied. Ours is the only store in San Francisco selling the genuine Auto-piano. While numerous stores claim to sell this popular instrument, it is well to remember that none is genuine that does not have the word "Auto-piano" cast in the plate.

No Christmas gift could be more delightful. We take your old piano in exchange, allowing you all it is worth, insuring you high quality and low price. The terms of payment are made so reasonable that any family of moderate means will now have no excuse to be without music.

Eilers stores are open evenings till Christmas for the convenience of those busy during the day. Eilers Music House, 975 Market street, San Francisco, 567 12th street, opposite Orpheum, Oakland. Forty stores in principal western cities.

ACCUSED CHINESE BROUGHT TO TRIAL

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 20.—Detective Sergeant Conlan arrived here this afternoon on the steamer Sierra from Honolulu, having in custody Jew Yew Mon, secretary of the Oriental club. Jew is accused of embezzling $6770 of the funds of the organization. Conlan also brought back Yun Chew Chong, alias Ho On Ong, a Chinese woman, wanted here for grand larceny for the alleged theft of money and jewelry to the amount of $280.

C. E. Kinard was arraigned by Superior Judge John Ellsworth yesterday on the charge of embezzling $257.51 belonging to Mrs. Louisa Lamperell, in December, 1907, while acting as her business agent.

The defendant interposed a motion for dismissal and the court allowed until Saturday morning to argue the motion and plead.

Kinard said he would appear as his own attorney.

WANT DRIVES HER TO TRY SUICIDE

Edna Loftus Rheinstrom Lies Seriously Ill at Roadhouse as Result of Attempt.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 21.—Since her attempt last week to drown herself in an effort to end her tragic career, Edna Loftus, who, as a chorus girl in New York and London charmed thousands, and whose marriage to Harry A. Rheinstrom, son of the late millionaire brewer of Cincinnati, furnished some sensational gossip some months ago, has been lying seriously ill at Cairn's roadhouse.

While her husband has been confined in an asylum at Stockton, Edna has been finding it difficult to maintain herself, and her attempt at suicide followed three weeks of unsuccessful effort to make both ends meet.

STRUGGLE TOO GREAT.

Disheartened and discouraged by the constant struggles and buffeting with which she has been contending, and brooding over her husband's absence and the fact that the guardianship of Rheinstrom was taken from her by the courts when he was sent to the Stockton asylum, she went to Golden Gate park and threw herself in the cold, shallow water of Spreckels lake. The water was not as deep as she supposed and as she plunged in, she screamed for help, all idea of suicide gone.

Her screams attracted a man in a passing automobile. He stopped his car and hurrying to the lake, dragged the unhappy but repentant Edna to shore. The man, who did not make known his identity took her to Cairn's at Thirty-sixth avenue and Fulton street, where she has since been living.

WEDS JOCKEY.

Edna Loftus was married to Jockey Winnie O'Connor before the couple first met. She divorced him and eloped with Rheinstrom to Covington, Ky., where they were married. They came west to Los Angeles, and then to San Francisco. Rheinstrom engaged in business in Oakland, but neglected it sadly, and was forced to live on his allowance, which his wife found much too small. Finally they were forced to move from their Oakland home by importunate collectors. Rheinstrom then displayed symptoms of insanity, and was committed to Stockton. As his allowance will end on January 1, his wife will be forced to earn her own living entirely.

MUSICAL FESTIVAL.

Under the auspices of the Salvation Army, a special song and musical festival will be conducted this evening at the Citadel, 523 Ninth street, to which the public has been extended an invitation. The Fruitvale Corps will have charge of the affair and an elaborate program has been arranged.

CONGRESS HEARS COAST CITY'S CLAIMS TO FAIR

Representative Kahn Moves to Withdraw Bill Asking for Appropriation and Puts Forward Arguments

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—Congressman Kahn's move yesterday to withdraw the bill introduced by him a year ago providing for a congressional appropriation of $5,000,000 to the Panama-Pacific International Exposition fund, furnished him a splendid opportunity to present San Francisco's special claims for recognition as the exposition city of 1915. When he arose to ask unanimous consent of the House to withdraw the bill, he expected an objection from the Louisianans, and it came as soon as the request was made from Representative Wickliffe of that State in accordance with the plans formed by Congressman Rodenberg, chairman of the Committee on Arts and Expositions, which has charge of the bill; and ex-Congressman Watson, who is managing the fight of New Orleans, under the presumption that San Francisco's exposition representatives would be embarrassed. Wickliffe's objection turned out, however, to be a boomerang; for Kahn at once obtained the floor and made a rattling good speech, explaining that San Francisco wanted to withdraw the application for federal aid, because since the bill had been introduced it had raised enough money to carry out its exposition plans on a more magnificent scale than those of any previous world's fair ever held.

DESCRIBES SUM.

Kahn described in detail the sum raised by Californians and said there was no use in further considering the old bill.

Representatives Mann of Illinois, Cox of Indiana and Langley of Kentucky injected remarks, which enabled Kahn to make still plainer the point that San Francisco was not asking for a government appropriation. He did his work so skillfully that every man in Congress now is aware of San Francisco's advantage over New Orleans by not asking government aid.

Wickliffe's objection prevented Kahn from withdrawing his bill, but that was not his object at all, since it makes no difference to San Francisco whether or not the bill is withdrawn.

Of course, the mere announcement that San Francisc does not want an appropriation is equivalent to a withdrawal of the bill. The committee will not consider the bill and recommend an appropriation that is not asked for.

The Louisiana member "tumbled" to the situation after the incident was over, but it was too late. Kahn had placed in the record an argument that will plague New Orleans from this time forth.

SCOTT FEELS SURE.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 21.—Yesterday Henry T. Scott, one of the directors of the Panama-Pacific Exposition and a member of the delegation sent to Washington to boost San Francisco's claims, returned from the national capital, bearing with him the triumphant message: "We consider the exposition fight is won." He continued: "It has been a hard struggle, and every man has had to do his best. But because the committeemen did work their best with enthusiasm and indefatigable energy, I believe the exposition will be given by San Francisco.

"I do not place any significance on the fact that Congressman Kahn's effort to withdraw the first bill California introduced, the measure entered last session, that carries with it a federal appropriation, was not successful. That concerns only parliamentary procedure, and nothing else.

"The significant fact in the fight is that the rules committee has granted us a hearing January 17. This would never have been granted had not the committee felt certain that the committee on appropriations favors us, and that a majority of the House does also.

NOT PARTY MEASURE.

"The exposition fight, let me tell you, is not a party measure in any respect. Republicans and Democrats alike are with us, and with all their hearts.

"San Francisco stands in the winner's shoes because she will finance her own exposition, and because of our climate, our great bay, and the honor the country pays us for our recovery from the fire of 1906. There is but one feeling in both houses this session. That is that no money will be voted any city for an exposition. New Orleans could not stand against that sentiment. The $17,500,000 loomed large beside New Orleans' bid. And the fact that we were able to build our own exposition and stood ready to do so without government aid, won us the battle."

Six Thousand "Good Books" to Be Placed in Chicago Bedrooms.

CHICAGO, Dec. 21.—Six thousand bibles are to be placed in the hotel bedrooms of Chicago.

They will not be chained down. If a guest steals a bible to read it the book will be replaced and the loss charged to the credit account, because the purpose of the project is to encourage bible reading.

The bibles are to be delivered to the hotel bedrooms at 3 p. m. on the last day of the year. The delivery will be made by 1000 young men from the churches and other religious organizations.

The bible carriers will be formed into a procession at Central Y. M. C. A. and march to a central part in the loop district, where they will break ranks and go to the various hotels.

PLAN TO TRANSPORT IMMIGRANTS FREE

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 21.—For the purpose of chartering a steamer to carry European immigrants free of charge from Salina Cruz, Mexico, to Honolulu, V. S. Clarke, Hawaiian commissioner of immigration, arrived here on the liner Sierra. Clarke said that the question of reduced fares for European homeseekers had been taken up with the Tehuantepec railroad, and with free transportation from Salina Cruz, the western terminus of that line, the class of settlers wanted in the islands can be brought from Liverpool or Hamburg for about $24 each.

PROSECUTION OF FISH TRUST AT AN END

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 21.—The prosecution of the so-called fish trust came to an end yesterday when Judge Cabaniss dismissed the charge of conspiracy in restraint of trade against the Western Fish company and Frank Brune, a minor member of the combine.

The company escaped under the ruling that testimony given before the legislative committee which investigated the combine could not be used against the accused, and the case of Brune was dismissed as too petty to warrant the expense of a trial.

JUSTUS L. BRODERICK RELEASED

LEAVENWORTH, Kan., Dec. 21.—Justus L. Broderick, formerly a banker of Indianapolis, can eat his Christmas dinner at home, having been released from the federal prison here after serving a sentence of ten years for violation of the national banking laws.

Medicines that aid nature are always most effectual. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy acts on this plan. It allays the cough, relieves the lungs, opens the secretions and aids nature in restoring the system to a healthy condition. Thousands have testified to its superior excellence. Sold by all Dealers.

OAKLAND TRIBUNE, Oakland's greatest evening newspaper, assures its advertisers that the circulation of this paper reaches every day over 200,000 readers.

To the "Good Fellows" of Oakland

Last Christmas and New Year's eve you and I went out for a good time and spent from $10.00 to $200.00. Last Christmas morning over 3000 children awoke in our city to an empty stocking—the bitter pain or disappointment that Santa Claus had forgotten them. Perhaps it wasn't our fault. We had provided for our own. We had doubtless reflected in a passing way on those less fortunate than our own, but they were far off and we did not know how or where to find them. Perhaps in the numerous things we had to do some of us didn't think of the heart sorrow of the child over the empty stocking.

Now, old man, here's a chance. I have tried it for the past two years and ask you to consider it. Just send your name and address to THE TRIBUNE, stating how many children you are willing to protect against grief and sorrow over that empty stocking, inclose a 2-cent stamp and you will be furnished with the names and addresses, sex and age of that number of children. It is then up to you, you do the rest. Select your own present, spend 10 cents or $10, and send or take your gifts to those children on Christmas eve. You do not have to pay a cent more than you want to—every cent is expended as you wish to expend it—every present goes just where you want it to go. You gain neither notoriety or advertising, you deal with no organization; no record will be kept; your letter will be returned to you with its answer. The whole plan is just as anonymous as old Santa Claus himself.

This is not a newspaper scheme. THE TRIBUNE was asked to aid in reaching the Good Fellows of this city by publishing this suggestion and to receive your communication in order that you may be assured of good faith and to preserve the anonymous character of this work. The identity of the writer of this appeal will not be disclosed. He only assumes the responsibility of finding the children and through THE TRIBUNE sending you their names and guarantees that whatever you bestow will be deserved.

The only satisfaction that you or I get out of this is the feeling that we have saved some child from sorrow on Christmas morning. If this is not enough for you, then you have wasted your time in reading this—it is not intended for you, but for the Good Fellows of Oakland.

Perhaps a 25-cent doll or a 10-cent tin whistle wouldn't mean much to the children you know, but to the child who would find them in the otherwise empty stocking they mean much—the difference between utter disappointment and the joy that Santa Claus did not forget them.

Here, old man, and Good Fellow, is a chance for you and me to get in. The charitable institutions attend to the bread and meat and other necessaries, but lets you and the rest of the Good Fellows of Oakland furnish the real Christmas toy. Address Christmas Editor, TRIBUNE.

A GOOD FELLOW.

Queer Quibbling Over Morality.

If the vote for Senator cast at the primary election has any binding force it is binding in accordance with the terms of the act of the Legislature under which it was taken. That act provided that the advisory vote should be taken by legislative districts, the intent being that each legislator should be bound by the wishes of his constituents.

It cannot be asserted that the law is binding in some particulars and of no force and effect in others. The vote was not cast to elect a United States Senator, but to give the members of each political party an opportunity to advise their legislative nominees as to whom they desired for Senator.

If a Democrat had received a larger vote in the primary election than was cast for any one of the Republican candidates nobody would contend that a Republican Legislature should elect him. Such a contention would be absurd. Yet it would be as well founded in law and morals as the contention that John D. Works is entitled under the provisions of the primary law to a seat in the Senate. By the terms of the law he was defeated and A. G. Spalding elected.

Were the situation reversed the supporters of Works would denounce as a traitor to the law anyone who suggested that the nomination of Works be set aside. They would demand that the law be obeyed, and that the advice given at the polls in each legislative district be followed.

If the law is not binding according to its terms it is without binding force at all. It is only morally binding at best, but those who say it is not morally binding are asserting that the Legislature is morally bound to elect Works. So those who deny the moral law on one hand set it up on the other. They repudiate it when it does not suit their purpose and offer it as an excuse for breaking faith to promote their ends.

In seventy-four of the 120 legislative districts of the State the Republican voters advised their nominees for the Legislature to vote for Mr. Spalding for United States Senator. In these districts enough Republican were elected to constitute a majority of the entire body of the Legislature. The two candidates opposed to Mr. Spalding carried between them forty-six districts. But because one of them received in the aggregate a few hundred more votes than Mr. Spalding it is claimed that the instructions given in accordance with law should be set aside. By arbitrary assumption a moral title is set up for Works; a part of the primary law is held to be binding and another part is dismissed as unworthy of consideration.

Every Republican elected in a district carried by Spalding must either vote for him or violate the instructions given by his constituents. If all the Republicans elected obey the instructions given by their constituents Spalding will be elected. He can only be defeated by violating instructions given at the primary election.

Yet we are told that they are morally bound to violate their instructions; that they must break faith with their constituents to elect a man who received a little more than a fourth of the Republican votes cast at the general election.

We second the demand of the Pullman car porters for an increase of wages. The passengers should not be required to pay all the wages of Pullman car employes; the company should pay something. At present the porters must depend almost exclusively on tips from passengers. The Pullman company is making exorbitant profits, and it should be made to pay its employes a living wage. They would starve on what the company pays them and are therefore forced to prey upon passengers.

Modern ingenuity has been unable to break the unities of at least one sanctified tradition. Santa Claus does not make his rounds in an automobile or an aeroplane; the sleigh and reindeer are good enough for him, even in this land of golden sunshine where there is no snow and a fur coat is a nuisance. Who would have it otherwise? All the romance of Christmas would disappear if Santa Claus should come honking around in an automobile smelling of gasoline and making the small people jump for their lives. There would be no joy in hanging up stockings if they were to be filled by a fat saint who flew about in an airship propelled by a gas engine. Put Santa Claus in modern clothes and a modern vehicle and the glory of the Christmas festival would depart. He would not be Santa Claus without his sled and reindeer, his fur coat glistening with snow flakes, his white beard hoar-frosted in the far north, and the mitts made for him by the light of the aurora borealis.

All signs are at fault if the merchants of Oakland have not none a prosperous holiday business. The streets have been continually thronged, the stores crowded with shoppers, and a general activity indicating heavy buying. The weather has been ideal for the Christmas season and the holiday shopping began early enough to enable the trade to be handled with ease. When accounts are balanced after the holidays are over we are confident that they will make an exceptionally good showing. We doubt if the city ever had a more prosperous trading season than the present one.

The Good Fellow Movement.

"A Good Fellow" has withdrawn the appeal he has urged through THE TRIBUNE in behalf of poor and friendless children. His effort was to bring the joys of Christmas to the homes of poverty, to make Santa Claus a vivid personality to the children of the poor, and to make the festivities of the season something more than a mockery to those who have felt the heavy hand of misfortune.

It gives us infinite pleasure to say that "A Good Fellow" has succeeded. He has aroused generous sentiments and shown the way to make poor children happy—for a day at least. His efforts will bring joy and thankfulness to the hearts of hundreds on Christmas day. Santa Claus will make a round of visits to places that would have been left off his itinerary but for the kindly offices of "A Good Fellow"—which is a good name if intended as a description of the right sort.

As a result of the campaign inaugurated by "A Good Fellow" in THE TRIBUNE nearly 600 poor children will be provided with a Christian Christmas, will be given full stockings, full stomachs, and—let us hope—full hearts. There will be toys and sweets for little ones who had no hope of getting them until a kind friend pointed the way and enlisted helping hands. Santa Claus will be sent with his sled and his pack to many a forlorn home to gladden hearts which would otherwise feel the Christmas season as a period of unusual hardship and privation.

This generous enterprise has cost little. Nothing was spent in its administration. Those in need were simply sought out, their whereabouts made known to persons who desired to give, and donors did the rest. For the most part the charitable organizations of the city furnished names and addresses of the needy and distressed, with such other particulars as would guide sympathy and benevolence. Nobody's poverty was published to the world and nobody's good deeds were advertised. The good work has been done quietly and effectively, and in the spirit of true helpfulness—without humiliation to the poor and without parading the good works of those who assisted in making Christmas a real festival to those without the means with which to make merry.

To each and every one who participated in this generous enterprise THE TRIBUNE extends its hearty thanks. Many times we wish them a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year—may their hearts never grow cold or their enthusiasm diminish. May their years be long in the land and may each Christmas find them doing good fellows' work in helping the poor and gladdening the hearts of childhood.

WOMEN AND MOTOR CARS

Woman plays an important part in the manufacture of automobiles. At no time in the history of the motor car industry have manufacturers given more attention to the comforts of women tourists than at the present. It is the same in this industry as in any other—satisfy the woman and their success of the concern is practically assured.

Women have always been important factors in the automobile world, and there is not a reputable salesman who will not admit that fully 75 per cent of sales are influenced by the wife, sister or mother.

True it may be, the women do not pay so much attention to the mechanical details as do the men, but even the former are rapidly learning the good and bad points of various classes.

They recognize the little niceties of automobile design just as readily as they would discover merit in the design of a dwelling. If the slightest cause of inconvenience exists the women are quick to raise their protest. Their opinions, their approval and their disapproval have been the deciding element in all matters affecting the design or the appointments of the luxurious inclosed and semi-closed bodies. It is doubtful if there is one maker whose product does not reflect the influence of women.

The sway of women goes even further than matters of interior equipment. Her potency is reflected in the material used in upholstering in the curtains and in the carpeting. Her ideas of luxury pervade every phase of coach work, from the design of a convenient entrance to the maximum of comfort when one is riding. No matter whether women are shopping, calling, attending theater or opera, or merely riding in park or boulevards, her comfort depends on the extent to which the manufacturer has anticipated her needs and her fancies.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

Christianity on Trial

By REV. THOMAS A. BOYER, Pastor First Christian Church.

Rev. Thomas A. Boyer.

Among the interrogations of our time is one that relates to Christianity. Will it survive? After all, has it within it a sufficiency of moral and spiritual protoplasm to stand the test?

The inquiry is not really a new one, it is rather the readaptation of an old-time religious jaggardism—one that has dogged the footsteps of humanity since the lights of the long-lost garden of Eden sputtered and went out. Moreover, it is a question which when subjected to the analysis of the laboratory, appears to relate more to churchianity—the present-day manifestation of Christianity—than to Christianity itself. No one—at least there are few who are so intellectually and morally obliquo as to entertain a question as to whether the teachings of Jesus Christ would incalculably benefit society in their application or not. There are innumerable hosts, however, who have long since given place to the spirit of doubt and distrust, when it comes to the present-day manifestation of Christianity. In that sense the religion of the cross has always been on trial—and justly so, and always will be, and yet the strain to which it is being subjected in our day is, perhaps, more penetrative and severe than ever before.

These questions are not questions to be answered by logic and argument so much as they are the questions that must be answered by the churches themselves, as they put into practical operation the great underlying principles of the Sermon on the Mount, and exemplify its beneficial effects in the unity, the peace, purity and progress of society that they seek to serve.

No one with even a smattering of religious history can doubt for a moment the culpability of the church in its efforts to carry out the purpose and program of the living Christ. The warfare it has waged has been entirely too much a warfare of words. It has attempted to feed the hungry entirely too much on doctrinal theories, and philosophical abstractions, and in its perspective, creeds have bulked out of all proportion to conduct. When Dr. Drummond was in this country in 1893 he told this story of a coast guard station on the Italian coast: A captain of a squad of coast guardsmen sent a report to his government as follows: "A large ship was seen in danger of being wrecked off this station late last night. We endeavored to give every assistance possible by means of the speaking trumpet, notwithstanding which forty corpses were washed ashore this morning." On this report, Dr. Drummond remarked. "Now in the past we have been far too busy with the speaking trumpet, and the other life-saving apparatus has not been used as it ought to be." With shame, it must be confessed that as life-saving institutions, the churches have overworked the speaking trumpet, and have left unused to a very large extent other vitalizing agencies at their command. A new beginning, however, is upon us. It is being remembered that men have bodies as well as souls, and that these two are one. We are beginning to see that we cannot ignore or discredit man's physical and intellectual needs if we would minister to his spiritual necessities. Neither in the dawn of the same new day, can we neglect man's spiritual necessities and by feeding and clothing his body conclude that we have cared for the whole man. In short, we come to the time of wholeness—the whole gospel for the whole man and for the whole of men; for the application of real Christianity. Let us heed this call, and Christianity will prove itself supremely adequate to cope with the problem of human evil, and will win the day.

Timely and Interesting Topics

A young woman who was a passenger on board the Lloyd steamer Prinz Ludwig with the German Crown Prince and Princess on the way to Ceylon writes that the royal couple seemed to enjoy every moment of the trip. "They were so democratic that no one would have suspected their rank and consequently they were the most popular people on board," says this observer. "They dined with the other passengers and joined freely and without reserve in the deck games, posed for snap shot pictures and were, in short, just passengers. The crown Prince went below to the crew sometimes, and the stokers speak of him as a 'good fellow.'"

"The Kennebec Journal" has a tale of the Maine woods that is not unlike the familiar "mistook him for a deer" yarns that generally tell of the death of a hunter. It says that a Hartland man starting out after a deer one day recently put a blanket on his horse before he put on the harness so that the animal would be warm. Arriving at a likely place he tied the horse beside a wood road and went into the woods. He had not traveled far when he struck an old road. Following this for about a mile he saw in the distance what he took to be a moose standing in the road. Taking careful aim he fired and was much pleased to see the animal fall. He rushed up and found he had killed his own horse.

J. J. Repin's portrait of Tolstoy, showing the venerable philosopher in bare feet and wearing a long white blouse, has been reproduced in cheap form and thousands of copies have been sold to admirers in Europe and in this country. A New Yorker who received one from Germany returned it to the sender with this endorsement: "Years ago a brilliant American humorist and sage wrote that men show by the way they wear their shirts on which rung of the ladder of civilization they stand. Those who wear it 'flopping over their trousers are away down.' That's where Tolstoy wore his, and by that standard the finest spoken of portrait of the novelist shows that at the time of his death he had still some climbing to do."

"One of the entertainments arranged for the Czar of Russia while he and his family were visiting Germany," says a Berlin correspondent of a Paris paper, "was a hunting party on the imperial preserve, near Borgsdorf. Nearly three hundred animals were slaughtered 'for the fun of it,' and the natives who had an opportunity to see the two monarchs drive away from the little station got a glimpse later also of the trophies of the hunt. To some persons who were there the Empresses, with their feather tipped hunting hats, were less attractive than Prince Oscar, who rode on the back seat alone, and he was conspicuous because of the monster rosette on the back of his hat and the gigantic cigar between his lips."—N. ## MILLIONS FOR PEACE

Mr. Carnegie's monumental gift for the promotion of peace will provoke more admiration and gratitude than surprise. The magnitude of his public benefactions long ago exhausted the world's sense of wonder at anything of the sort which he might do. Moreover, the persistent and passionate devotion to Hellenic propaganda which he has displayed in recent years gave a strong color of likelihood to the rumors which arose some days ago concerning precisely the thing which has now occurred. Nevertheless, "age cannot wither nor custom stale" the magnitude and variety of the uses to which Mr. Carnegie puts the vast fortune which his industry, enterprise and shrewdness amassed, and each new gift of millions reinspires the sentiments of appreciation which the first aroused.

There is probably no man in the world who is in spirit and has ever been in action more intensely practical than Mr. Carnegie, and that fact is on the face of it an answer to those skeptics who might challenge the concrete utility of such an appropriation.

It is a felicitous coincidence that the announcement of this gift is practically simultaneous with the beginning of a convention at Washington which we have described as of peculiarly good promise for the prevention of war by the removal of its provoking causes through the administration of international justice. The latter is an inspiring indication of the practical bent of the thoughts of those who are striving for peace. It was well for a great soldier to utter the exhortation, "Let us have peace." But it must not be forgotten that he did so only after he himself had waged a stupendous war for the destruction of the things which made against peace. It was not unconditional surrender peace, but peace after the causes of war had been removed and peace on a fitting foundation, which he backed. The peace which is to be practically sought through the agency of the society which is now meeting at the capital, as also through that of Mr. Carnegie's superb endowment, must be a peace and not necessarily with that indefinite "honor" which may mean anything or nothing, but with that justice which is the indispensable element of all honor which is worth having.—New York Tribune

COURTS VS. THE STAGE

A Philadelphia attorney has created a passing ripple of excitement by declaring that the dramatists, in endeavoring to portray court scenes on the stage, never evince any accurate knowledge of the subject.

The criticism is a just one, no doubt, and will be accepted without demur—without an appeal, or a reversal, or a dissenting opinion.

The fact seems to be that the theater and the courts are as far apart as the poles. Their methods, and perhaps their intentions, are wholly different.

On the stage man is tried every day, but his case must stand on its merits. We acquit Hamlet — though Shakespeare can scarcely be said to have done so, and as the courts scarcely could have done. We are lenient with Othello, though plainly the courts would have had to "send him over the road." We condemn the cruel daughters of Lear, though the "regular" jury would have let them off, because they were women.

So, coming down to the modern drama, we turn our thumbs down—or is it up?—when the brutal trust magnate tries to prevent the righteous mayor or governor from performing the duty which is imperative. We would consign this large, masterful person to the deepest dungeons. But the courts do not. We find that he is indicted occasionally, and once in a while he is even convicted; and then we hear tedious stories of higher courts, until we forget all about the matter—which is perhaps not wholly unintended.

On the stage the most damaging testimony is blurted out to the applause of the gallery. In the courts it seems a practice to repress such utterances as tend to throw a light on the case in hand.

No, indeed; court scenes are not at all lifelike on the stage. The only theatrical performance which seemed to us at all like a legal proceeding was "Parsifal," which we attended in the afternoon, expecting to learn what it was all about, only to be told to come back after supper, if we cared for the final summing up. And we are not sure we ever got a clear idea of what was going on.—St. Louis Times.

20 YEARS AGO IN OAKLAND

A petition was filed this afternoon for a franchise for a street car line to be operated by horses, mules, cable or electricity. The route is as follows: On Park street to Twenty-third avenue thence to the northeasterly boundary line of the city. The application is made by H. G. Blasdel.

Mr. White, who has been teaching school at Chicago, has been elected principal of the San Leandro school.

Miss Dora Helms of San Leandro has been elected to a position in the Vista school near Livermore.

The county board of education has granted Samson C. Phipps of Irvington a college a high school certificate and recommended for diplomas Miss Sarah Morrow of Lorin, Miss Fannie Henderson of the State university and Alfred W. Sanford.

There was a burglary at the corner of Adeline and Thirtieth streets last night. The burglars looted the house and the goods they were not able to carry away they threw into an adjoining vacant lot.

The Harmonic Society on Thursday night gave a most delightful concert. It was one of six concerts which are to be given by the organization this season. It was directed by D. F. Hughes. The soloists were Mrs. Blake Alverson, Sigmund Beel, Miss Beatrice Priest and W. T. Hamilton. Miss Minnie Weeks was the organist and Miss Flora C. Kendall and Clark W. Reynolds were the accompanists.

If no rain falls tomorrow there will be a grand concert in Blair Park by the band of the Fifth infantry regiment.

The third children's afternoon by the ladies of the Unitarian church will be given in Cavalry hall on New Year's day from 1:30 to 5 o'clock p. m.

A man was held up and robbed last Thursdy night at the corner of Fifteenth and Webster streets but the police will say nothing about the crime.

The Judson Manufacturing Company has declared a dividend of 20 cents per share, payable January 1.

On Monday and Tuesday evenings of next week James Powers and his company of fun-makers will appear in the Oakland theater in that greatly talked about farcical success, "A Straight Tip."

There was a strike of stevedores on the water front this morning but, before it assumed any very serious aspect, the trouble was satisfactorily settled. A shipload of lumber, assigned to the Oakland Contracting Company, arrived and Manager Cochran made arrangements to have it discharged by his own men. The stevedores, however, when they discovered the new force of men on the dock, objected to any such procedure. At first, no notice was taken of their appeal and the work of unloading by "foreign" men proceeded. The stevedores struck but the difficulty was settled by Manager Cochran withdrawing his men and turning the job over to the union men who make a specialty of that kind of business.

Miss Maud Stanley of the Durant school in this city is spending the holidays with her parents in Mission San Jose.

Mr. and Mrs. Mosher of Niles visited and inspected the school at Mission Thursday.

Miss Sarah Grant and Miss Snyder of Mountain View spent a part of the week with the Misses Galindo at Irvington.

Centerville's new parlor of Native Sons of the Golden West perfected organization last Thursday night and elected the following officers: Past president, M. D. Nichols; president, F. T. Hawes, first vice-president, C. M. C. Peters, second vice-president, Frank Clark; third vice-president, D. C. Cameron; recording secretary, E. J. Crosby; financial secretary, F. T. Dusterbury; treasurer, A. Leinhart; marshal, F. A. Moses; outside sentinel, A. Eichler; inside sentinel, M. Culligan; trustees, J. Tyson, C. H. Hatch and W. S. Roble.

At the reunion of the former pupils of th Oakland High school, a chorus of the earlier classes under the direction of Dr. H. J. Todd, sings many of the old school songs with pleasing effect.

YOUNGSTOWN, Mo., Dec. 21. — As a special inducement to sweethearts, Justice J. A. Tinsman of this city has reduced his fee for performing a marriage ceremony to $1.98. He has caused to be inserted into newspapers in this section of the state an advertisement which says in part:

"Weddings reduced to $1.98. During the holidays and until further notice, Justice J. A. Tinsman will perform marriage ceremonies for $1.98, cash in hand."

TURKISH ADMIRAL COMES ON VISIT

Former American Cabin Boy Now Rules Navy of the Sultan.

NEW YORK, Dec. 21. — A short, squarely-built man, who twenty-seven years ago was a cabin boy on a Great Lakes schooner, has just returned to America for a vacation. He is registered at a New York hotel as "R. D. Bucknam, Constantinople," but in his "home town" he is known as Bucknam Pasha, Vice-Admiral of the Ottoman Navy and Chief Naval Advisor to the Sultan.

Bucknam began his strange career on the Great Lakes at the age of fourteen. A few years later he became commander of the first of the lake whaleback steamers, the Joseph L. Colby. As a salt water seaman, he led the life of a world-wide adventurer, finding employment in every corner of the globe. When the battleship Maine made her trial runs, he was in command of her, and when the Cramps finished the cruiser Medjidia, he was assigned to deliver her to Turkey.

The Turkish navy had been a joke when Abdul Hamid took a fancy to the American sailor and asked him to take a job as naval adviser.

During the next four years, while the new admiral was putting the Turkish navy in shipshape, he got very close to the Sultan and once saved the ruler from assassination. He is the only Christian who ever had actual command of a Turkish naval force.

Orpheum Program Offers Diversion for Shoppers Anxious for Amusement

FORMER GIANT STAR AND CLEVER WIFE LEAD BILL

Hite and Donlin Make Merry With Original Skit; Program Notable One.

In the rush of the holiday season thousands of theater-goers are finding it well worth while to drop into the Oakland Orpheum, the big vaudeville temple, and find distraction from the worries of Christmas shopping in the vaudeville program that is being staged at the Orpheum this week. The bill is an unusually pleasing affair.

Mabel Hite and Mike Donlin have one of the cheeriest and also cleverest skits that the critical ones have seen for many a long day. Miss Hite is a host in herself, a star for several seasons in musical comedy. Mike Donlin, her husband, is the famous ball player of the New York Giants, who has developed into a pretty smart actor himself. The pair are a tower of strength to the vaudeville program. Miss Hite's imitations are decidedly original. Her songs have life and snap to them and the team scores an all-round hit of very pleasing proportions.

COOK AND LORING.

Two of the funniest tramp comedians who ever tramped across a stage in shabby-genteel silk hats and evening clothes are Cook and Lorenz. They call themselves the "Two Millionaires." Their act is a farrago of nonsense and foolish stuff that makes for laughter and hits of burlesque that are screamingly funny. Cook and Lorenz suggest the old-fashioned variety comedians, but they are clever enough to be regarded as quite up to the minute. The crowds like them and that is sufficient.

From Berlin there has come Richard Nadrage, a ventriloquist, who is both clever and funny. He is the first German ventriloquist to appear in these parts and his German accent alone has imparted to his dummy figures his cause for laughter.

SCHEDA'S ACT UNIQUE.

A great violinist, Scheda, from Poland, has a prominent place on the bill. He steps out in the guise of Paganini's spirit, and in this character plays in splendid style on the violin.

William Farnum is pleasing those who love the artistic in dramatic form with his beautiful drama called "The Mallet's Masterpiece."

MANILA PARCELS POST GIVEN TO HONGKONG

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—Inhabitants of the Philippines will be brought into closer contact with Hong Kong in consequence of a parcel post service which Manila has put into effect with Hong Kong, according to Consular reports. This will not only be beneficial to the Philippines, but will also be likely to increase Hong Kong's trade. A money order convention also will soon go into effect.

Heretofore there has existed no convenient arrangement for the transfer of money or merchandise between the Philippines and Hong Kong. The exchanges that have taken place were made through the home offices of the nations concerned. The new arrangement does not affect the postal arrangements between the United States and Great Britain, but provides for an exchange of parcels between the two colonies direct.

RAY BAKER MAY BE MADE WARDEN

Former Oakland Boy Is Mentioned for Fat Appointment in Nevada.

RENO, Dec. 21.—It is reported frequently on the streets of this city, and from sources that are supposed to be authentic, that Ray Baker, a former Californian, and brother of Cleve Baker, who was elected attorney-general of Nevada in the last election, is slated for the position of warden of the Nevada penitentiary. The board appointing the warden consists of the governor, the attorney-general and the secretary of state.

It is said that Cleve Baker and Governor-elect Oddie will vote for Ray Baker. Cleve Baker is a Democrat and Ray is a Republican, but Ray worked hard for Cleve in the last election, as well as for Governor Oddie, and it is said that both feel as if he should be rewarded. At the present time William Maxwell is warden of the penitentiary.

Ray Baker was at one time a mining promoter in this state, but for some months prior to the election divided his time in denying that he was to marry Mrs. Margaret McKim, and in electioneering for his brother.

Ray Baker is prominent in Oakland, having been identified with politics for several years and having been a deputy clerk in County Clerk Cook's office. He is the son of the late George Baker, the well-known attorney, and a brother of Harry Baker, who was also connected with County Clerk Cook's office for several years.

AIRMEN PREPARING FOR BIG FLIGHTS

All Arrangements Being Completed for Opening of Meet at Los Angeles.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 21.—More than 400 men rushed work on the grandstands and hangars at Dominguez field yesterday in preparation for the opening Saturday of Los Angeles' second international aviation meet.

No flights were made, nearly all of the birdmen being busy overhauling their machines.

The machines now on the field are Latham's Antoniette, one of the Wright biplanes, Slavin's biplane which has been set up, Edgar S. Smith's monoplane, Charles Seaglund's monoplane and Bernard Birnie's biplane. Curtiss has a big heap of boxes full of apparatus, but none of it is unpacked.

Both Radley and Hubert Latham returned from Catalina Island yesterday morning. They announced they would attempt flights across the channel from the mainland near San Pedro to the island, provided enough prize money is guaranteed.

CANAL JOBS SCARCE, WARNS GOVERNMENT

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—The supply of skilled and unskilled labor on the Panama canal at present is in excess of the demand, except in the case of boilermakers. This situation has caused the Isthmian canal commission to issue a warning, that under present conditions there is little likelihood that any man who goes to the isthmus at his own expense and on his own initiative will find employment there.

The commission advises persons seeking work in the canal zone to make application to Captain Boggs, chief purchasing officer of the commission, Washington, who will have charge of filling the occasional vacancies.

FATALLY HURT IN FALL FROM CAR

Alamedan Slips and Skull Is Fractured in Dash to Street.

ALAMEDA, Dec. 21.—Fred Hill, who lives at 1355 Broadway, this city, was probably fatally injured last night when he slipped and fell on the back of his head while alighting from an electric car at Park street and Bank alley. He suffered a fractured skull and is not expected to recover.

Hill, who has been working in the country, had come to Alameda to spend a few days with his sister, Miss Marion Hill, a trained nurse. He was returning from Oakland and had just stepped on the running board, ready to alight, when his foot slipped and he went crashing to the street.

He was picked up and rushed to the Emergency Hospital in the police ambulance. Dr. L. W. Stidham gave him first aid treatment and then ordered him removed to the Alameda sanitarium.

Hill was still unconscious up to 3 o'clock this afternoon and the physician holds out but little hope of his recovery. He is 25 years of age and at one time attended the Alameda public schools.

NEGROES JAILED; ACCUSED BANDITS

Wheeler Marshall and Charles Miller Are Thown Into Prison.

In the arrest of Wheeler Marshall and Charles Miller at the Emeryville race track yesterday by Detective James Drew, Captain Petersen believes that he has in custody two desperate thugs who have been responsible for a number of hold-ups in this vicinity of late and the men, who are both colored, are being held on the small book, awaiting an investigation by the officials into their antecedents.

It was not long ago that a colored man and woman held up a man at the corner of West and Fifteenth streets and it is the belief of the police that the men arrested may know something of that robbery as well as others that have been perpetrated in San Francisco in the last few weeks.

TEMPERANCE WOMEN HOLD PEACE DISCUSSION

BERKELEY, Dec. 21.—"Peace and Arbitration" was the subject for discussion at the meeting of the W. C. T. U. to be held this afternoon at the Trinity M. E. church. The program was in charge of Mrs. M. F. Bunker. Miss Ursula Broad gave an exhibition of physical culture exercises at the close of the discussion.

WIFE SAYS HUSBAND THREATENED HER LIFE

Bertha and Adolf Nagl were married last April and now the wife is seeking a divorce in the superior court. She charges Nagl with extreme cruelty, which began, it is alleged in the complaint, immediately after the wedding. Mrs. Nagl charges that her husband not only called her vile names but upon occasions too numerous to mention threatened to shoot her.

WANT PROTECTION, FROM FLYING GLASS

New York Cars May Be Required to Put Wire Netting at Windows.

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—As a result of the New York Central explosion of Monday last, the New York Board of Aldermen has been asked to pass an ordinance requiring that all windows in street cars, elevated and subway trains and other public conveyances, be enclosed with strong wire netting.

A review of the injuries received by those killed or hurt in the explosion shows that ninety per cent of the wounds were caused by flying glass, and the more serious injuries by glass from the trolley car which was wrecked near the scene of the explosion.

That these injuries by glass are largely avoidable is the declaration made yesterday by Dr. Royal S. Copeland of the City Ambulance Board. In a statement he says:

"It has been my misfortune to be in perhaps a dozen street car, elevator and train accidents. In every such experience I found myself on the floor and on one occasion, at least covered with broken glass. What would happen if a subway express ran off the track! A few passengers would be killed and almost every remaining one would be more or less hurt by broken window glass.

"If the glass injuries had been eliminated from the New York Central's terrible explosion, there would have been comparatively little for the surgeons to do."

PREMIER ASQUITH CONFERS WITH KING

British Monarch Asks Information as to Plans of the Cabinet.

LONDON, Dec. 21.—Premier Asquith who came down from Scotland, especially at the command of King George, had an audience at Buckingham today. It lasted only three-quarters of an hour.

It is understood that his majesty wished to be fully informed as to the premier's views and the cabinet's plans for the future, now that the election is over, before leaving London to spend Christmas at Sandringham.

It is known the King is very anxious to tide over the coronation period with the least possible political upheaval and that all his influence will be exerted with the parties in the direction of a compromise.

Mr. Asquith saw none of his colleagues while in London and returned to Edinburgh on an afternoon train.

PLANNING FOR BIG AVIATION MEET SOUTH

SAN DIEGO, Dec. 21.—Plans for an aviation meet in San Diego after the meet in San Francisco next month are being rapidly matured. The feature of San Diego's meet will be experiments by Glenn Curtiss in rising from and lighting in the waters of the bay, arising from and returning to the deck of a warship designated for tests of this character by the Navy Department and in the proposed Los Angeles-San Diego race. The meet will last three days and negotiations with Wright brothers, Curtiss, Latham, James Radley and Charles Walsh have been begun.

OAKLAND TO HEAR TETRAZZINI IN SECOND NOTABLE CONCERT

MME. LUISA TETRAZZINI, who is to sing for second time in Oakland.

Tetrazzini will give her farewell Oakland concert at Ye Liberty playhouse tomorrow night, offering a glorious program entirely different from that of her first concert.

On this occasion she will sing the wonderful finale of the first act of "La Traviata," which includes the romanza "Ah fors e lui" and the brilliant "Sempre Libre." Another great number will be the "Bel Ragio" from Rossini's "Le Semiramide" and by special request the diva will offer the brilliant "Polacca" from "Mignon," a test piece for all sopranos.

The encore numbers will be the aria from "Linda di Chamounix," the valse from "Romeo et Juliette" and the "Page's Song" from "Un Ballo en Maschera."

BARITONE ON PROGRAM.

Frederick Hasting the baritone will be heard in two splendid numbers and Steindorff's orchestra will play the overture "The Merry Wives of Windsor," and "Three Dances" from "Henry VIII," by Edward German.

The Tetrazzini concerts will be memorable events in the history of music in Oakland and should this artist ever return she will always be sure of a warm welcome, for such singing is not heard often in one's lifetime.

SCHOOL TO GIVE MUSICAL PLAY

Glee Club of Berkeley to Appear at Entertainment Tonight.

BERKELEY, Dec. 21.—"The Earl King's Daughter," a musical play, is to be presented this evening by the Glee club of the lower high school of Washington school. The music for the piece was written by Niels W. Gade, the noted Scandinavian composer. Miss Ethel Pearl Graham is musical director for the performance and Ada C. Jordan will act as accompanist.

Gade's "Earl King's Daughter" is a ballad found on old Danish legends. Gade is said to be the landscape painter of music, portraying in tone the scenery and life of the Scandinavian people. His themes are definite and his harmony is exquisite.

Sir Oluf starts on his journey to find one more wedding guest as the birds are singing their evening song. His mother entreats him not to ride forth at this hour, and warns him to beware of the Earl King's mound, as he has power to turn love to hate. Sir Oluf encounters the Earl King's daughter, who uses all her arts to ensnare him and lays on him the touch of death.

RETURNS WITH DEATH.

The soloists in the piece are: Josephine Astredo (Earl King's Daughter), soprano; Florence Welden (the mother), contralto; Edwin Swindell (Oluf), baritone.

Part I—Chorus, "The Sun in Ocean Sinks to Rest;" duet (baritone and alto), "Bring Forth My Fleet, Sure Footed Steed" (Oluf); "My Son, the Evening Shadows" (the mother).

Part II—Female chorus, "Lightly Through the Wood" (Earl Maidens); baritone solo, "Earl Maidens are Singing" (Oluf); scene for soprano, baritone and chorus, "O Welcome, Sir Oluf."

Part III—Chorus, "Morning Hymn"; air for alto (the mother), "I Watched for Thee"; male chorus, "Fill High the Cups;" duet (alto and baritone), "Hear My Son," chorus, "Where Are the Guests?"

Epilogue chorus, "Then, Youths, If Through the Wood."

MINER FOUND IN GAS-FILLED ROOM

John M. Rousseau Found Unconscious With Money Gone and Jet on Full.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 21.—John M. Rousseau, 38 years old, whose home is at 57 East Fifty-ninth street, New York, was found unconscious in a gas-filled room at 239 Third street, under peculiar circumstances this morning. A sack which had evidently contained money, and which was entirely empty, was tied round his neck. Papers on his person indicated that he had returned but recently from a prospecting tour.

Whether the gas was turned on with the intention of ending Rousseau's existence, or whether it was blown out by accident, may never be known, as he is not expected to recover. A possible theory is that he was robbed of his money but the police are inclined to think that he spent it.

BRITISH SPIES FACING TRIAL IN GERMAN COURT

LEIPSIC, Germany, Dec. 21.—The trial of Captain Trench of the Royal Marines and Lieut. Brandon of the Royal navy, British officers charged by the German authorities with espionage on fortifications at Borkum, opened in the Imperial court today. The officers were defended by German attorneys. They admitted that they were gathering military information when arrested.

Berkeley Society

BERKELEY, Dec. 21. — Two score guests were entertained in the parlors of the Shattuck hotel yesterday afternoon by Mrs. A. G. Deardorff, bridge being the diversion. A charming arrangement of Christmas berries and greens added to the attraction of the handsome drawing rooms.

* * *

Mrs. H. R. Miles will spend the Christmas season with her parents in Springfield, Mass. Mrs. Miles went East several weeks ago and has been in New York for a brief visit. She will return to Berkeley in January.

* * *

Miss Lora Hyde left yesterday for the East, where she will continue her studies in art. Miss Hyde was graduated from the California School of Arts and Crafts the past week.

* * *

Miss Jessica Polvotto and her mother are at present in Paris and will not sail for home until some time in February. Leaving Berkeley months ago they have been touring England and the continent, going to Paris from Sweden and Denmark.

* * *

Twelve or fifteen guests were entertained at luncheon yesterday by Miss Edith White in honor of Mrs. Warren Swayne, who is visiting in this region, and Miss Deare Tisdale, whose engagement to Edward Varney was announced last week.

* * *

A dance has been arranged at the Carlton Hotel for the pleasure of the guests Christmas night. A tree will be an attractive feature.

* * *

The college set is interested in the recent announcement of the engagement of Stanley Richardson, a graduate of the University of California, and Miss Roberta Roberts, a daughter of Mrs. Jeremiah Roberts of San Jose. Richardson, who is a member of Psi Upsilon and one of California's former football stars, is engaged in business at Maui, Hawaiian Islands and the romance began last summer when Mrs. Roberts and her daughter visited the Islands. The bride-elect is a Stanford girl.

* * *

Miss Ernestine McNear was the inspiration of a dinner last evening, which was presided over by Miss Marian Miller. A score of guests were entertained and later enjoyed the dance which Mrs. William Thomas gave for her debutante daughter.

METHODISTS WILL HAVE ENDOWMENT

Corporation Formed to Provide for Superannuated Clergy.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 21.—Of the utmost importance and interest to Methodists throughout the state was the filing this morning of articles of incorporation for the conference claimants' endowment board, of the California annual conference of the Methodist Episcopal church. The corporation is launched for the purpose of creating an endowment fund for supporting superannuates who may have labored long and ardently in the ministry of the church or have been overtaken by ill health.

The corporation already controls the church property throughout the state, and the board of trustees are to be authorized to acquire funds and property by gift or by legacy and to handle the same. The trustees are to be appointed every year and have sole power to act.

The present board of trustees is composed of the following: Revs. F. D. Howard of San Francisco, C. M. Warner of Palo Alto, A. J. Hanson of Oakland, F. R. Dille of San Francisco, G. W. White of Oakland, J. L. Burcham of San Jose, Peter Bahl of Sacramento, George F. Kellogg of Newcastle, James A. Johnston of Oakland, J. F. Forderer of Alameda, W. F. McClure of Berkeley, C. B. Perkins of San Francisco.

A. J. Hanson is president and J. L. Burcham secretary.

BOUNDARY LINE IS NOT TO BE CHANGED

President Asks That Clause of New Mexico's Constitution Be Annulled.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—In a special message to Congress President Taft advised today the adoption of a joint resolution authorizing the annulment of a portion of the constitution of the new State of New Mexico which sought to change the boundary lines between New Mexico and Texas.

It also provides for re-marking the boundary as established by the Clark survey made in 1859-60. The House has not acted on the resolution.

WIFE SAYS HUBBY DODGED BATH TUB

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 21.—A divorce suit filed last November, which first came to public notice today and which raises a somewhat novel point, is that brought by Adele Wilkins, against Otto Fred Wilkins, a wealthy liquor dealer of Jackson and East streets. At the time of the filing of the action Judge Mogan granted an injunction, tying up all of Wilkins' property, including the family residence on Bay street.

The point made by Wilkins in his defense is that the wife's charges of cruelty, dating back to 191, are of no avail by reason of the operation of the statute of limitation. He admits, however, that this legal proviso does not effect one of her allegations to the effect that he failed to take advantage of the cleansing properties of the bath as often as his wife desired.

NEW CHARTER CLUB FAVORS HODGHEAD

Formerly Opposed Him, But Now Urges His Re-Election as Mayor.

BERKELEY, Dec. 21.—The action of prominent members of the Citizens' New Charter Club in indorsing Beverly L. Hodghead for mayor makes it probable that he will be re-elected without opposition. At the last election last year this club took an active part in favor of the charter but opposed the election of Hodghead. Now after the mayor has been in office a year and a half and has only a few months longer to serve, the club is so well satisfied with his administration that George Gelder, chairman of the campaign committee of the Citizens' New Charter Club, and as its most active member, gives the mayor his approval.

Gelder in a statement to the press today says: "Mayor Hodghead is a fitting example of what a mayor should be. He has made good. He is a big man with those broad principles which eminently fit him for a high place in government. I believe he should be re-elected and I will gladly support him in the event that he decides to run again. It would be too bad to stop him in his work of perfecting our city government. I think it would be a costly sacrifice. As a lawyer, an orator and a citizen he has attained great distinction and brought honor upon our city. Whatever failures there have been in our city government have been due to the inefficiency of some of the councilmen. Mayor Hodghead has done his part well. It is true I did not favor him for mayor at the last city election, but his public actions have convinced me of his worth. I have known him many years and even before Lorin became a part of Berkeley. I esteem him as a friend and a public official. I think our club is practically unanimous in favor of his election for we are convinced that he cannot be used by the politicians, who thought they would get special favors in the event of his election. He has shown himself to be no man's man and the tool of no politician."

TO BUILD EXPENSIVE CULVERT OVER CREEK

BERKELEY, Dec. 21.—The council yesterday awarded a contract to the Easterly Construction Company to erect a culvert over Codornices creek to cost $6560. The only other bid submitted was from the Contra Costa Construction Company which offered to do the work for $9990.

The amended report of Commissioner of Public Works McClure on the opening of Dohr street from the Saenger tract to Ashby avenue, was accepted and the protest of Albert Benning overruled.

Resolution of intention No. 83 for the work of constructing a cement sidewalk on the west side of Tenth street between Channing and Dwight ways, was rescinded.

A resolution was passed ordering the laying of a sewer on Fulton street from Ward street northerly.

MESSENGER HELD UP BY ALAMEDA ROBBERS

ALAMEDA, Dec. 21.—John Bettencourt, a Red Line messenger boy, was held up and robbed on San Antonio avenue between Willow and Walnut streets by two men who obtained 25 cents from the boy. Bettencourt reported the robbery to Police Sergeant Edward Hadley.

The boy was walking along San Antonio avenue, having delivered a message, when the men sprang from behind a tree and seized him by the arms. One, a tall man wearing a brown suit and soft black hat, held him by the arms while the other, who was attired in a black suit and wore a sombrero, went through his clothing.

GODLOVER FUNERAL TO BE HELD TOMORROW

BERKELEY, Dec. 21. — The funeral of Hugo Bliss Godlover, a University graduate, who died December 6 in the University of California infirmary while taking graduate work, will be held tomorrow from a local undertaking parlor, where the body has been lying, awaiting orders from the parents of the deceased in Vienna. No word having been received, the public administrator has ordered that the remains be buried, the body to be disinterred if necessary.

The dead man left $253 in two banks here and with that sum the funeral expenses will be defrayed.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

MODERN HAIR DRESSING

has played havoc with the tresses of the fair sex, and druggists everywhere comment on the fact that they are selling large quantities of sage for making the old-fashioned "sage tea," such as was used by our grandmothers for promoting the growth of their hair and restoring its natural color. The demand for this well-known herb for this purpose has been so great that one manufacturer has taken advantage of the fact, and has placed on the market an ideal "sage tea," containing sulphur, a valuable remedy for dandruff and scalp rashes and irritations. This preparation, which is called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, is sold by all leading druggists for 50 cents and $1 a bottle, or will be sent direct by the Wyeth Chemical Company, 74 Cortlandt St., New York City, upon receipt of price.

For sale and recommended by The Owl Drug Co. 13th and Broadway, 10th and Washington, 16th and San Pablo.

SALOON PORTER HEIR TO $116,000 ESTATE

MARYSVILLE, Dec. 21.—Arthur Montag, known here and at Sacramento and Fresno as "Fireball Bill," a porter in a local saloon, is heir to an estate worth $116,000 in Germany. He will leave in a few days to claim his property. Montag received notice of his good fortune through the German consul at San Francisco. Montag left Germany 20 years ago, coming direct to California. His parents sent him remittances for a time, but when he failed to return home the remittances stopped. That is the last he heard from them. It is learned his parents have been dead some time and a sister has since died, which leaves him sole heir.

DINOSAUR'S BONES ON JERSEY SHORE

Scientists Unearth Skeleton of Ancient Monster Near New York.

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—From the underlying rock formation of the New Jersey shore, directly opposite this city, rock drillers under the direction of Barnum Brown, assistant curator of the American Museum of Natural History, are engaged in removing the skeleton of a huge antediluvian reptile, generally believed to be that of a dinosaur. The skeleton, which is embedded in the rock is being taken out with the utmost care and will be mounted and placed in the museum.

Discovery of the specimen was made a year ago by graduating students of the department of geology, Columbia University.

A fragment of the rock was chemically treated and proved to contain phosphate, assuring the scientists that what they had discovered was in fact a skeleton.

The bones were discovered in the red shale, which underlies the upper formation of the palisades. It is millions of years older than the upper coating, according to the geologists.

STOLEN VAN DYKE MAY BE IN BOSTON

BOSTON, Dec. 21.—It is suspected the famous Van Dyke painting [illegible] at between $50,000 and $100,000, stolen some time ago from a private art gallery in Germany, was sold to a Boston man for $40.

If the painting is a real Van Dyke it has been in Boston almost a week, and it came here consigned with a lot of other goods to a Boston merchant. Now that its real identity is suspected the customs authorities have refused to deliver the picture to the merchant and are holding it subject to orders from the treasury department at Washington.

The painting, which was purchased in Europe for $40 by a buyer for Koopman & Co. of Boston, arrived here last week. The Collector of the Port was notified to look out for the painting. Koopman was informed by the collector that under the circumstances the picture could not be turned over to him, but would have to remain in possession of the collector until such time as the treasury department, which had already been notified, should forward instructions.

ROCKEFELLER'S LAST GIFT TO CHICAGO IS $10,000,000

Oil King Withdraws From Control of the Illinois University; Would Have Others Contribute

CHICAGO, Dec. 21.—John D. Rockefeller has computed the task he set for himself in founding the University of Chicago. Yesterday public announcement was made of a "single and final" gift of $10,000,000 which includes all the contributions Rockefeller had planned.

This sum, to be paid in ten annual installments beginning January 1, will make approximately $35,000,000 he has donated to the university.

Rockefeller says he now believes the school should be supported and enlarged by the gifts of many rather than those of a single donor. This, he believes, will be better accomplished if the public understands the limit of his contemplated assistance. The founding of new departments he leaves to the trustees, as he says funds may be furnished by other friends. Nearly $7,000,000 has been donated to the university in addition to Rockefeller's gifts.

WITHDRAWS FROM CONTROL.

With the announcement of Rockefeller's final donation came the resignation of John D. Rockefeller Jr. and Fred T. Gates, Mr. Rockefeller's personal representative, from the university board of trustees. In inclosing these resignations, Rockefeller explained he was carrying out a conviction that the institution should be "controlled, conducted and supported by the people," with whom up to now he had simply been co-operating.

Rockefeller's idea, as it is understood, is that he is turning over the institution and its endowment to Chicago and the West, and in so doing withdraws from any further representation in its control. Announcement of the gift was made at the quarterly convocation at the university this afternoon.

The gift was announced in a letter to the president and trustees. It says:

"New York, December 13, 1910. To the President and Trustees of the University of Chicago: Dear Sirs—I have this day caused to be set aside for the University of Chicago from the funds of the general education board, which are subject to my disposition, income-bearing securities of the present market value of approximately $10,000,000, the same to be delivered to the university in ten equal annual installments beginning January 1, 1911, each installment to bear income to the university from the date of such delivery only.

"A list of these securities is appended herewith. In a separate letter of even date my wishes regarding the investment and uses of the fund are more specifically expressed.

"It is far beter that the university be supported and enlarged by the gifts of many than by those of a single donor. This I have recognized from the beginning, and, accordingly, have sought to assist you in enlisting the interest and securing the contributions of many others, at times by making my own gifts conditional on the gifts of others, and at times by aiding you by means of unconditional gifts to make the university as widely useful, worthy and attractive as possible.

"Most heartily do I recognize and rejoice in the generous response of citizens of Chicago and the West. Their contributions to the resources of the university have been, I believe, more than $7,000,000. It might perhaps be difficult to find a parallel to generosity so large and so widely distributed as this, exercised in behalf of an institution so recently founded.

"I desire to express my appreciation also of the extraordinary wisdom and fidelity which you, as president and trustees, have shown in conducting the affairs of the university. In the multitude of students so quickly gathered, in the high character of the institution, in the variety and extent of original research, in the valuable contributions to human knowledge in the uplifting influence of the university as a whole, upon education throughout the West, my highest hopes have been far exceeded.

BIG GIFT TO BE THE LAST.

"It is these considerations, with others that move me to sum up in a single and final gift, distributing its payment over a period of many years to come, such further contributions as I have proposed to make to the university.

"The sum I now give is intended to make provision, with such gifts as may reasonably be expected from others, for such added buildings, equipment and endowment as the department thus far established will need. This gift completes the task which I have set before myself. The founding and support of new departments for the development of the varied and alluring field of applied science, including medicine, I leave to the wisdom of the trustees, as funds may be furnished for these purposes by other friends of the university.

"In making an end to my gifts to the university, as I now do, and in withdrawing from the board of trustees my personal representatives, whose resignations I inclose, I am acting on an early and permanent conviction that this institution, being the property of the people, should be controlled, conducted and supported by the people, in whose generous efforts for its upbuilding I have been permitted simply to co-operate; and I could wish to consecrate anew to the great cause of education the funds which I have given if that were possible; to present the institution a second time, in so far as I have aided in founding it, to the people of Chicago and the West; and express my hope that, under their management and with their generous support, the university may be an increasing blessing to them, to their children and to future generations. Very truly yours.

"JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER."

TRIBUTE OF THE TRUSTEES.

President Ryerson of the board of trustees, after making announcement of the gift, said: "It would be difficult to describe adequately the emotions aroused in the minds of the members of the board of trustees by the communication I have just read.

"There is, first of all, a feeling of the deepest gratitude for this wonderful gift. It assures to the university for many years to come a continuous development which cannot fail to inspire confidence and receive further impetus through the aid of other benefactors.

"In withdrawing from an active interest in the affairs of the university the founder has left no cause for disappointment in the material side, but there are sentimental considerations which cannot be overlooked, and in measuring the benefits which the university has derived from his interest in its welfare, there must be taken into account not only the great sum of his benefactions and the wisdom with which they were bestowed, but also the constant encouragement derived from his personal interest and sympathy."

"Mingled, however, with the regret that Mr. Rockefeller should deem it wise to sever the ties that have united the founder to the university, there is recognition of the force of the reasons given for this action, and there is the conviction that in thus anticipating all he had in mind to do for the university and in withdrawing his representatives from the board of trustees, Mr. Rockefeller is moved solely by a desire to promote the welfare of the institution he founded."

The board of trustees adopted a resolution expressing appreciation of Rockefeller's generosity and ordered a copy spread upon the records, one of which will be engrossed and conveyed to Rockefeller by a special committee.

ACCEPT GIFT.

It reads: "The board of trustees of the University of Chicago accepts the gift made by Mr. Rockefeller in his letter of December 15, 1910, and pledges itself to carry out in the spirit, as well as in the letter, the conditions accompanying it.

"It is now twenty-one years since, in May, 1889, Mr. Rockefeller made his first gift to the University of Chicago. The present gift marks, therefore, the completion of a significant period in the history of the university throughout which he has operated with other friends of the institution to place it on a permanent foundation. This final gift will make the total which the university will have received from its founder approximately $35,000,000.

"We know of no parallel in the history of educational benefactions to gifts so munificent bestowed upon a single institution of learning. But unique as they are in amount, they are still more remarkable for the spirit in which they have been bestowed. Mr. Rockefeller has never permitted the university to bear his name and consented to be called its founder only at the urgent request of the board of trustees. He has never suggested the appointment or the removal of any professor.

"Whatsoever views may have been expressed by members of the faculty, he has never indicated either assent or dissent. He has never interfered directly or indirectly with the freedom of opinion and expression which is the vital breath of a university, but has adhered without deviation to the principle that while it is important that university professors in their conclusions be correct, it is more important that in their teaching they be free.

"More significant still: The principle has been maintained even in his attitude toward the teaching of a subject so intimate as religion, wherein the mind is keenly sensitive to differences of opinion. Although at times doctrines have been voiced in the university which traverse those the founder is known to hold, he has never shown a desire to restrain the freedom which is quite as precious in theology as in other fields of thought."

HEMORRHAGE CAUSED DEATH OF CAHEN

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 21.—A mystifying circumstance in connection with the supposed murder and robbery of Martin Cahen is the report yesterday of autopsy surgeons that the young man died of pulmonary hemorrhage.

Cahen was found dead on a vacant lot near Grand avenue and Third street, after an alarm was raised by C. K. Jones, who says he witnessed the attack from his window. A physician was immediately notified and the two were beside the body a few minutes before it was dead. There appears to be no doubt that Cahen was attacked and robbed. There is a slight abrasion over one eye, but the autopsy surgeon says the man's skull was not fractured, nor is there anything to show that death was caused by a blow. Aside from a watch and jewelry, it is believed that about $200 was also taken.

The police are searching for the highwaymen, but in view of the report of the autopsy surgeon, it is uncertain what charge would be placed against them other than robbery in case they are apprehended.

BURGLARS GROW ACTIVE IN ANNEXED DISTRICT

SAN LEANDRO, Dec. 21.—Burglars showed a great deal of activity in and around San Leandro last night, and within an hour of each other three reports of robbery were reported to Marshal M. Geisenhofer. While Manuel Faiera and his family were peacefully slumbering last evening thieves gained entrance to his home on San Lorenzo avenue and succeeded in getting away with $100.

The F. Souza family of Easterbrook street went out for a walk and upon returning found that they were the victims of a burglar to the extent of $11. A small toy bank containing $9 in pennies was the extent of the loot taken from the home of A. Cormack on Hayes street.

On the first trial Mrs. Allen was convicted and sentenced to life imprisonment.

DR. SHELDON DODGES BUSY PLAYWRIGHTS

TOPEKA, Kas., Dec. 21. — The Rev. Charles M. Sheldon, author of "In His Steps," has refused all offers to allow the book to be dramatized, except under certain conditions, and no theatrical manager has been found who would agree to these. Dr. Sheldon says it requires devout Christian people to enter the spirit of the book and that the full force of the story cannot be given by other than such persons.

TWO COURSES SELECTED FOR ALL NAVAL TRIALS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21. — All standardization trials of naval vessels in commission on the Atlantic ocean in the future will be held on either the Rockland (Maine) or the Guantanamo (Cuba) trial courses, unless otherwise specifically directed. An order to this effect has been issued by Acting Secretary of the Navy Beekman Winthrop; these two courses were selected because of their depth of water. The courses off Provincetown, Mass., and at Lewes, Del., will not be used except in special instances.

The standardization trials, which determine the number of revolutions per knot, are usually held about once a year for each vessel in commission.

CLUB WOMEN ARE MAKING CAMPAIGN

Systematic Plan Followed in the Sale of Red Cross Stamps.

The Oakland Club women under the leadership of Mrs. Leon M. Hall, the president, are conducting an energetic campaign in the sale of the Red Cross Christmas seals.

To do this work at this season of the year requires considerable sacrifice of time and the ladies are to be highly commended for their splendid devotion to the cause.

The funds from the sale are to be used in the fight against consumption, as it is being waged by the Alameda County Society for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis. A new free clinic at 525 Seventeenth street has recently been opened by this society, where examination and treatment by prominent physicians may be obtained by any who may suspect an attack of this insidious disease.

LIST OF STATIONS.

Mrs. Hall announces the following stations where the seals may be obtained and asks the liberal patronage of the citizens of Oakland in this work:

Bowman & Co., 13th and Broadway; Owl Drug Co., 16th and San Pablo; Owl Drug Co., 13th and Broadway, Smith Bros., 462 13th st.; Kahn Bros., 12th and Washington, Cooper & Co., 1161 Broadway; Edgar H. Barber Co., 26 San Pablo ave.; Taft & Pennoyer, Clay and 14th sts.; H. C. Capwell Co., 12th and Washington Abrahamson Bros., 13th and Washington; Hale Bros., 11th and Washington; E. Lehnhardt, 1157 Broadway; Hotel St. Mark, 12th and Franklin; Oakland postoffice, Broadway and 17th.

ALL REPORT SUCCESS.

Mrs. Hall has taken charge of the station at Taft & Pennoyer's herself and reports gratifying results. She will be assisted by the following ladies, most of whom are members of the Oakland Club, and all well known in Oakland society: Mrs. Chas. Taber, Mrs. John Ronald, Mrs. Frances Gray, Mrs. E. F. Cole, Mrs. S. L. Bennett, Mrs. G. W. Harrison, Mrs. Rutherford and Miss Bessie Wood.

The station at Abrahamson Bros. is in charge of Mrs. W. T. Morton. Miss Montfort of the Nurses' Association reports good sales of the seals at the different hospitals.

The sales of the Red Cross emblems is being conducted in San Leandro under the auspices of the Alta Mira Club, with Mrs. C. H. Hale as manager. The seals are on sale in the stores and postoffice. The club women are doing energetic work individually and at a recent meeting of the club made sales netting $8.

LAWYERS FIGHT IN STOCKTON COURT

Frank Gould and Former Judge Fairall Have Mix-Up and Pay Fine.

STOCKTON, Dec. 21. — Attorney Frank H. Gould of an Francisco and former Judge Charles H. Fairall of Stockton and San Francisco had a mixup in the suit they were trying before Superior Judge C. W. Norton yesterday, and when the dust had settled Fairall was fined $150 and Gould $100. It was not stage money that the embattled barristers had to pay over, but real coin. They paid.

The conflict came in the trial of the action of Jerome Smith vs. the Gato City Oil Company, in which W. R. Jacobs and others were interested. Fairall, representing Smith, made an insinuation that Jacobs had improperly secured money belonging to the oil company.

"I object to counsel making any further false and lying statements," declared Attorney Gould.

That started Fairall. He advanced toward Gould and struck at him. There was a lively mixup. Subsequently Gould was discovered with Fairall's head butting him in the stomach. J. W. Mosher and Deputy Sheriff Barney Cassidy joined in the struggle and separated the combatants. Fairall was still full of fight, and put up a lively struggle to be free from the bailiff.

Judge Norton rapped loudly for order. When the fight was finally stopped the case was adjourned until afternoon, when the court assessed the fine on the two lawyers. Neither bore any marks of the struggle beyond their deflated bank accounts.

TENER TO DECIDE FATE OF WOMAN

New Governor Must Dispose of Case Against Mrs. Kate Edwards.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Dec. 21.—Among the legacies Governor Stuart will leave for John K. Tener, his successor, when he retires from office next month is the disposal of the case of Mrs. Kate Edwards, who is in the Berks county jail under sentence of death for the murder of her husband about nine years ago. Because of the public sentiment stirred up at the time of her conviction against hanging a woman two governors have passed up her case to their successors.

Mrs. Edwards and a negro named Gleason were arrested for the murder of the husband and tried for murder. Gleason on a trial was acquitted, though once convicted, but the woman was convicted and sentenced to be hanged.

FATAL DATE SET.

Governor Pennypacker set the date for the execution, but before the date arrived an application was made to the board of pardons for the commutation of the woman's death sentence to imprisonment for life, and the night previous to the date of execution Governor Pennypacker granted a reprieve, in order that the board might hear the case.

The board of pardons took up the case and then declined to commute the death sentence. This was seven years ago. It then rested with Governor Pennypacker again to fix the date for Mrs. Edwards' execution, but he never took action. Governor Stuart likewise has not taken action and now the case descends to Governor Tener.

Meantime, Mrs. Edwards has occupied a cell in the Berks county jail and is said to be a most exemplary prisoner.

10 LOST AT SEA IN HEAVY STORM

Hope Abandoned for Schooner and Barge With Their Crews.

PORTLAND, Me., Dec. 21.—Another victim of last Thursday's blizzard is believed to be the Bangor schooner Marcus Edwards, with a crew of five men, which was seen off Chatham, shortening sail and making heavy weather in the storm.

The missing schooner sailed from Provincetown, December 18, on her way from New York to Bar Harbor. She is of 227 gross tonnage and was built in 1875.

VINEYARD HARBOR, Mass., Dec. 21.—Barge No. 12 of the Consolidated Coal company, which broke away from the Cumberland off Nansett, on Cape Cod, in Friday's blizzard, has been given up as lost, with its captain, James Adams, and his four men. The coal company believes that the barge foundered with all on board.

Two of the company's tugs cruised to the south of Nantucket island and in the vicinity of George's banks, covering 200 miles, trying to find the missing barge.

ACCUSED BIGAMIST TO BE EXTRADITED

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 21.—The governor has honored requisition from the governor of Iowa for the return to Sioux City of Allen B. Kennett, who is wanted for bigamy and who is under arrest at Los Angeles. Kennett is accused of marrying Linnie F. Cockwell on October 17 of this year, while he was still the lawful husband of Lavorne E. Kennett, whom he married on February 21 of this year. Complaint against him was made by the father of his second wife, Edward C. Dilley of Sioux City.

MARKHAM ELECTED HEAD OF ILLINOIS CENTRAL

HARTMAN AVERTS PANIC IN THEATER

Comedian Calls Children to His Side and Allays Fear of Audience.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 21.—What threatened for a few moments to develop into a theater panic horror was avoided yesterday by Ferris Hartman, a comedian of San Francisco, who is appearing with his company at the Grand opera house.

The theater was packed to the doors, fully half of the seats being occupied by children.

The performance was progressing smoothly when a woman sitting close to the stage jumped from her seat, stumbled and ran hysterically to the exit, crying "Fire!"

The gallery started to stampede and in the parquet crying children began an unreasoning scramble for safety.

The chorus tried to drown the noise in the audience by singing as loudly as possible. Then Hartman made his appearance. Turning to the wings, he called to his children. They answered their father's call and he took them by the hand.

"There is no danger," he said. "None. These are my children. I love them, ladies, just as you love your children, and if there was danger I assure you I should try to get them out of the theater instead of holding them here on the stage."

After Hartman's speech some one started to applaud. The ushers took it up and in another moment the danger had passed.

CRIPPLE GATHERS $300,000 FORTUNE

Missouri Man Dies at 73 Leaving Money He Amassed in Lifetime.

BRASHEAR, Mo., Dec. 21. — Cal G. Cornell, a cripple since childhood, who amassed a fortune estimated at $300,000, was buried here yesterday. He was 73 years old.

"Here is one cripple who will never go to the poorhouse, for I expect to be rich before I die."

His wealth will go to two sisters and their children and to the State university in Columbia, the inheritance tax.

For eight years he taught school, then embarked in the mercantile business.

His aim was to save everything he made. He allowed himself no luxuries. He would not buy an invalid's chair, counting it a useless expense.

IMPROPER PICTURES BARRED IN SPOKANE

SPOKANE, Dec. 21.—All penny-in-the-slot picture machines in Spokane have been removed and no more licenses will be granted by the city as a result of the hearing yesterday in Mayor Pratt's office in evidence brought by the theatrical censorship committee, charging the exhibition of pictures of an improper nature.

GEORGE REPUBLIC PRINCIPLES TO BE USED

Elbert Vail at Work on Organization That Will Mean Much to Youth.

With the indorsement of the playground commission, an organization to be known as the Bushrod Playground Association will be established by Elbert Vail, director of the boys' work at Bushrod Park

The constitution of the associaton as framed by Vail outlines the object of the association in the preamble, which is as follows

"We, the children of the Bushrod playground, unite ourselves in a body known as the Bushrod Playground Association, for the purpose of unity, co-operation and a measure of self-government"

"That conveys the principles that govern the George Jr. Republic," said Vail yesterday afternoon.

"I think it will be a great assistance to the boys and girls. This will be the first, and I believe the only, playground association in Alameda county, and it is partly experimental. If the scheme works well at Bushrod Park it will be introduced in all the playgrounds throughout this city"

CONSTITUTION.

Seven articles are contained in the constitution by which the business of the association will be operated entirely by the children. The articles are as follows:

ARTICLE I.

The particular object for which this association has been formed is to produce a united body of the children in our playground who through systematic endeavor can aid in

First—All forms of athletics

Second—Self-government.

ARTICLE II

Membership shall consist of regular and honorary members. The difference shall be in that the honorary members shall not have the right to hold office or vote, while the regular members shall have all rights under the association.

All attendants of the playground between the ages of 8 and 20 years may become members after having told the treasurer that they wish to become such, and after having paid him their first monthly dues of five cents.

Regular members shall be those from 12 to 20 years of age, who have their names on the treasurer's books as having paid their monthly dues

Honorary members are those under 12 years

The monthly dues of five cents shall be payable on the first day of each month If a member should fail to pay his or her dues sixty days after word has been given of the amount owed, his or her membership shall cease.

Any member that fails to live up to the rules imposed by the executive committee shall be tried by said committee, and if found guilty shall be dropped from membership.

ARTICLE III

The regular meetings of the association shall be held on the first Monday of each month

Election of officers shall be held every four months The elections shall be by ballot

Special meetings may be called by the president at the request of eight members

ARTICLE IV.

All committees shall be appointed by the president within one week after his election to office.

The executive committee shall consist of (1) director of boys, (2) director of girls, (3) president, vice-president, treasurer, secretary; (4) three boys appointed by the president, (5) three girls also appointed by the president

The powers of the executive committee are five in number, namely:

First—Settle all disputes arising on the grounds

Second—Inflicting all punishments.

Third—Judging all infringements of the rules of the association.

Fourth—Authorizing all contests under the association.

Fifth—Promote the welfare of the association

ARTICLE V.

The officers of the association shall consist of a president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer.

The president shall preside over all meetings of the association, shall be ex-officio member of all committees and shall be responsible for the working out of this constitution.

The vice-president shall in the absence of the president perform his duties It shall be his duty to keep a complete list of games played by the various teams in the association, together with the names of the players, date and score

The games committee shall consist of the president, director of boys, director of girls, five girls and five boys.

The powers of the games committee shall be to organize all teams under the association, when met as a committee of the whole; to award all honors either by standards of merit or competition; establish competitive games and establish schedules for the playing of the same; appoint managers for the various teams, said manager being personally responible to the committee as to the behavior of the team to deal strictly with all problems dealing with the athletics of the playground.

The games committee shall be divided into two sub-committees, that of the boys dealing with the boys' games and that of the girls dealing with the girls This committee shall meet as a whole whenever matters of common interest are to be discussed.

The secretary shall attend all meetings of the association, of the executive committee and of the games committee when it meets as a whole, keeping the minutes of the same; shall conduct and preserve all correspondence, serve all notices of meetings by posting notice at least three days previous; shall keep an accurate list of all the members of the association.

The treasurer shall collect all dues owed to the association and shall turn the same over to the director, who shall be custodian of all moneys he shall have the privilege of appointing two assistants among the girls and one from among the boys. He shall disburse said moneys by drawing on the treastrer-director, keeping account of his transactions and making a written report of the financial standing of the association at each regular meeting.

The money of the association hall be spent in promoting sports by awarding personal decorations and team trophies, equipping teams with suits, etc.

ARTICLE VI

No person shall be allowed to be a member of any team of this association who is not a member of the association

Any group of girls may form a team after having become members of the association, elected a captain and got the sanction of the games committee.

Final Basketball Game of Church League Tonight

STANDING OF THE TEAMS
Oakland Church Athletic League

| | Won | Lost | Pct. |
|---|---|---|---|
| Cadets No. 1 | 5 | 0 | 1 000 |
| Loyal Sons | 4 | 1 | 800 |
| Elamats | 3 | 2 | 600 |

| Plymouth | 2 | 4 | 333 |
| Y M L. | 2 | 4 | 333 |
| Cadets No 2 | 0 | 5 | 000 |

The most important and final basketball games of the Oakland Church Athletic League will be played this evening at the Cadet Armory on Market street at 8 o'clock. The first game, which will be between the Cadets No. 1 and the Loyal Sons, promises to be very fast and furious and will determine the championship of the league. If the Loyal Sons should win an extra game will have to be played to determine the champions

The Cadets are very fast and excel in basket throwing Frank Beck has coached the Cadets to the highest degree and shown them many new tricks in team work. In Talcott, Elridge and Silvernail, the Cadets have an excellent trio of goal throwers Teddy, Lawton and Thomas are reliable guards and will defend the Cadets' goal For the Loyal Sons, Fox and Pease are the two best goal throwers. The rest of the team is very heavy and they expect to have an advantage through this, although the Cadets are very fast and reliable The Elamats and their old rivals, the Cadets No 2, will hook up in the second game, which will be more exciting than the first game The Cadets No. 2 will make a last desperate try to break into the percentage column, and the Elamats are just as eager to keep them down A large number of rooters and spectators will be present to root for favorite teams

Encimeda Team Wins Hard Fought Basketball Game

The Encimeda basketball team of Alameda defeated the Cadets No. 2 in a hard-fought game last evening at the Cadet Armory Both teams were fast in team work, but the Alameda team was superior in goal-throwing. The feature of the game was a long thrown basket by Maddern of the Cadets No. 2 Morehouse of the Cadets also played a very good game. Haydn threw most of the goals for the Encimedas and Pollard also played a good game at guard The final score was 22-23 in favor of the Encimedas. Following are the players:

The same teams will play another game in the near future.

Just Received and Just What You Want
THE BOOK OF THE SEASON
"Particeps Criminis"
DR. ERVIN S. CHAPMAN'S long looked for
Story of a California Rabbit Drive
Just the thing for a Christmas present. Equally interesting to the young or old:
GRAPHICALLY WRITTEN.
ELEGANTLY PRINTED AND BOUND.
LUMINOUSLY ILLUSTRATED.
The most attractive, instructive, unique and forceful book of the season.
In writing of this book Dr. James Whitcomb Brougher, formerly of Portland, Ore., and now the pastor of Temple Baptist Church of Los Angeles, says:
"It is interesting; it is exciting; it stirs the blood. The description of the rabbit drive is realistic and true, the statements concerning the destruction of the young are equally realistic and true. The book is bound to do good. I trust it will have the widest possible circulation. I want my boys to read it I want my girls to read it. It is so good that I want my mother-in-law to read it. I want everybody to read it. Every preacher ought to read it and commend it to his congregation."
It is a literary masterpiece written in a style so racy and fascinating that, having read the first sentence, one cannot willingly lay it aside until the last line has been read.

WOUNDED KNEE STATUE IN DANGER OF SINKING

JUNCTION CITY, Kas., Dec. 21.—The permission of the War Department has been asked to remove the Wounded Knee monument from its present location in front of the quarters of the commanding officer of the cavalry garrison at Fort Riley to an appropriate site in the post cemetery, according to announcement made here yesterday.

The ground on which the structure now stands is "made" ground, and despite several attempts to restore it to a level the monument is gradually sinking because of its weight.

FRIENDS COST SEARS $15 AND LONG WALK

CHICO, Dec. 21.—H. K Sears left his automobile standing on a country road six miles north of town while he walked across a muddy field to a farmer's house. When he returned to the road the machine was gone. He had to walk home. Upon his arrival here he learned that friends in another auto, finding his car in the road, thought it had broken down and that Sears had walked to town for help. They hitched the auto on to their machine and towed it into Chico, breaking a $15 lamp in a down-grade collision.

COST OF BEING SICK IN GOTHAM INCREASES

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—The cost of being sick in New York city has increased practically 100 per cent in the last ten years, according to figures prepared by the New York Hospital association.

To determine how the growth in the cost of living has affected the hospitals, a typical institution was selected and the figures of ten years ago were compared with those of the present time. It was found that in 1900 the daily expense of maintaining a patient was $1.17, and today it is $2.06.

COUPLE MARRY AT THE OPEN GRAVE Of Bride's Mother

RAVENNA, O.—Miss Addie Potter Chapman and Glenn E Colton both residents of Ravenna, were married in the cemetery of the First Presbyterian church before the open grave of Miss Chapman's mother, Mrs Lydia Potter Chapman.

The funeral services had just been held and the Rev. Dr. A D Palmer, pastor of the church, who officiated at the funeral, turned and married the young couple The body had just been consigned to the grave and all was in readiness to fill it when the wedding ceremony was read.

Mrs Chapman had requested that this be done She had been ill for many years and her daughter had been faithful in attending her A week ago Mrs. Chapman's physicians said that death was near at hand Then she called her pastor, her daughter and the latter's fiance and requested the novel marriage ceremony.

CHRISTMAS FOR SAILORS PLANNED BY INSTITUTE

In order that the American sailors in port Christmas may enjoy some entertainment and gift, the Seaman's Institute of San Francisco has issued a call to those interested in the work to contribute to such a cause

Last year nearly 200 sailors sick in various hospitals received Christmas gifts through the same source. It is anticipated this year fully as many will be provided for.

The men at the Farallone station and on the light ship also will be remembered.

MRS. LOGAN IS NOW A REAL GRANDMOTHER

YOUNGSTOWN, O Dec. 21.—A cablegram from Brussels, Belgium, received here announces the birth of a daughter to Count and Countess Henri de Sinçay The countess was Miss Marie Louise Logan, daughter of Major John A. Logan, and granddaughter of General John A. Logan and C. H. Andrews, millionaire steel man of this city.

WOMEN IN THE NEWS

DIVORCED WIFE OF SOLON WEDS HIS CHAUFFEUR

Mrs. Nettie Eldredge Shaw Marries Man With Whom She Disappeared.

BOSTON, Dec. 21.—Mrs. Nettie Eldredge Shaw, who divorced State Senator James F. Shaw, has been married to H. Kent Marble, formerly Shaw's chauffeur, with whom she disappeared in May 1908. Such is the news received from Bridgeport, Conn Mrs. Marble's decree of divorce became absolute two months ago.

She is the daughter of H. Fisher Eldredge, a wealthy brewer of Portsmouth, N. H In 1895 she married Shaw, who is president of the Interborough railroad here and leading opponent of United States Senator Lodge within the Republican party

When she left Shaw's home she took their son, Eldredge Fisher Shaw, and went to her father's house. From there she and the boy went to California, and simultaneously Marble left Shaw's employ.

Wife Shot Down

REDONDO, Dec. 21.—Charged with assaulting his wife with intent to kill, as the result of which she is seriously wounded, Harford Noble, who came here recently from San Francisco, was arrested yesterday and is in the county jail in default of $3000 bail.

Mrs Noble has been employed for the last 21 weeks in a restaurant, and officers state that Noble followed her to her room in the Savoy, where the shooting began She ran down stairs to Pacific avenue and into a hardware store, where two shots were fired. From there she fled into the street again and sought refuge in another store, farther north in Pacific avenue Five shots in all were fired.

Mrs. Noble is being attended at her room in a lodging house here. She has one bullet wound in her right arm and another in her head.

Jealousy on the part of Noble because he thought another man was paying too much attention to his wife is said to have been the cause of the shooting.

Noted Beauty Ill

NEW YORK, Dec 21.—Edna Goodrich, wife and co-star of Nat Goodwin, has become so broken in health since her return to New York that within the last few days she has left her apartments with the statement that she is going into seclusion in a Lakewood sanatorium

When "The Captain" was abandoned on the road Mrs Goodwin came here with her mother. The actress was suffering from dyspepsia and, arranged to do her own cooking in her room. About three weeks ago her mother had an attack of appendicitis and was operated on in a local hospital.

Mrs Goodwin seemed to grow steadily worse, and last Saturday she told her friends she did not want to see anyone.

Gives to Church

SACRAMENTO Dec. 21.—Right Rev. Bishop Moreland of the Sacramento diocese of the Episcopal church has just made public the name of the woman who gave $30,000 to build the new Trinity parish house on M street, between Twenty-sixth and Twenty seventh. She is Mrs Thomas J. Emery of Cincinnati, Ohio, whose husband made his fortune in California and was well known in San Francisco for years

A bronze tablet consecrating the building to the memory of Thomas J. Emery has been placed in a niche in the wall. No ceremony marked this act, as the building was formally dedicated two months ago

Bishop Moreland said yesterday: "Mrs. Emery's gift indicates the gratitude of a good woman toward the state in which her husband made his fortune I can hardly say too much for our generous benefactress, and I know every one connected with our parish feels the same personal gratification for this gift as I do."

Denies He Wed

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Dec 21.—Professor Fred A. Reynolds of this city has received a letter from his son, Fred M. Reynolds, now in San Francisco, denying that he had married May Yohe, formerly Lady Francis Hope. Young Reynolds is a physician. He has been traveling with May Yohe on a concert tour in the west.

Shoots Him Again

SAN JOSE, Dec 21.—Tom Hogan, a member of a local printing firm, was shot yesterday by Lola Hallett. The bullet took effect in an arm and amputation may become necessary. This is the second time that Hogan has been shot by the woman.

Suffragette Stays Single

MISS INEZ MILHOLLAND, whose mother denies engagement.

NEW YORK. — Mrs. John Milholland has denied the report that her daughter Inez, who is prominent in the suffrage campaign, was engaged to Sydney Smith, who is equally prominent in the Meadowbrook Hunt and society.

Mr Smith's attentions to Miss Milholland when she was a guest of Mrs. O H. P Belmont gave rise to the notion that an understanding existed.

Mr. Smith has been very attentive to Miss Milholland since his divorce from Fanny Tailer.

Miss Milholland's political ambitions, which she is carrying out through the cause of woman suffrage, came to her as a sort of heritage, as her father, John Milholland, was a prominent Republican politician.

He fought the late Senator Platt for years, and feeling was very bitter between the two men after Platt had refused to turn out the old members of the Republican county committee when Milholland requested him to

Mr. Smith is a member of the Union Club and is very popular. He is especially well known on Long Island, where he has been socially prominent for years.

Bar Blind Girls FROM TYPING CONTEST

ST. LOUIS.—Blind girls have been barred from competing for the St. Louis typewriter championship in the National Business Show at the Coliseum Twenty-four operators who can see, and who had entered the meet notified F W. Payne, manager of the show Tuesday afternoon that they would withdraw unless he eliminated the sightless typists. Thirty-two stenographers had entered the event, and three of them are blind girls who have become experts on raised lettered machines.

A committee of five young women visited the Coliseum and claimed they represented nineteen others They declared that blind girls had an unfair advantage in the contest, because they had nothing to distract their attention from their work, while those who could see would have all kinds of things to make them nervous, inaccurate and slow.

Payne finally compromised with the insurgents by entering them in a blindfold contest, to be held on the closing night of the exposition, and putting them against the blind girls. This contest will be dictation direct to the machine. The local championship meet was on the night of November 29. That for the national championship was decided December 1. This was open to all comers. H. O. Blaisedell of New York, now champion of the world, was entered in this event.

Suffragette Gives Up Fight for College

PHILADELPHIA.—After being in the forefront of the women's movement in the East for thirty-three years, Mrs. Rachel Foster Avery, of Swarthmore, president of the Pennsylvania Woman Suffrage Association, friend and associate of Susan B Anthony, will retire from active service in the "votes-for-women" cause for the next two years to pursue a course in political economy in the University of Wisconsin. She will leave for the west in June. This means, however, that she is simply girding on her armor for a renewal of the fight.

When Mrs Avery finishes her university work she will very probably identify herself with the "progressive" wing of the Chicago suffragists. And the East will lose one of the most ardent advocates of placing the ballots in feminine hands. Only one woman has been in the fight longer in this end of the country, and she is Miss Alice Stone Blackwell, of Boston, with forty years' activity to her credit.

TO TRAIN DAUGHTERS AS FARMERS.

The two daughters will enter the agricultural school of the University of Wisconsin, reputed to be one of the best schools of its kind in the country. They will take a four-year course, and they expect to have a farm of their own on which to follow their chosen profession Julia Foster Avery, the younger daughter, is a freshman at Swarthmore College and Rose Foster Avery, her older sister, a sophomore.

"I have twice tried to go to college," said Mrs Avery yesterday, "and circumstances have prevented. Once, my eyes and health failed, and the second time my work was cut short by a breakdown in my mother's health.

"Although I am 52 years old, I think I am not too far advanced in years to take a college course I have always had an ambition to study law, but necessarily I have given up the idea I have chosen the course in political economy because it has a particular bearing on the movement with which I have been identified since my childhood

ADMITS OTHER MEN KISSED HER

CHICAGO.—State Senator A. W. Clark isn't the only man who is alleged to have made love to Mrs. Millie Hume, wife of Sumner W. Hume, a publisher, who has carried his troubles to the divorce court. Admissions to this effect were made to Judge Baldwin by Mrs Hume. She was on the witness stand undergoing a grilling cross-examination by Attorney Bloomingston, and notwithstanding her studied evasiveness she was compelled to admit that several men had hugged her petite form and kissed her pretty face.

"Tell us of the Charles Peckham incident," said Attorney Bloomingston.

After long reflection as though in some doubt as to the lawyer's meaning and the identity of the person to whom he referred, Mrs. Hume finally made a wry face and said she remembered her husband and she had spoken of a "Peckham incident."

"Mr. Peckham, an insurance adjuster, was a Euclid avenue neighbor of our family and one evening he and Mrs. Wheatland, his niece, and myself saw Mr. Hume off to the train. Then Mrs. Wheatland went home and Mr. Peckham saw me to mine. He asked permission to enter and I allowed him to do so."

"Well, tell the court just what happened there," said the lawyer, persuasively

"Mr Peckham remained an hour or so."

"Anything happen?"

"Yes, he brought a pitcher of water."

"And was that all—wasn't there something which caused Mr. Hume annoyance when he heard of it?"

"Yes, Mr. Peckham attempted to hug me and I became very angry."

"Was he very angry when he heard of the Dr. Hawley Rockwell incident?"

"Mr. Hume wasn't pleased."

"Dr Rockwell was present with other guests at our house and I had occasion to pass into the kitchen. I stepped to the ice box and much to my surprise Dr Rockwell actually kissed me. When I returned to the room I naturally was quite upset and after the guests had gone Mr. Hume demanded to know the reason

"To return to the Senator Clark incident to which you testified the other day—isn't it a fact that you went in swimming with the senator at Asbury park?"

HER MISSION TO DRIVE AWAY DULL CARE

NEW YORK. — Miss Theora Carter of Seattle is here. She is the president and founder of the Society of Good Cheer. Cheerfulness is an asset, according to Miss Carter, and in that respect she is well equipped for the work she has undertaken.

Miss Carter has traveled from one coast to another and intends to make the society an international one, with branches in every section of the country. She already has organized branches in New York and in Boston, Seattle and Toronto. The Society of Good Cheer was incorporated in New York September 3, 1909. Its headquarters are at 2 Rector street. Its objects and aims are to buoy the convalescent when the doctor and nurse leaves them and when they are lonely and away from home and friends and in need of a few words of encouragement and cheer. The founding of the society is the result of an impulse which came to Miss Carter while suffering in a strange land. She was traveling and became ill in Chicago. The utter desolation of weeks spent away from home and her mother while convalescing in a strange city brought her to realize the need of some one spending a little time in cheering the lonely convalescent.

The work Miss Carter has undertaken is carried on by personal visitations to the hospitals and other public institutions and also to the homes of those who may be comforted by the visits of these self-sacrificing missionaries. They do not distribute money, but they carry with them comfort and good cheer in other forms. Flowers and delicacies for the invalids and open air trips for those who are able to enjoy them constitute their work. These open air trips consist of motor car and carriage rides. Miss Carter says she has had as many as fifty motor cars out with convalescents in one day. The machines were all donated, too. Often, she says, arrangements are made with the owner of a car for its use for an hour or two a day, two or three times a week.

MANY NAMED AS ATTORNEY FOR CITY

Mayor Mott Has Problem of Appointing Successor to Stetson.

O'Brien, Robinson, McDonald and Woolner Are Mentioned.

There ha be n a great de l of speculation indulged in as to who is to receive the appointment by Mayor Mott of the position of city attorne Senator Stetson who i the incumbent his sent in resignation from the position to the ma or Th tender will be one of th first m sires to a tr t he att r i hi honor when h urns som time today from a business trip o th southern part of the S . . . or his all along f ught . . . the matter of . . . Senator Stetson . . . a change in the rank of the administration . . . should . . . under the new charter But in this respect his honor has been disappointed because the senator cannot be induced to hold two offices . . . those of city attorney in State Senator more especially at a time when in the performance of the dut of the latter he must absent himself from the city for the first three months of the new year

MANY MENTIONED

There have been but three or four names mentioned for the prospective vacancy These are those of Col W H O'Brien who for a number of years has filled the position of deputy city attorney Harrison S Robinson of the law firm of Robinson & Robinson with offices in the First National Bank building John J McDonald who for years has been associated with the law firm of Fitzgerald & Abbot and Ben F Woolner

Of all these the chances of Woolner securing the position seem to be the most encouraging He has a powerful influence behind him A large number of the leading business and professional men of this city have lined up for him and it is known have conferred with Mayor Mott on the subject Woolner has a number of friends in all branches of the Republican party and Stetson who is about to retire is in no way opposed to him as his successor

REFUSES TO NAME MAN

Senator Stetson says that he has no desire to name his successor All that he is interested in is in getting a man for the position who will not only strengthen the present administration but who will also aid in the continuation of giving a good government to the people

There is not much chance of the appointment going to McDonald for the reason that he is a Democrat and it is understood he is not particularly anxious to be considered an applicant for any political office

Harrison S Robinson who with McDonald was one of the hardest workers on the board of freeholders who framed the new charter has according to his closest friends abandoned hope of securing the position He has made no attempt to secure the appointment and would not accept it . . . under certain conditions but it is understood that these conditions have not as yet been outlined and in the estimation of those best informed . . . contingency for outlining them will not be reached

Although the new charter has been adopted by the people the officers who are to be elected in May do not take their places until the 1st of July If therefore Woolner should be appointed city attorney at this time he would have seven months to serve in that capacity and also as a member of the Board of Police and Fire Commissioners and Board of Public Works

TAFT ANXIOUS FOR FATE OF PROGRAM

Indicates Strong Desire to Put Through Legislation in Present Section.

Insurgents Warned to Avoid Obstructing Proposed Republican Laws

WASHINGTON Dec 21 There is much discussion at both the White House and the capital over the outlook for the administration's legislative program The President in conferences with senators and representatives has indicated his strong desire that as many as possible of the measures he recommended in his annual message be pressed through congress without delay in view of the coming change of political complexion of the House

It is owing to this policy which the President is still urging on congress through frequent conferences with leaders that the appropriation bill have been rushed unprecedentedly

WARN INSURGENTS

No conclusions have been reached as to the order in which the program will be brought up in congress but the regular Republicans have warned the insurgent members of their party that they must accept the onus if they put any obstructions in the way of the proposed Republican legislation

The mail subsidy the tariff commission plan for collecting and assimilating tariff data Panama canal fortifications and tolls and a bill to regulate the issuing of injunctions are all matters upon which the President and party wants action

$20 GRUB STAKE LEADS TO A SUIT

Son Seeks to Compel Father to Divide Mining Profits.

SAN FRANCISCO Dec 21—Going back almost to the days of 49 and linked to the picturesque history of the days of California's mining prosperity is a suit founded upon the old grubstake claim begun today by C D Dudley against his father Tyler Dudley to compel him to turn over a half of $20 000 for which the latter sold the Kate Hardy and the Derelict mines in Sierra county

Tyler Dudley has been a mining prospector for years and this it is said is the first fortune that he has obtained in his life time The Kate Hardy mine after being worked for large profits was abandoned in 1860 and remained so for 35 years In 1895 Tyler Dudley and N W Harper thought there was money still there relocated it and worked it for 14 years during which Dudley acquired Harper's share

Through the father's advice his son C D Dudley relocated the Derelict mine, because Tyler believed that the mother lode of the Hardy extended under the Derelict In March 1909 the son gave $20 to his father which he claims was a grubstake on the two properties entitling him to a half interest and that the subsequent sale of the property for $20 000 should result in his receiving half The father contends that the money was advanced for him to take a trip home and was not a portion of $350 owed him by his son

It was while he was home that he met William Beggs who purchased the property for $20 000 and he has received already $11 187

SENATE CONFIRMS TWO NOMINATIONS

WASHINGTON Dec 21—The Senate confirmed today the nomination of C C McChord of Kentucky and B H Meyer of Wisconsin to be members of the Interstate Commerce Commission

U. C. MAY LOSE $8000 INCOME

State Pure Food and Hygienic Laboratories May Be Transferred.

SAN FRANCISCO Dec 21—At the next meeting of the state board of health, to be held January 7 discussion will be had of a proposition to remove the state pure food and hygienic laboratories from the University of California to Sacramento to put them in closer touch with the administration of state health affairs This removal would it is said result in a loss to the University of California of about $8000

At the same time a counter proposal to remove the administration department from Sacramento to San Francisco will also come up before the board Both proposals have been discussed informally among the members of the state board of health but indefinite recommendations will not be made until Governor elect Johnson and President Wheeler of the University of California return from the east

Johnson's attitude toward the general proposition of removing departments of the state government to Sacramento the seat of state authority will be a large factor in the two proposals which will come up at the January meeting of the state board of health

The hygienic laboratory at the University of California is under charge of Dr W A Sawyer who is appointed by the state board of health Dr M E Jaffa is director of the pure food laboratory He occupies an anomalous position because while he obtains his appointment from the university his work is under the direction of the State Board of health The university provides housing facilities for the two laboratories

If the laboratories were taken to Sacramento a building such as the state institution would have to be provided at the capital Under the present system the state health inspectors are given their assignments from the laboratory and their reports have to be forwarded to Sacramento and the direction of the inspectors by the state office at Sacramento is effected in a round about way

In support of the proposal to move the administrative office of the state board of health to San Francisco where it would be in close touch with the Berkeley laboratories it is argued that practically all of the important state and federal government commissions with which co operation is desired are in San Francisco Among these are

Passed Away This Morning in Hospital Without Recovering Consciousness.

Police Learn Name of Man Whose Blow Is Believed to Have Caused Death.

SAN FRANCISCO Dec 21—As the result of a beating administered to him on Saturday in a saloon at Rio Vista Andrew Mugos employed on a gold dredger in the Sacramento river, died this morning at St Mary's Hospital at 10 30 o'clock without recovering consciousness The local police have been spurred on in an active effort to arrest his assailant

Had Mugos injuries been attended to immediately after he was hurt there is a possibility that he might not have felt serious effects but his condition according to the story learned here was a matter of indifference to those concerned in the brawl

AFTER A GOOD TIME

Mugos is employed near Brennan Island and receiving his money on Saturday crossed over to Rio Vista for a good time He had an argument with a man in the saloon and in the fight which followed he was knocked out and fell to the floor Instead of calling a doctor it is said he was merely taken into a back room and left there On Sunday morning a comrade worried over his disappearance inquired for him and was told he was lying in the place

BROUGHT TO CITY

At 11 o'clock still unconscious he was transferred to his little room on the dredger and his condition became worse it was decided yesterday to bring him to this city and early this morning arrived on the steamer Modoc and was transferred to the Harbor hospital Dr Zumwalt quickly discovered that he man was suffering from intercranial injuries evidently from a fractured skull and he was hurried to St Mary's hospital for an operation

Detective Bailey has been detailed on the case and will probably go to Rio Vista today

Detective Bailey on questioning Charles Johnson who accompanied Mugos to this city learned that the dead man had gone on Saturday from the island to the Wood Island Inn at Rio Vista with two companions Later his friends returned without him and Johnson investigated on Sunday and learned that a man named Moss had seen an attache of the saloon strike Mugos down

DOMESTIC SCIENCE AT STATE COLLEGE

President Wheeler Announces That Course Is to Be Established.

BERKELEY Dec 21—A request made by the Federated Mothers Clubs of Berkeley that a course in domestic science be established in the University of California has brought a reply from President Wheeler that changes looking toward that end were now being made

Assemblyman Young has replied to the endorsement given the teachers' retirement bill by the Mothers Clubs declaring that while he considered the bill well shaped it seemed to him too radical to stand a good chance of being passed at the present time The bill for the establishment of an industrial school for girls who have been discharged from detention homes he thought a good one and worthy of advocacy

Concerning the proposed federal child's bureau which has received the endorsement of the Federated Mothers Mrs Sturtevant Peet state committee chairman has written the federation that the measure would probably win favor so slowly that nothing would be done with it at the present session of Congress

A committee has been appointed by the federation to confer with the City council with regard to the desired half fare rate for children riding on the street cars to and from school this question having recently been referred by the council to the committee of the whole

The recently circulated petition of the High School Parents Association for the inclusion of funds for a gymnasium and athletic field for that institution in the coming bond issue has been indorsed

NATIVE SONS FROLIC AT CHRISTMAS JINKS

ALAMEDA Dec 21 Halcyon parlor N S G W held its Christmas jinks in Woodmen hall last night with a large attendance of members present The jinks was commenced by a whist game in which J Glever proved to be the lucky man winning the first prize a gold scarf pin

After the whist game those present sat down to a banquet at which Herbert D Clark acted as toastmaster After several three minute talks by those present all adjourned to the lodge room where a Christmas tree brilliantly lighted with incandescent globes and filled with presents, was the closing feature of the jinks.

COUNCILMEN TILT OVER PASTOR'S APPOINTMENT

Alameda Official Says Minister Should Keep Out of Politics.

SELECTION, HOWEVER, GIVEN CONFIRMATION

Municipal Body Overrules Protest of Residents Against Removal of Saloon.

ALAMEDA, Dec. 21.—"I believe Rev. Martin to be a liberal, broad-minded man, but I do not think that a minister should mix up in politics, nor do I think that I should vote for a man who opposed my election," said Councilman John H. Walker last night at the city council when the appointment by Mayor Noy of Rev. Willsie M. Martin as a member of the park and playground commission was brought up for ratification. The council indorsed the appointment, Councilman Walker being the only member to vote in the negative.

After Councilman Walker had stated his reasons for opposing the appointment, Councilman William Hammond Jr. rose in defense of the selection of the mayor, saying:

TAKES EXCEPTION.

"I take exception to Councilman Walker's remarks. Ever since I have been a member of this council I have taken pride at the harmony displayed. In making this appointment the mayor is not paying political debts, and he is not personally seeking another term. The mayor is popular, even with his enemies, who are forced to admit that he is doing the best that can be done. He is setting a pace which it will be hard to keep up with. I think that the remarks of Councilman Walker are entirely uncalled for.

"Rev. Mr. Martin is highly esteemed. He has not only the adults but the growing population to care for. The mayor should be congratulated for being so magnanimous as to overlook Rev. Mr. Martin's opposition to his election. The mayor made the selection simply because of Rev. Mr. Martin's ability to fill the position."

VOTE IS TAKEN.

Noes—Councilman Walker.

Absent—Councilmen Fisher and Ellis.

Mayor Noy thanked the council for the ratification and declared that the appointment of Rev. Mr. Martin had been made without regard to political influence.

The protest against the granting of a permit to Seebeck Bros. to remove their saloon from 1513 Webster street to the northeast corner of Webster street and Santa Clara avenue was unanimously overruled by the council. The protest contained forty signatures of residents in the vicinity, and it was set forth that the saloon will be a detriment to property in the vicinity, will be a menace to children on their way to the new Washington school, to be erected at Eighth street and Santa Clara avenue, and that women on their way to Oakland will have to wait for cars in front of the saloon.

OPPOSES SALOON.

H. D. Perry was spokesman for the protestants, and he reiterated the complaints made in the protest. He has announced that he will remove from the district on account of the presence of the saloon so near to his home. He also pointed out that the saloon, which is a one-room building, is on a conspicuous corner and at the gateway which leads into the residence district of the city.

George T. Wright, owner of the property on which the saloon building stands, spoke in behalf of Seebeck Bros. He declared that Seebeck Bros. would lose several thousands of dollars if their permit was revoked, having taken a ground lease for five years and having erected a building at a cost of $1000. Wright declared that he owns considerable property on Webster street and that he would not have allowed the saloon to be built if he thought it would depreciate values. The large billboard that has been maintained on the property, he says, will now come down, and the property, which has been idle for 24 years, will be occupied.

PROTEST OVERRULED.

Seebeck Bros. presented letters from August J. Fromm, Mrs. F. Wagner, W. B. Wilson and Mrs. C. Reischert, property owners near the new location of the saloon, who favor the removal.

Councilman F. L. Krumb moved that the protest be overruled, declaring that as Seebeck Bros. have been taxpayers for twenty years and have conducted their saloon in an orderly manner that they are entitled to the removal permit. Councilman Walker and Councilman Hammond seconded the motion in unison. Councilman Hammond stated that if the saloon was not conducted in an orderly manner that the license could be revoked.

Councilman E. J. Probst declared that as the saloon will fill the vacant lot and will do away with the big billboard that the removal is favored by Webster-street merchants.

TO BUY NEW AUTO.

G. Risso was awarded a contract to remove the garbage from the city firehouses, his bid being $7 45.

The clerk was directed to advertise for bids for an auto for the superintendent of streets, to cost more than $1500.

Powell Bros. were awarded the contract to improve the south end of Cedar street. Their bid, the only one presented, was high, according to the superintendent of streets. The bid was 1½ cents a for gutters and 40 cents a linear foot for curbing. The bid amounts to about $2.60 a foot.

Councilman Krumb reported that work started today on the improvement of the north end of High street.

The street committee was given power to act in improving Kilkenny street on Bay Farm island, using the funds out of Municipal Improvement Fund No. 8, voted for improving Bay Farm island roadway. The committee must advertise for bids for the work. Councilman Probst inquired if the committee could use the money without advertising for bids, and was told it must advertise.

"PASSING THE BUCK."

"It looks to me as if you are passing the buck," said F. W. Schulte, member of the board of health, at the council meeting last night, when that body broached the subject of referring back to the health board the proposed ordinance providing for the delivery of milk in individual packages. "The board has recommended the ordinance," continued Schulte, "and now it is up to you to adopt it or leave it."

The council took no action in the matter, allowing the proposed measure to remain on the table. At the committee meeting Friday night it was agreed that the proposed measure would be sent back to the board of health for revision, but this was not done last night, and, according to several of the councilmen, the matter will be dropped.

WATERFRONT LEASES.

The federal government is to be asked by the city council to grant leases to the manufactories now in business along the south side of the canal, just west of the Park-street bridge, to the small strip of land which borders the canal and which is owned by the government. Councilman William Hammond Jr. made this motion before the council, stating that if the existing manufactories were not awarded these leases that they probably could not get to the waterfront, unless they paid an exorbitant rental for the strip between their places and the canal.

The government recently announced that bids were invited for leases of the strip. In the past the manufactories that are now established leased the strip at a nominal rental and without offering bids. The local council is anxious to have the same persons continue as lessees and not other parties.

WANT OIL BY RAIL.

The electricity commission last night requested the council to make arrangements so that fuel oil can be brought to this city by rail and landed, as usual, at Park and Encinal avenues. The commission says that it has entered into a contract with the Standard Oil company to deliver oil by carload at 60 cents a barrel, and that if the oil cannot be received by rail that the cost will be greater. The matter was referred to the public utilities committee.

Residents in the neighborhood of Park and Encinal avenues recently protested against the landing of oil at that point, claiming the presence of cars on the sidetracks to be a detriment to the property in the vicinity.

HEAR ADDRESSES.

At the Berkeley high school the students gathered in the auditorium this afternoon, according to custom, and listened to addresses by newly elected officers of the student organization and by the instructors of the school. The medals and awards were given to those who had won laurels in athletic and literary contests during the term.

The officers elected by the associated students of the high school to serve for the ensuing term are: President, C. Mitchum, vice-president, Wilson Ellis, yell leader, Clinton Kimberlin, track manager William Ingram, editor of Olla Podrida Percy Neil, manager, Earl Parrish secretary, Bertha Kodd executive board, Sylvia Konklin, Grace Partridge, Guy Witter, John McDonald and Hazel Tuister.

FRANKLIN SCHOOL.

The Franklin school exercises began at 1:30 and included selections by the school orchestra, songs by choristers of various classes and addresses by Katherine Branstadt, Agnes Aldeen, Stella Buechele, Evangeline Rocha, Alphonse Anderson, Alexander Marshall, Alphonse Van Hulle. Class President Arthur Carlson and Health Officer Dr. J. J. Benton. The graduating class had prepared a school paper with a hand-decorated cover. Ethel Johnston acted as editor of the paper and Chester Johnson business manager. The associated editors were Stella Favio, Mildred Ostrom, Gladys Head, Edwin Johnson, May Lippincott, George Sauer and Katherine Walt.

The Lincoln school also held an elaborate program in the auditorium of the school this morning, when addresses were delivered by members of the graduating class. Instrumental and vocal selections were rendered.

At the McKinley and Whittier schools closing exercises were conducted by individual classes. At Hillside school the classes joined in the exercises, to which parents were invited.

DEMAND SAFETY FROM AUTOMOBILES

Fruitvale Residents Make Demand From the Common Council.

FRUITVALE, Dec. 21.—A resolution requesting the city council to erect a safety station at the corner of East Fourteenth street and Fruitvale avenue, the main transfer point of Fruitvale or the annexed district and the scene of many serious accidents, was drawn up at the meeting of the Fruitvale Board of Trade last night. In the busy part of the evening with the street cars passing every two minutes and the rush of wagons, automobiles and motorcycles, to cross the street is a very risky matter. Only recently a little girl was killed at the corner by a passing automobile.

The board also decided to request the Board of Public Works to bituminize East Fourteenth street from Fruitvale to Liese avenue, and Fruitvale avenue from the Southern Pacific depot to the foothills. It is probable that East Fourteenth street will be graded from Fruitvale avenue to the block west so as to have a good street in front of the postoffice and library.

WIFE GIVEN DIVORCE FROM CRUEL HUSBAND

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 21.—Charging that her husband made a practice of coming home at midnight and driving her and her two children out in the cold, in their night clothing, Mrs. Ella Nash was granted a divorce from Charles A. Nash, a painter at the Presidio, this morning. She testified that one one occasion a special police officer had to come to rescue her from the cruelty of her spouse.

GIVEN THIRTY DAYS FOR THEFT OF SUIT

ALAMEDA, Dec. 21.—John F. Thompson, who was arrested Monday in San Francisco by Detective William Wahmuth and Police Sergeant Al Kamp on a charge of petit larceny, was sentenced to 30 days in the county jail by Police Judge Tappan. Thompson was convicted of stealing a suit of clothes from M. Nelson, a sailor.

VOTE ON SCHOOL BONDS IN SPRING

Proposed Berkeley Issue Will Not Be Decided at Polls Until May.

BERKELEY, Dec. 21.—At last night's meeting of the board of education communications were read from two joint committees of parents' associations and mothers' clubs, one in the southwestern section of this city and the other in the southeastern, both advocating the purchase of sites for the erection of new introductory high schools, and the sentiment was expressed by their representatives and also by the board that it would be advisable to postpone the proposed bond issue until May in order to allow time for all citizens of the municipality to become conversant with the needs of the school department, rather than to rush the matter to a conclusion at the polls in February and risk failure. The question was referred to the committee of the whole.

Through the initiative of representative citizens in the northeastern and southwestern sections of the city, the board at last night's meeting took under advisement a proposition which will undoubtedly go far toward meeting the future need if it is finally carried through. The proposal is to purchase a block of land in the southeastern section at a point central to the McKinley, the Emerson and the Le Conte schools, and erect thereon a building suitable for housing the upper grades of these schools.

PROPOSE ACTION.

Furthermore, it is proposed that the same action be taken relative to the section in the southwest through the purchase of a site and the erection of a building central to the Washington, the Lincoln, the Hawthorne, and the Longfellow schools. Such provision, together with the building of an assembly hall at the Franklin school, which is at a point central to the northwestern section, and making a similar provision at the Whittier school, which is likewise at a point central to the northeastern section would, so far as buildings and rooms are concerned, place the department in a satisfactory situation with respect to the future growth of the city for this would give in each school a few unoccupied rooms which could be utilized as the population increases without resorting to occupying basements and such makeshifts as the board has been forced to in the past.

The board of education also has under consideration the building of a gymnasium on the site of the upper high school which has been strongly urged by the Parents' association of the school and also the question of the removal of the present Hillside school to a point somewhat farther to the west and north in order that there may be secured sufficient playground space for the children of the same.

SUPPORT COMMISSION.

The board has already taken action supporting the playground commission in its desire to secure playgrounds in the immediate vicinity of the present school sites.

The Home Telephone company's representative presented to the directors a second proposition to equip the school department with a system of telephones having connections similar to those provided by the Pacific States company, or different if desired, the installation and maintenance to cost the board nothing, since the telephones used would be a portion of the 52 allowed the city free as a part of the original agreement. A decision at the present time was urged on account of the necessity of the company's officials knowing in advance what to count upon in distributing and inaugurating new apparatus now stored at headquarters. The matter was referred to Superintendent Bunker and Superintendent Young for action, the former being absent from the city and the board not wishing to decide the question without his final opinion.

Among other matters considered was a request from the Jefferson School Mothers' club for the sum of $50 to help pay for the tennis court the organization is making in the school yard. This was referred to the schoolhouses and sites committee. The sum of $60 was voted to replace a defective sewer at the Washington school and the sum of $75 for flooring two basement rooms at the same institution to fit them for use as classrooms.

Warrants were ordered drawn for half a month's pay to be given in advance to the office force of the school department and the janitors, in recognition of the Christmas season.

RED CROSS FILM TO BE SHOWN IN BERKELEY

BERKELEY, Dec. 21. — "The Red Cross Seal," the film originated by the Edison Manufacturing Company working in conjunction with the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis, and the American National Red Cross, to be exhibited in moving picture shows to fight tuberculosis, will be shown a second time Thursday afternoon and evening in a local theater.

The film was first shown here December 16 simultaneously with duplicates in all parts of the United States. It met with so much acceptance by the audience that the management was induced to put the film on again.

BERKELEY BOARD OF TRADE ELECTS OFFICERS

BERKELEY, Dec. 21.—The newly-organized board of trade has elected the following officers: President, A. H. Herrmann; vice-president, O. W. H. Pratt; secretary, Charles Green; treasurer, E. M. Hills; directors—Dr. H. N. Rowell, Roger C. Nissen, Robert M. Dibble, Noah N. Gray, E. E. Rathke, Captain H. R. Oakley and Dr. W. H. Wadsworth.

At the last meeting it was voted that the officers of the board visit the progress and prosperity committee in Oakland the first Friday in January. It was also voted that the manufacturers be interviewed in the effort to have their traveling salesmen register from Berkeley instead of San Francisco.

CENTER STREET TO HAVE ELECTROLIERS

City Council of Berkeley Provides for Supplying Current for Illumination.

BERKELEY, Dec. 21.—Electroliers will gleam in Center street from Oxford to Shattuck avenue in Berkeley as soon as the lamps can be installed.

This was settled by vote of the city council this morning, when a resolution was adopted providing for supplying electric current for these lights. The matter was presented to the council by a committee of citizens composed of G. A. Griesche, president of the Merchants' Exchange; Wells Drury, secretary of the chamber of commerce; Don M. Roberts, Marshall Steel, Alex J. McDonald, M. Fink and Robert Baird. It was shown that all the property owners, with the exception of one person representing fifty feet, had signed up, agreeing to place ten lamps in the street, and that the business men of that thoroughfare had given a guaranty for the part not actually signed. Mayor Hodghead and Councilmen McClure, Berry, Hoff and Norton agreed unanimously that Center street is entitled to this recognition. It was agreed that if at any time it shall be necessary to shut off or curtail the current on account of scarcity of funds, the council shall have the privilege of taking this measure. It was understood, however, that in such an event only alternate lamps would be darkened, and property owners would be permitted to provide the current if they so desire. It is thought that there will be no necessity for such economy, but it was deemed wise to provide against a contingency which might have to be met in the future.

ELKS TO MAKE MERRY ABOUT BIG XMAS TREE

ALAMEDA, Dec. 21.—The Elks will hold their Christmas jinks next Monday night when they will have a monster Christmas tree for the members of the lodge. Santa Claus will be on hand to distribute gifts, but just who will impersonate the jolly saint is a secret. The Elks quartette, Al Newman, Will Varcoe, Arthur Morgenstern and Chester Kelly, will furnish the entertainment for the occasion.

Monday afternoon, December 26, weather permitting, the Alameda Elks will play the Oakland Elks the baseball game so long postponed on account of rain. The game will be played in Lincoln park in this city.

NEW COUNCILMAN IN ENCINAL CITY

Clark Spence Indorsed by the Council to Succeed Assemblyman-Elect Crosby.

ALAMEDA, Dec. 21.—Unanimous endorsement was given last night by the city council to the appointment by Mayor Noy of Clark Spence of 1341 Weber street as a member of the city council, to succeed Councilman Sumner Crosby, assemblyman-elect from this district. Spence will take office January 1, at which time Crosby's resignation takes effect. Spence is a prominent resident of the city and his appointment meets with general approval throughout the city, and particularly in the ward he is to represent, the Sixth.

Councilman Crosby took occasion last night to bid farewell to the council, it being the last meeting he will attend as a city official. He said:

"As this is the last meeting I shall attend I wish to express to the Mayor, the members of the council and the city officials, my heartfelt thanks for the courteous manner in which they have treated me during my administration. I shall always have sweet recollections of my service as a city councilman. I am certain that the first Noy administration will prove to be the best that the city has ever had and probably ever will have. I have no doubt but what there will be a second Noy administration.

"Even though I sever my official connection with the council, I shall ever feel that I am a member of it and when I go to Sacramento I want to be guided by the members of this body so that I will know what is wanted and what is needed most."

MAYOR REPLIES.

Mayor Noy replied to Councilman Crosby, saying:

"In Sumner Crosby's election to the assembly I know that we will have a representative in the legislature upon whom we can rely to look after our interests. We highly appreciate the honor that has been bestowed upon him by the people.

"In regard to the Noy administration I wish to say that it is not easy for a man in the ordinary walk of life to fill the office of Mayor, and he must fit himself to the position as he goes along. I have endeavored to do my best."

BISHOP TO VISIT BERKELEY WITH BRIDE

BERKELEY, Dec. 21. — According to advices received from Salt Lake City, Richard E. Bishop, a former resident of this city and well known in civil and athletic circles, will visit Berkeley with his bride, a Salt Lake City girl, to spend the holidays with his parents on Virginia street.

Bishop has been away from this city for nearly five years, and in consequence his host of friends are eagerly anticipating his return.

LANDMARK WILL NOT BE MOVED

Historic Structure in Berkeley to Be Torn Down in Course of Progress.

BERKELEY, Dec. 21.—The city council this morning refused to permit the removal of a historic frame building from the northeast corner of Shattuck avenue and Haste street to the corner of Dwight way and McKinley avenue. The structure, which has long been regarded as a landmark, was once the property of Mrs. M. Townsend, but is now owned by the Hadin & Boone company. The council refused to grant a permit for moving the old building, as but one out of four interested property owners in the proposed new location signed the petition agreeing to the placing of the structure there.

The councilmen were of the opinion that the corner should be improved to better advantage, and that the old structure would be an eyesore.

This building twenty years ago was the cause of a long and bitter dispute between Mrs. Townsend on one side and the town of Berkeley and the Southern Pacific company on the other. The railway company had secured from the city a franchise on Shattuck avenue, but Mrs. Townsend refused to move her house, which at that time was in the path of the proposed track, and enforced her arguments with a double-barreled shotgun.

By a ruse Marshal George Smith induced Mrs. Townsend to leave the house one evening, and in her absence he had the building moved to its present location and the track laid.

The two-story structure will now be torn down to make room for a brick two-story building at Shattuck avenue and Haste street, to be erected by Enoch Morrill. It will be devoted to stores, apartments and a moving picture showhouse.

PLAN TO EXPAND CITY'S SCHOOLS

Board of Education Will Consider Bonding Project and New Sites.

BERKELEY, Dec. 20.—The board of education is considering probable future demands on the facilities of the school department, with a view to recommending bonding the city to meet any emergency. The department would be able, by making some additions to the McKinley and Washington schools, to meet any demands for a year.

Through the initiative of citizens in the southeastern and southwestern sections of the city the board of education tonight will consider purchasing a block of land at a point central to the McKinley, Emerson and Le Conte schools to erect a building for the upper grades of these schools.

It also will consider purchasing a site for a building central to the Washington, Lincoln, Hawthorne and Longfellow schools.

TWENTY BIRDS WILL BE GIVEN BY CORPS

ALAMEDA, Dec. 21.—The drum corps of Alameda Aerie No. 1076, Fraternal Order of Eagles, will hold a stag whist tournament tomorrow evening at Woodman hall on Park street. The corps has a large number of prizes, consisting of ten turkeys and ten chickens. The tickets are going rapidly and any who desire to play should secure reservations at once.

Alameda Personals

ALAMEDA, Dec. 21.—Mrs. Edwin Deane White of Petaluma is spending the winter months in this city, being the guest of her husband's mother, Mrs. A. D. White of Lincoln avenue.

Judge Ellsworth will preside at a Christmas dinner at his home on Central avenue Sunday and among those who will share his hospitality are Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Burrell, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Burrell, Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Correlvou, Miss Marjorie Burrell, Miss Ada Burrell, Thomas Bacon and Mr. and Mrs. John Bacon.

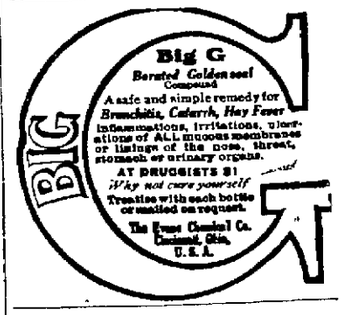

Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland Steele have removed to their new home on Central avenue near Fountain street.

Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Healy have removed from 2214 San Jose avenue to 1203 Walnut street.

Miss Mary Brown, a teacher in the local school department, has returned from a visit of several months in the south.

Mrs. Robert Olsen and her two sons, Ellen and Edward, are now residing at 1707 Eagle avenue. Their home is in Glenn county.

KNIGHT OF THE PIGSKIN WAS IN SULKY MOOD

Jockey Angered by Reprimand for Peculiar Ride in Oakland Handicap; Suspension Will Be of Indefinite Duration and May Be Permanent

As an aftermath to the manner in which Jockey Carroll Shilling left the Oakland track Monday afternoon failing to return yesterday to fill his riding engagements, because he was "miffed" to be reprimanded for some of his recent saddle work, the judges yesterday suspended him for an indefinite period. The rumor went forth early yesterday that his highness, the King of Pigskin artists, had sold all his riding accoutrements and taken to the woods. The reason for his sudden departure, it was reported, was that he was peeved because the judges reprimanded him for the shady looking ride he gave Chester Krum in the Oakland handicap Saturday, and that he resented the manner in which they suggested to the "star" pilot the manner in which he should ride Jim Gaffney in the mile event yesterday. He felt that because of his reputation as the champion jockey of the day, too much was expected of him, and because of his failure to bring some of the mounts that the spectators thought he should bring score with, brought unjust criticism upon him. So, like the offended, temperamental prima donna, he disposed of his goods and chattels, quit the show and hied him to the woods, fox hunting, it is said. After a few days passed in the wilderness, when he has recovered his lost temper, he will visit his home in Paris, Texas, for a time, and his friends state that before the decree of suspension was handed down, he intended to return after the first of the year to ride the two-year-olds of A. B. Spreckels.

There have been many complaints made by the followers of Shilling about the ride on Chester Krum Saturday, some of which reached the ears of the powers that be, and when the price on Jim Gaffney began to recede, they waited upon him on the paddock and advised him to ride his mount out in front and ride for his life all the way. This, apparently, he did, but was beaten in the last jump by Arasee. His defeat and the reflection of his honesty and ability to ride, grieved the famous rider, and in a sulky mood he vacated. For this he incurred the greater displeasure of the judges, who when they discovered he had left without filling his engagement, suspended him indefinitely.

The loss of Shilling will be keenly felt by racegoers and horse-owners alike, as he undoubtedly is the best rider in the country of the present day and has, by dint of hard riding, fairly "lifted" many winners right over the wire in a close finish. His career has been a spectacular one, having been in the limelight many times.

He has ridden for all the big stables in the country, including millionaire Thomas whom he stabbed last year, badly injuring him but never being prosecuted. He also rode for Sam Hildreth, and the latter horseman claims he is even a greater rider than the famous

EFFORTS TO BRING RACER BACK INTO FOLD ARE TO BE MADE

SENTIMENT FELT FAVORING REINSTATEMENT OF OLDFIELD

"Crime" of Racing With Negro Laughed at by Auto Experts, Who Point to Record of "Dare-Devil" as Worthy of Reward; Hogan to Meet Burns

By EDDIE SMITH

From the date of the suspension of Barney Oldfield, king of the automobile drivers, by the American Automobile Association for competing with Jack Johnson in a match race, it has been felt that at the proper time he would be reinstated.

The fact that he had committed no very serious crime against the association and perhaps had done the game a great deal of good, was thought to be sufficient reason for his being taken back in the fold, but at this time it would seem that a determined effort is to be made to keep the dare devil Barney out of the game. Some have said that this is due to the fact that he is so far superior to all others in the track racing game that the makers of certain cars want him kept out of the racing game.

OLDFIELD'S OFFENSE.

For our part we are not going to believe any such thing until the time comes when it is proved to us that there are dealers in the country who would scheme against the one man who has done more than any other to put the game where it is today. The crime for which Oldfield must suffer is the racing with a black man after the automobile association refused to recognize colored drivers and more especially Jack Johnson.

In the first place it would seem that the man who can perform wonders with an automobile is entitled to recognition, be he black or white. It is anything but fair for any association to rule against men because of their color. The white man is responsible for colored folk being in this country and they should at least be given a square deal.

BRAINS AND DARING.

Brains and daring should be recognized in men, no matter what their color, and for that reason Oldfield cannot be blamed for recognizing in Johnson a dangerous competitor in the racing game if he was to be allowed to go along picking up courage and experience in his daily practices. Oldfield said after the race with Johnson that he had accepted the challenge from the black man and had defied the association for sole purpose of putting Johnson out of the game. He said at the time if Jeffries had done as he did and took Johnson on in his early career the boxing game would not now be ruled by a black man. Who will say that Barney is not right?

There was just as much chance of Johnson some day being the big show with the automobile drivers and had it not been for the everlasting beating that Oldfield gave him he would still be going about the country telling thousands of people that the drivers of automobiles were afraid of him. He would have made all sorts of four-flush offers of side bets and would have injured the standing of the game a great deal more than perhaps some people imagine. To my way of thinking, and the way of many thousands of other people, Oldfield did just the right thing at just the right time. Men of the intelligence of the racing association should be above the race prejudice pest anyhow and if for no other reason than that they wanted to keep the colored men down they should reinstate the one man who was game enough to take Johnson on and give him a good beating.

ABILITY COUNTS.

Ability should also be recognized in Oldfield. Barney was the first race driver of automobiles who attained international fame. With the coming of the speed wagons Barney started. Ever since that time he has been heralded as the king of the track drivers and he has done much to earn the title. Just stop for one moment and ponder over the wonderful nerve of this man. Drivers have become great and have passed from the game by the hundreds, while this man has remained great and is today better than ever. The reason for the passing of the hundred who have tried for his place is loss of nerve. There is no other excuse, only in the case of injury that has incapacitated the driver. Oldfield is as steady of nerve as ever and to the racing game he is what Johnson is to the boxing game and Paderewski is to the piano.

The racing game needs Oldfield and he should certainly be reinstated by the association. It is a narrow piece of business, this ruling against a man simply because he has raced with a colored driver when the association refused to recognize him or sanction the race, especially when it is remembered that Oldfield had accepted the challenge prior to the ruling of the association and to have run out would be give the people a chance to say that he was afraid of Johnson.

WANTS CHALLENGES.

With the New Year's day a thing of the past Walter Brayne, manager for Jack Hogan says that he will be ready to consider any challenges that may be made for matches with his young champion. This will evidently mean that Frankie Burns and "One Round" Jack Hogan will be the first attraction for the new year. Jim Griffin will have the first permit and he has already said that Burns will be one of the principles of his show. If Hogan is willing to take another chance with Burns his will mean that the pair will be matched. If this be the case, Griffin can feel that he has a good card for his show for the boys are sure to draw well.

Frayne is evidently not going to pay much attention to the challenge of LaGrave for he has roasted and toasted the butchertown lad from one end of town to the other and claims that the talk of the $1000 side bet that Antone is indulging in is all four-flush and stage money.

NOT TO BE DENIED.

LaGrave is not to be denied, however, and his manager, Sam Fitzpatrick, announced last evening that he would keep right on the heels of the ex-four-rounder until he either forced him into a match or made him confess that he had no desire to mix things with his charge.

Hogan will take a rest, have a good time over the holidays and be ready for the training camp the first of the year. This will mean that Griffin will be able to stage his show near the end of the month and that he will have the new star as one of the attractions. The fans all over the bay cities are boosting the new comer and if he can clean up on Burns and LaGrave he is sure to be a great card and moneymaker right here in California. There is no need of Hogan thinking of going away for he can be kept busy right in his own town if he can keep on winning.

WELSH MEETS DRISCOLL.

Freddie Welsh, the light-weight champion of England, and Jim Driscoll, feather-weight champion of England and one of the few men who has ever bested the clever Abe Attell, met last evening at Cardiff, Wales, in a battle for the championship of England. Welsh had the better of the spiderly Driscoll some ten pounds and from the very start the weight told on the lighter man. Welsh had all the best of the early rounds of the contest and had put Driscoll down several times when the shadow gathered himself together and in making a stand during which he jabbed the heavier man up a bit he tired himself out and in his efforts to clinch and save himself he butted the light-weight several times and Welsh was given the decision on a foul.

Welsh is too much for any of the feather weights, he did the same thing to Abe Attell in their fifteen-round bout at Los Angeles and could handle Owen Moran just as easily. Driscoll is a wonderfully clever fellow and in his class he is no doubt the king. It is too much for him to give away ten pounds, however, and he got just what his best friends expected he would when the match was made.

HOPE OF WHITE RACE.

Carl Moreys, the new hope of the white race won from Marvin Hart at Sapulpa, Okla., last evening in three rounds. Good for Carl. This may mean that the new 235-pound baby is going to be some pumpkins at the boxing game. Of course it doesn't take much of a fighter to beat Hart at this time but when a novice can down an experienced fellow like the man from Kentucky he must be considered among the young possibilities. From the very start Moreys had the best of the affair and in the third round the seconds of Hart threw up the sponge. That's more than we thought the new man could do and in the hope of developing him if he has the right stuff we hope that his managers will not force him along too fast.

Kid Cotton, the colored giant who helped Johnson train for the Jeffries contest, met and defeated Walter Monahan another of the sparring partners last evening at Pittsburg. Johnson and Cotton fell out for some reason or other and it was with the hope of getting even that Johnson matched Monahan whom he has been coaching for some time with Cotton. Johnson was in the corner of the white man but Cotton had things so easy with Walter that he put in his time kidding the champion. The kidding almost brought Johnson and Cotton to blows after the scrap.

Corinthian Yacht Club Is Preparing to Build at Tiburon

The plans of the proposed building were on exhibition and the architects, who were present explained that to carry them out fully would cost $25,000.

There were a hundred members present when Commodore W. J. Hogg called the meeting to order. Chairman Harry D. Hawks of the building committee submitted the different propositions which the board of directors and the building committee had considered as feasible. After a lengthy discussion, in which a large proportion of the members took part it was finally decided that the meeting recommended that the by-laws be amended so that an additional amount of dues be levied, the proceeds of the new levy to be used solely as a building fund.

The secretary was instructed to ask for a mail vote of the members as a two-thirds majority is necessary to amend the by-laws. All the members present were in favor of the scheme of increasing the dues instead of levying an assessment, and the officers of the club feel certain that the club will vote for the amendment. Many of those at the meeting expressed their willingness to pay all or part of the proposed additional dues in advance, and the directors are sanguine that if this method of raising the money is adopted by the club there will be enough money in the treasury at the close of next season to start building.

The nominating committee of the Corinthian Yacht Club, consisting of Clarkson Swain, W. F. Stone and Fred Webster, has named the ticket to be voted on at the annual meeting of the club next Wednesday in January. The ticket was posted at the clubhouse yesterday as follows:

Commodore William J. Hogg, sloop Meteor; vice-commodore, Ed Conver, sloop Mischief; port captain, John H. Keefe, secretary, H. W. Westerfeld, treasurer, Charles P. Morel; directors in addition to the officers, H. E. Picker, sloop Harpoon, and J. H. Campbell, sloop Queen; Regatta committee, W. A. Barlage, W. B. Coates and George Lux.

Bowlers Are Practicing For Scheduled Matches

Members of the Oakland Traction duckpin team appeared at the Oakland bowling alleys last night for a practice match game in duck pins.

All the members and substitutes divided into four on each side as follows: Boardman, Ropaugh, J. Lang, Anderson and Cunningham, Rodgers, L. Davies and E. Lang.

From a logical standpoint it was a lively and enthusiastic contest from start to finish. Besides it gave the members a good tryout for the coming matched games. A very pleasant evening was passed and, although no extra high scores were made, the game was spirited and full of ginger.

Four games were played in all and the former managed to capture three of them. Canning substituted for Anderson in the last game and Lang rolled for Owens in the last two games. The following score is officially recorded:

| | | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| Boardman | 64 | 71 | 68 | 93 |
| Ropaugh | 57 | 52 | 63 | 86 |
| J. Lang | 86 | 81 | 101 | 92 |
| Anderson | 75 | 71 | 71 | |
| Canning | .. | .. | .. | 66 |
| Total | 282 | 275 | 303 | 357 |
| Cunningham | 66 | 86 | 74 | 73 |
| Rodgers | 68 | 78 | 65 | 68 |
| L. Davies | 71 | 80 | 109 | 90 |
| E. Lang | .. | .. | 72 | 69 |
| Owens | 76 | 78 | .. | .. |
| Total | 281 | 322 | 360 | 298 |

As soon as they get into shape it is their intention to submit a challenge to the Auditorium, Ends, Odds and other duckpin teams.

The first will probably be played on these alleys some time next week, taking the Auditoriums into camp.

The team is composed of J. Lang, captain, Canning, Ropaugh, Davies and Anderson; substitutes, Boardman, E. Lang, Owens and Cunningham.

S. H. Bates, the star ten-pin bowler dropped in last night for a little exercise and during the progress of his playing surprised the boys by running up a score of 247 pins in one of his games and making an average of 178 in nine consecutive games.

CORNELL FOOTBALL CAPTAIN.

FREDDIE WELCH WINS FAT PURSE

CARDIFF, Wales, Dec. 21. — Freddie Welch, the lightweight champion of England, won his fight with Jim Driscoll, the featherweight champion, in the tenth round last night on a foul.

The fight was a twenty-round match for a purse of $12,500, the largest ever put up in Great Britain for featherweights.

Several thousand persons witnessed the bout and, notwithstanding the betting favored Welch, the spectators were greatly disappointed with the contest when it came to an unexpected end, due to Driscoll hitting his opponent under the chin with his head.

Welch, besides being five years younger than Driscoll, had the advantage of weight and reach. His blows were heavier than those of the featherweight and he showed he was able to take more punishment.

In the first round Driscoll had the advantage in points, but in the second Welch landed several hard blows and his extra weight, ten pounds, began to tell. In the fourth he sent Driscoll to his knees and the betting went from 2 to 1 to 5 to 1 in his favor.

The lightweight champion inflicted several damaging kidney punches in the seventh, but in the next round Driscoll got home a couple of hard lefts. He followed this up with a game exhibition throughout the ninth, honors being even. It was seen in the tenth, however, that Driscoll was fast tiring. In one of the clinches he persistently butted his opponent and the referee finally disqualified him.

The seconds jumped into the ring and promptly came to clinches. Some blows were struck and it was with difficulty that the police dragged the warring partisans apart.

The winner took 60 per cent of the purse and the loser 40.

Yale Is Without Baseball Coach

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Dec. 21. — Without a baseball coach for next season, Yale closed yesterday for its winter vacation.

The delay in naming the coach has been caused by correspondence between Yale and Harvard over the professional coach system. Harvard called Yale's attention to evils that were believed to have crept into the system and the question of substituting graduate coaches was discussed.

It is now believed that professional coaches will be retained in both universities and that "Mal" Lauder, the former New York National player, will be coach at Harvard, and that Luah, who has coached Yale's nines for five years, will return to them.

RUSSIAN WRESTLER WINS.

FREMONT, Neb., Dec. 21. — In straight falls in five and three minutes, respectively, George Hackenschmidt, the Russian wrestler, last night won from C. O. Rusch, the Montana giant.

HART IS BEATEN BY MORRIS IN 3 ROUNDS

SAPULPA, Okla., Dec. 21. — Carl Morris, of Sapulpa, Okla., heralded as the white man's hope, knocked out Marvin Hart of Kentucky, former heavyweight champion of the world, in the third round here tonight.

In the second, Morris' hard drives to the mouth had Hart groggy, and he continually clinched to save himself. They were clinched when the gong sounded at the end of the second round and Hart was clearly in great distress.

Groggy and weakened by the terrific blows on the jaw and the continual hammering on the kidneys, the old champion could scarcely rise from his chair when the third round was called.

Chicago Team Will Not Play the Century

All hopes of the Century Club to secure a game with the famous Oak Park High School football team of Chicago, now on its way to the coast to play several teams in Oregon and Washington, were blasted when they received the following telegram:

"Oak Park, Ills., Dec. 20, 1910.

"J. C. HANNA."

The high school boys have to report for the new school term Jan. 5, so that they could not possibly arrange a game for this reason.

Oakland Women Have Taken Up the Sport of Bowling

Encouraged by the success of a few in mastering the game, Oakland women have taken to bowling as the accepted winter game, both for the amusement and the exercise it affords, and with so many of them now adopting it Oakland promises to develop some champion women bowlers.

Where at the beginning of the season only two or three played the game as an occasional diversion, the number of women bowlers in the city has grown recently to fifty or more and a plan is now on foot to organize regular teams and form them into a local women's bowling league.

The most enthusiastic woman bowler of the city, and whose playing has done much to inspire others to take up the sport, is Mrs. A. Weber. Within a few weeks she has mastered the game, and is now making scores in both duck and ten pins that shows her to be in a class with the leading men bowlers of the city. She is the leading spirit in a team of women bowlers who play almost nightly at the Bowling Auditorium, 564 Thirteenth street, and with other women is making an effort to organize a women's bowling league.

So popular has the game become among women that managers of local alleys find it necessary to devote one or more alleys for their exclusive use, and this is being done in the better alleys of the city. One alley, where the greater number of women play, already has set apart two alleys for women's use and more than a dozen fair young women can be seen there nightly.

The plans for the women's bowling league are in their initial stage and the league probably will not be perfected until a few more teams are organized. It is the hope of Mrs. Weber to get at least four teams in the league, and that many probably will be playing in good form in a few weeks if the popularity of the game continues.

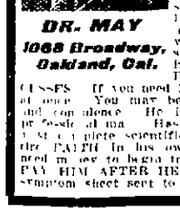

Women's bowling leagues are not uncommon in eastern cities. Denver is credited with having some of the leading women bowlers of the country. The city supports an alley where women only play, while every other bowling establishment maintains a women's department. It is the leading women's indoor game, and has more followers than any other winter sport, not excepting basket ball. College girls and young society women are among the devotees. Recently one of the teams made a tour east, winning over the strongest women's clubs in that section.

DEATH OF PIONEER EDITOR OF STATE

Alexander D. Bell Dies at Sanitarium After Illness of Long Duration.

ALAMEDA, Dec. 21.—Alexander D. Bell, father of Alexander G. Bell, a prominent resident of this city, died today at the Harrison sanitarium after an illness of several years. Bell was a prominent newspaperman in San Francisco in the sixties and later conducted several trade journals across the bay. He was a native of England and 84 years of age.

Bell was at one time a secretary of the Metropolitan Gas company of San Francisco and a director in the Consolidated Tobacco company.

While editorial writer on a San Francisco daily, he was instrumental in having Golden Gate park made its present size. The original bill setting aside the park was for 160 acres, but Bell advised that it be made larger, and it was so ordered. Bell is survived by his widow and three sons, Alexander G. Bell, William I. Bell, manager of the Fulton Engine company of Los Angeles, and Arthur F. L. Bell, field manager of the Associated Oil company.

ALAMEDA, Dec. 21.—Captain Abner Stetson Gammans, a retired master mariner who sailed the seas for fifty years died this morning at his home, 2301 San Antonio avenue, this city. Captain Gammans was born in Maine and was 71 years of age. He retired from active life ten years ago and settled in this city. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Sarah Gammans; a son, Dr. W. E. Gammans, a dentist in this city, and a daughter, Mrs. Emma Lund of Chico, Cal.

The funeral will be held Friday morning at 9 o'clock from the undertaking parlors of Smiley & Gallagher. Rev. Willsie M. Martin, pastor of the First Methodist church, will preside. The remains will be incinerated in the Oakland crematory.

FISHERMEN ON TRIAL FOR ALLEGED MURDER

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 21. — Pietro Patronia and Vincenzo Rendezzo were placed on trial before Superior Judge Cabaniss today for the murder in August last of Mariano Balestrieri.

The killing was the outcome of a riot on Fishermen's wharf and the two men were captured by the clever work of Sam Balestrieri, a cousin of the deceased, who tracked them through the Italian quarter, and after locating them summoned the police.

A jury was sworn to try the case today. Attorney Carroll Cook has been retained by the defendants and Attorney Louis Ferrari has been retained as special prosecutor by the family of the dead man.

HUSBAND FAILS TO TREAT WIFE KINDLY

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 21.—Mrs. Lydia Heller appeared before Superior Judge Cabaniss for the third time this morning in connection with divorce troubles between herself and her husband, George F. Heller, a carpenter, to whom she was married August 5, 1905. A year ago the court granted her an interlocutory decree. Two months since she appeared in company with her spouse and said he had returned to her and desired that no final separation be granted. Judge Cabaniss therefore set aside his decision. Today Mrs. Heller tearfully testified that her spouse had been again abusing her and treating her cruelly and for the second time obtained a separation.

BURGLAR PLACED ON FIVE YEARS' PROBATION

Samuel T. Baker, a peddler, was placed on probation for five years this morning by Superior Judge Brown. He pleaded guilty to burglary in the second degree, having stolen some jewelry from the home of Selma Alasaari, 770½ Forty-sixth street, and pawned it for $6.50.

THUGS ROB HIM.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 21.—John Bethurd, of 143 Perry street, was held up and robbed by two men with revolvers early this morning near his home, the thugs taking $19 in cash.

SOCIAL THRONG AT TRIAL OF 'COUNT' DE GATIGNY

Bogus Noble Shouts "Liar!" at Those Who Doubt His Word.

TOURS, France, Dec. 21.—The examination of "Count" D'Aulby De Gatigny was continued by Judge Roberts today at the resumption of the trial of D'Aulby and his American wife on the charge of having swindled the Duchess of Choiseul-Praslin in the sale of spurious pictures during the life of her former husband, Charles Hamilton Paine, of Boston.

D'Aulby's defense, so far as indicated, is that in fitting the galleries of Mrs. Paine's home in the Avenue Bois de Boulogne with works of art and stocking the cellar with wines, he acted in good faith as the confidential agent of Mrs. Paine.

FASHIONABLES PRESENT.

The courtroom was again thronged with the fashionable set. D'Aulby, gay and debonaire, folded his arms as he faced the judge and counsel and blithly responded to their questions, insisting that he believed he had a right to the title of Count.

He declared he had never claimed that the pictures sold to the Paines were genuine masterpieces, but had allowed them to be authenticated by American experts and by American newspapers, which had suggested that the works in question be exhibited at the Metropolitan Museum in New York City.

HARRIMAN INTERESTED.

He added that even the late E. H. Harriman had been interested in his offerings and had manifested a desire to deal with him.

D'Aulby said that among the New York experts who had praised his pictures was the late Henry Gurden Marquand, who was president of the Metropolitan Museum of Art.

Subsequently the defendant admitted, amid the hilarity of the spectators, that the only other experts who had passed on his wares were "unfortunately dead."

INSISTS ON LETTER.

The accused insisted that he had received a letter from Paine shortly before his death, in Boston, "following the sensational letter incident," reaffirming the writer's option to buy D'Aulby's pictures for $200,000.

Growing excited, D'Aulby shouted: "Those who say he never wrote this letter are liars."

Judge Roberts interposed:

HUBBY FORGIVES; WIFE GOES HOME

Mrs. Inger Miller, Who Eloped With Affinity, Returns to Spouse.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 21.—Forgiven by her husband for desertion and subsequent flight to this city with Thomas Ryan, Mrs. Inger Miller returned to her spouse in Los Angeles on an afternoon train. Stranded and without money, the woman appealed to Captain of Detectives Ryan last night, saying that she had been deserted by the man who had promised to furnish her here with a home. She consented to return to her husband provided he would wire her transportation, and spent the night in the city prison.

At noon today word was received from the southern metropolis that the ticket was at Third and Townsend street depot this city, and Mrs. Miller immediately departed.

DUCKS DISAPPEAR; DINNER DUCKLESS

Birds Take Mysterious Flight, Restaurant to Poultry Yard Land in Court.

Seven fat ducks in the icebox of a Broadway restaurant waited to be set before guests of Senator John W. Stetson yesterday in honor of his leaving the office of city attorney. When the time arrived they had to content themselves with other morsels of the culinary art, for the ducks had disappeared.

They came to light in the police court this morning. Judge Samuels was called upon to decide whether they were related to eighty-odd other members of the feathered variety found in their company in cold storage. Gustav Mann, proprietor of the restaurant was before the court to explain how he happened to harbor so many ducks.

Before the hour for the feast Warden E. M. McMillan, deputy state game warden, accompanied by Deputies W. J. Sedgley and J. J. Hoffman, took a peep into Mann's poultry and game exhibit. He issued complimentary tickets and turned over the keys to the establishment. Soon afterward he was surprised in the discovery of ninety-two ducks reposing in the chamber. He gave $25 bail.

Stetson appeared in court for the purpose to claim his ducks. Mann endeavored to segregate his game from that which he claimed not to own. He declared that often people left provisions with him and that such was probable in this case.

Stetson was instrumental in passing the act in the Legislature forbidding the possession at one time of more than twenty-five ducks of like game.

Fierce Battle Rages in Winnipeg Streets; Cars Damaged by Strikers and Friends.

WINNIPEG, Dec. 21.—Many street cars in different parts of the city were damaged by strikers and their sympathizers this morning.

At one of the car barns, where fifty strikers and their sympathizers made a demonstration, they were attacked by seventy-five strike-breakrs who used clubs and switch irons.

Big War Cruisers Begin Trip North

Jackies Are Being Paid Off to Celebrate Christmas Day in Port.

SAN DIEGO, Dec. 21.—With the departure of the cruisers West Virginia, California and Colorado from the harbor at noon the voyage of the Pacific armored cruiser fleet to San Francisco was begun. The three cruisers outside the bay joined their sister ships and in single line formation the fleet steamed north at cruising speed. The crews of the warships have been paid off and are looking forward to spending Christmas in San Francisco. Last evening the officers of the fleet, the British ship Shearwater and the revenue cutter Bear were entertained at a banquet.

EXPLOSION ALARMS CHRISTMAS SHOPPERS

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 21.—The blowing up of a manhole at Powell and Sutter streets at 2:15 this afternoon caused considerable excitement among holiday shoppers in the immediate neighborhood of the St. Francis Hotel, and was responsible for the sending out of the police automobile. No one was seriously hurt.

GOSSIP OF THE RING

CADILLAC, Mich., Dec. 21. — When shown the challenge issued to him by Owen Moran of England, Ad Wolgast, lightweight champion, said today:

"I will fight Moran for the championship and $5000 side bet within ninety days after the date of his challenge to me. The fight must not be less than forty-five rounds, or to a finish. The weight must be 133 pounds ringside, and my end of the purse must be not less than $12,500, regardless of the result.

"These are my conditions, and nothing will change them. I won't risk the championship against a lightweight of class in less than forty-five rounds. It makes no difference to me where the fight takes place."

Soon after Moran defeated Nelson Wolgast said he would meet the British fighter in May, but later changed the date to February, with a $12,500 guarantee.

BOSTON, Dec. 21. — Fighting the last seven rounds of a twelve-round bout with a broken hand, Hugo Kelly of Chicago made a whirlwind finish here last night and secured the decision over Frank Klaus of Pittsburg.

ST. JOSEPH, Dec. 21. — After fifteen rounds of the prettiest milling ever seen here, Jake Barade, of South St. Joseph, was last night awarded the decision over Tommy McFarland of San Francisco. This was McFarlan's first fight since he met Ad Wolgast last September, Wolgast breaking his arm.

PITTSBURG, Dec. 21. — Walter Monaghan of Chicago, protege of Champion Jack Johnson, in a six-round bout with "Kid" Cotton here last night, proved a disappointment to the fans and there was little in it to maintain interest.

St. Louis American League Club Has Changed Owners

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 21.—President B. B. Johnson of the American league has approved the transfer of the majority stock of the St. Louis American league club by Robert L. Hedges to E. M. Hodgman, Mark Ewing, Ben Adkins and others. This announcement was made by Adkins, one of the new owners.

Hedges will continue as president of the club until a meeting in January, at which a new set of officers will be elected, and a manager chosen for the forthcoming season.

The new owners decided to settle the claims of Jack O'Connor against the old directory. It was stated that the former manager will be retained with the team in some capacity yet to be determined upon next year.

O'Connor's claims are said to amount to nearly $5000.

CINCINNATI, Dec. 21.—Drafts by the Philadelphia American league team and the Pittsburg National league club of Catcher O'Neill of Elmira, N. Y., and Player Smith of Jacksonville, Fla., respectively, were upheld in a decision by the national baseball commission.

In each case the minor league is found to have released its player purposely for the sake of evading the draft, and the commission therefore punished the organizations by directing that the money treasuries of the New York State league for the drafted men be paid into the and the South Atlantic league.

FLOYD M'FARLAND WILL RIDE ON BICYCLE BUILT FOR TWO

NEW YORK, Dec. 21. — Floyd McFarland, one of the greatest bicycle riders in the history of the sport, was married in the Little Church Around the Corner Monday, following the big six-day race in Madison Square Garden. The news leaked out today.

Mildred Jolly of Norfolk, Va., is the bride of the elongated pedaler. In marrying Miss Jolly, McFarland broke all previous records as far as marital affairs of cyclists are concerned, as it was only during the long six-day grind that he met her.

McFarland is the richest bicyclist in the country, being reputed to be worth close to $250,000. He is 42 years old and has been in the cycling game twenty-two years. He is from San Jose, Cal.

McFarland and his bride left for Hot Springs, Ark., last Saturday. He intends to stay there two weeks and then go to his home in California, where he will introduce his bride to his relatives. He then plans to tour the world with her, racing in Australia and France in the meantime.

LYNCH WILL HAVE ABSOLUTE CONTROL OF HIS UMPIRES

NEW YORK, Dec. 21 — Thomas J. Lynch, president of the National League says he will exert absolute authority over his umpires as usual next season.

"I will engage the best umpires available and will handle them without fear or favor," said Lynch yesterday. "I have more than 200 applications for positions on the staff and I am taking my time about making appointments. In fact, I haven't the slightest idea when I will announce the list. The umpire question is a serious one and I have been studying it with great care since I came into this office a year ago."

McPherson Leading In Billiard Match

McPherson was in fine form last night in his three-cushion contest with Gilbert at the Oakland billiard parlors. Hard or easy, they all looked alike to him.

To Gilbert, the ivories were most tantalizing, rolling into awkward angles. Fully a dozen attempts were missed only by a hair's breadth.

The handicaps have turned out nicely, the players being bunched up so in the games won and lost that there is no telling how it will wind up, a most enviable condition in tournaments.

The inter-room relay pool match starts tonight at the Oakland parlor on Broadway. This promises to be a good game to watch, although the Broadway fans seem inclined to concede their opponents little chance to win. It was the same thing in a previous match. The first night showed Broadway leading by one point only, 150 to 149. The second night they increased by 300 to 277, but the third night they were undone. The Thirteenth-street team came through in a whirlwind rally and won, 450 to 446.

Now, the Broadways have the mighty Karns, and fine support in Landis and Roberts.

On the other hand, Donohue of the Thirteenth-street rivals is hard game for any one, and is capable of holding Karns near even. It will be up to Stanley and Reeder to run up a lead in the first two relays. All in all, they are well balanced. The finish will be seen at the parlors on Thirteenth street on Thursday night.

CHIT-CHAT OF PLAYERS.

George Pezet is practicing assiduously these days, and holding his own well. As one of the leaders in the tourney, he feels a little new to the three-cushion style of game. George has several trophies won in balk line and straight rail contests, but is willing to receive a few more.

B. H. Jones, another of the leaders, is also a very busy man these days. Between the cue, a Stradivarius and the telephone, Bert has established an endless chain of amusement.

St. Mary's Seniors Are the Champions

In the closing game the seniors won the championship in the interclass basket ball tournament at St. Mary's College yesterday afternoon by defeating the sophomores 6 to 5. The game was one of the fastest of the tourney. The seniors played in their usual form, winning in whirlwind fashion. Though behind in the first half, they started the second half in a manner that showed their rivals had no chance of winning. The victory places them in possession of the cup donated by the athletic association, for another year. The lineups:

Referee, McKeever; umpire, Leonhardt.

DALY DEFEATS DE ORO.

NEW YORK, Dec. 21. — John Daly, of Chicago, last night defeated Albert de Oro, of Cuba, in the first block of fifty points in their 150-point match for the world's three-cushion billiard championship. The score was: Daly 50, de oro 35.

De Oro played in poor form. His best run was 2, while Daly made high runs off 7, 5 and 3.

OAK PARK ON WAY.

CHICAGO, Dec. 21. — The Oak Park, Ills., high school football team, which is to play Seattle and Portland teams for the interscholastic championship of the west, left here last night. The team meets the Wenatche high school team at Seattle December 16 and the Washington high school team of Portland December 31.

Jockey Carroll Shilling instructed his valet yesterday to gather up his "tack" and get his other belongings ready for the evening train, as he was going to brush the Emeryville dust from his clothes and depart for his home in Paris, Tex. Shilling was "called down" by the stewards the other day for his ride on Jim Gaffney and Chester Krum. This "tilled" the king of jockeydom and he concluded to go home and think it over.

Brooklyn Club Will Give Century Battle

From reports received from the Brooklyn Club of San Francisco their football team is fast rounding into shape for their return game with the Century Club of Oakland at Grove street park at 2:30 p. m. Dec. 26 (Monday).

Pete Smith after the Thanksgiving game with the Century took hold of the Brooklyn boys and since then has been constantly coaching them. Several important changes have been made in their team lineup—Van Acker, the former varsity star and Brooklyn's coach, has gone into the position of fullback and is playing a fast and aggressive game. He is a great ground gainer for Brooklyn and they depend on him for a fine showing in the Century game on Dec. 26th.

The fans figure that the Brooklyns with their improved lineup will give the Century boys a harder game than the Winged V team did on Dec. 11, which Century won 15 to 3.

The Brooklyns will attend the game on the afternoon of the 26th with a large number of rooters, a brass band will be in attendance and the fans are assured of a speedy exhibition of the American football game.

TURF GOSSIP

(Cont. From Preceding Page.)

Tod Sloan. He won the futurity for Hildreth with his Novelty, when it was his horsemanship alone that earned the victory. In the same manner he has won purses here this season when he would hook up with other riders. If it was in the horse he surely would land him a winner.

He attracted considerable attention while riding in the south a couple of winters ago, but the race-going public always reposed the greatest confidence in his honesty and ability as a rider and learned with a great deal of regret of the regretable state of his case, and hope matters will be favorably adjusted and that he will be seen in the saddle in a short time.

* * *

Raleigh F. D. easily took the measure of the clever sprinters which strove for supremacy in the Satsuma handicap, which was the feature of the racing program at the Oakland race track yesterday afternoon. Martin had the leg up on the Ornament colt and, avoiding the early pace, sent him down the last part and, after a drive, got him in command and won with consummate ease. Arlonette ran a consistent race, was the contender throughout and outgamed Tern's Trick for the place. The latter, quoted at 40 to 1, led the field a merry pace for a time, but curled up badly when challenged, droping into third ospition.

One of the biggest cleanups of the meeting was made on the victory of Velshi in the opening race. As high as 12 to 1 could be had on the Van Gordan geldings, chanced when the betting first opened, but the continual influx of coin wagered by the stable connections and others in the know, brought his price down to 5 to 1 at post time. Glass put up a clever ride and brought the Orsini gelding under the wire by a safe margin at the end. Dolly V. B., a 60-to-1 chance, looked as though she might upset the gravy for a time, but dropped into second position ahead of Dutch Rock, the favorite.

Beatrice Soule, another well-played outsider, took the second sprint, which was also for 2-year-olds, winning in a driving finish from Media and Great Caesar. Tripping, the favorite, could not connect with any portion of the purse.

The third race resulted in a thrilling finish. Lord of the Forest took the lead at the start and after leading all the way just lasted long enough to defeat the fast-coming Emma G. Bambro held on and beat Captain John, the favorite, for the show. The latter ran a dismal race, in direct contrast to his brilliant effort of Saturday.

Sepulveda proved a good repeater, taking the fifth race with ease from the field which opposed him. He was heavily played at even money. Sake ran a consistent race, outgaming Captain Burnett by a head for the place.

Arthur Hyman proved the surprise in the final event, winning by a scant head from Lisato, which the talent chose to elect as favorite. Combury set a fast pace for a time, but in the run for home was beaten for the show by Sir Fretful.

WEALTHY WIDOW IS BRIDE OF PHYSICIAN

Mrs. F. S. Johnson of Menlo Park Became Wife of Dr. James W. Ward.

SAN FRANCISCO Dec 21—Friends of Dr James W Ward former president of the Board of Health were surprised to learn last night of his secret marriage to Mrs F S Johnson a wealthy widow of Menlo Park whom he met during her frequent visits at the Fairmont Hotel where Dr Ward is resident physician.

Dr Ward who is also president of the American Institute of Homeopathy and head of the Hahnemann Hospital is now in Milwaukee with his bride. Messages of congratulation were sent to him yesterday by Charles Cook manager of the Fairmont and such other of the doctor's friends who had been let into the secret.

Two years ago Dr Ward was divorced from his first wife on technical grounds of desertion, the wife Dr Florence N Ward having been given the custody of the two children. For their care Dr Ward deeded to her property valued at that time at $150,000.

RAIN AFFECTS WHEAT MARKET

Weakness Is Emphasized by Bearish News From Russia and Argentine.

CHICAGO Dec 21—Rain in Kansas today emphasized wheat weakness which started on disappointing cable quotations and bearish news from Russia and the Argentine.

The opening was ⅛@¼c to ⅜c down. May started at ¼c to 96c a loss of ⅛@¼c to ⅜c and fell to 9 ½c.

With many points in Kansas reporting rain sleet the market weakened still further. The close was easy with May at 95½@95⅝c a net loss of ⅝c.

May corn opened a shade to ⅛c higher at 47½c to 47⅝c touched 47⅜@47¼c and advanced to 47⅝c.

Reports that owing to the drought in the Argentine the outlook for corn there was becoming less favorable kept the market here steady. The close was a shade off at 47⅝c for May.

Oats were rather slow. After starting ⅛c higher at 34⅛c for May there was a reaction to 34c.

Provisions advanced sharply on active buying. Commission houses were good sellers on the bulge. First sales showed a gain of 7c to 27½c with May options at $18 30 to $18 00 for pork $10 25 to $10 30 for lard and $10 80 to $0 87½ for ribs.

CHICAGO Dec 21—The Inter Ocean says: Wheat bears last night looked upon the advance as largely muscular. They said that the bull leaders had bought through a new set of brokers and that they were going contrary to the news and to the general inclination of the market. Some of the bear bosses refused to express any opinion of the market last night saying that it was useless. Pit observers who followed the trend of the trade all day said that the southwest drought news was responsible for the advance. One of the largest traders in the southwest having sent buying orders here for July. This induced a few local professionals to take hold and the market was soon oversold. It was the theory of the bulls that should they be able to maintain values around the present level until after the turn of the new year a better consumptive demand will develop and unless there is a general break in the southwestern drought better prices are looked for.

Leading bears in corn did practically nothing yesterday while the bulls were aggressive buyers. They caught the pit element short and gave them a squeeze but at the last the most conservative of the pit element looked upon the market as acting rather weak. One thing that surprised the trade was the continued stubbornness of the market in the face of the immediate movement and the large accumulation on track here. House with country connection says that it does not look for a decided break from the present level. Elevator people and some of the shippers were buying sample corn yesterday and Iowa was a good seller but offers from Illinois in some instances showed a decrease.

There will be a regular session of the Chicago board of trade Saturday. The directors at their meeting yesterday refused to grant the holiday petitioned for. Their action was caused by the expected large arrivals of corn and oats which would cause accumulation from Friday until Tuesday.

Cash sales at Chicago were 10,000 bushels of wheat 100,000 bushels of corn and $240,000 bushels of oats.

Liverpool 1:30 p m—Wheat unchanged to ⅛d lower. Corn unchanged to ⅛d lower. March wheat 6s 11d off ⅛d. May wheat 6s 11⅝d unchanged.

LIVERPOOL Dec 21—Broomhall says: The wheat market opened quiet and unchanged and during the morning was dull within ⅛d range and toward mid day there was some little disposition shown to take profits owing to the approaching holidays. The firmness in America offset the cheaper Australian offers. Larger Russian offers and the continued favorable results from Argentine. Australian crop advices continue favorable and private advices state that internal stocks in Russia are large. At mid day the market was dull and unchanged to ⅛d lower than yesterday.

Corn market was dull and unchanged to ¼d lower with the pressure in American grade owing to lower American offers and larger receipts.

Liverpool and London market will be closed Monday and Tuesday in observance of the Christmas holiday.

STOCKS INACTIVE; MARKET IRREGULAR

Declines Outnumber Advances and Speculation Assumes Holiday Character.

NEW YORK Dec 21—Declines outnumbered advances in the initial trading on the Stock Exchange today and the tone of the market was decidedly irregular. Western Maryland declined a point, Baltimore and Ohio ¾ and there were fractional losses in Reading Atchison New York Central United States Steel and Amalgamated Copper. The coal stocks were irregular, Lehigh Valley losing its gain.

Speculation took on a holiday character and there was a general disinclination to do much pending action on the Lehigh Valley dividend. The coal stocks furnished the more important fluctuations. Reading rose from 140½ to 151⅛ on large purchases and there was a recovery in Lehigh Valley to 179 compared with 177⅞, its early low figure. American Beet Sugar also was purchased freely and improved over a point. Elsewhere the movement was confined well within the limit of half a point and there was a complete suspension of trading in many stocks.

The strength and activity of the coal shares was the feature of the second hour. Lehigh Valley mounting to 180 with a later reaction to 179. Rumor was busy with the outcome of the Lehigh Valley directors meeting scheduled for midday and it was rumored that Reading directors were to take action in the course of the day. There was more or less pressure against United States Steel and the Metal stocks while the Harriman issues were inclined to heaviness on short selling. American Smelting Tennessee Copper American Car and St Louis Southwestern yielded a point. Virginia Iron jumped 6¼ points. The general tone was easier at noon.

Bonds were firm.

Traders did not show much enthusiasm with the further rise in the coal stocks. Reading going to 151⅛ Lehigh Valley to 180⅞. A reaction in the final dealings of a point in Reading and Lehigh Valley imparted an unsettled tone to the close.

NEW YORK Dec 21—Thomas Gibson says: The buying of bonds continues very good and the expansion in that direction is considered significant by most judges of market movements. The technical situation in Reading is beginning to shift. There is some covering of shorts and quite a bit of buying for long account but the shortage is still pretty large and the technique may be called strong but this would change very quickly on a bulge of two or three points.

No specific news of importance and no change of position. Would continue to buy on moderate declines for the present.

The buying of wheat is good and prices will probably advance before long. Corn should also seek a higher level.

Peggy Goes to Bell Theater

LADY PEGGY BUYING A TICKET AT THE BELL THEATER.

Jane Dear:

I've been telling you about everything but my amusements, and now I'm going to forget Christmas shopping for half an hour and tell you what a good time I had Sunday night. Charlie was at the house all afternoon and we began to get rather out of conversation about half past five. I was wishing we could go somewhere when he said, "Peggy, put on your hat and we'll go down to the Bell theater. They have a six o'clock show on Sunday nights now."

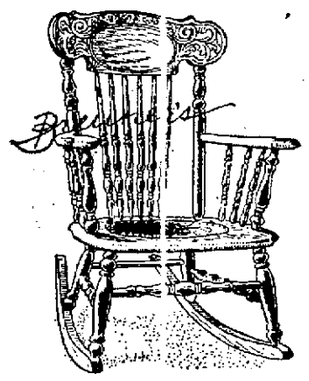

Maybe you think I didn't jump at the chance. I had such fun, for the program was fine. And crowds! My dear, they have had to put on this extra show on Sunday night in order to guarantee everybody a seat. The house is crowded for each of the three performances, at 6, 7:30 and 9. Sunday and holiday prices are 15c and 25c, but on week days they are only 10c and 20, and at the matinees you can sit downstairs for ten cents.

I told Charlie I couldn't see how they could give such a show for those prices. He said it was because the Bell was on the Sullivan & Considine circuit, and as there are so many houses under this management all over the United States, they were able to get better acts because they could engage them for a long season.

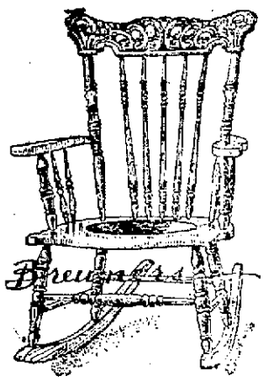

Oh, Jane, you must see Lind! I won't give the surprise away, for when you get here Friday I'm going to take you to the Bell to see you puzzle over Lind as I did. Lind's Paris gowns and beautiful dances will entrance you—and you'll be amazed—but I won't give anything away. Not I.

You'll get only one more letter from me after today, dear. I have something fine to tell you in tomorrow's letter too.

As always,
LADY PEGGY.

FAMOUS BLYTHE SUIT IN COURTS

Contest Between Heirs of Former Land Owners to Be Bitter One.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 21.—After five years' of preparation and preliminary skirmishing, during which death has changed the personnel of both principals and attorneys, the contest between the heirs of Thomas H. Blythe and Guillermo Andrade, involving $500,000 in money and 1,500,000 acres of land in Mexico, came to trial yesterday in the Superior Court of this county.

The present suit was instituted to recover a partnership share in the proceeds of land sales in Mexico and the present real estate holdings of the Andrade estate in the same country. The sales amount to more than half a million. Eighty-seven thousand dollars of this amount is now tied up in the hands of a trust company here, and title to the 1,500,000 remaining acres of the alleged partnership holding is clouded pending the issue of the case.

SUIT BEGAN IN 1883.

Former Attorney-General W. H. H. Hart was the first witness yesterday. He declared that he had spent $77,000 of his own money in prosecuting the claim, and was still waiting for a final settlement, so that he might receive his money back, as well as a retaining fee.

Hart was counsel for Florence Blythe, now Mrs. A. A. Moore Jr. of Oakland, in the famous and successful fight which she made to establish her right as the acknowledged daughter of the dead millionaire to inherit his estate.

PANAMA CONSUL JAILED FOR FRAUD

A. Gilbert Wheeler Held for Adulterating Headache Powders.

CHICAGO, Dec. 21.—A. Gilbert Wheeler, 70 years old, consul for the Republic of Panama, and, a decade ago, a professor in chemistry in the University of Chicago, was arrested yesterday on orders from Assistant United State District Attorney Hulburt, charged with misbranding and adulterating headache powders.

The aged man is president of a concern which manufactures a powder, the label on the packages of which declares that it is "pure and effective," and a cure for various ailments.

"Arrest the Consul of the Republic of Panama?" the aged chemist said, after he had been taken to the United States marshal's office. "You'll find yourself mixed up in international complications.

"And just to think, Dr. Wiley, the government's pure food expert, and I used to sleep in the same bed," he said later. "I'll bet, if Doc knew this, there will be plenty of trouble."

FOURTH ESTATE CABINET FORMED

President Taft to Take Advice Offered by Newspaper Correspondents.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—President Taft yesterday established a new cabinet—that of the Fourth Estate. The first meeting was held in the Cabinet chamber of the executive's offices. President Taft, as usual, presided.

After the meeting messages were received from Secretary of State Knox, Secretary of War Dickinson and other Cabinet officers asking if there was anything that could be given out. It was stated that if anything were to be said it might be given out later by Mr. Norton, secretary to the President.

The establishment of the Fourth Estate Cabinet makes the newspapers an integral non-partisan part of the Government. Meetings are to be held regularly every Tuesday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, when the correspondents of the big newspapers will give the President the benefit of their advice.

AIRMAN IS DUPED FOR PRIZE MONEY

Aviator Audemars Innocently Signs Away Rights to Valuable Awards.

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—Edmund Audemars, the French aviator who participated in the international meet at Belmont Park, said that before leaving this country for France, after the meet, he signed a paper in English which he thought gave authority for the forwarding of his prize money.

On his return he was told by the meet officials that the paper was a complete conveyance of all his prize money and that none of it could be paid him.

SKULL FRACTURED BY THUG'S BLOWS

Janitor of Southern Pacific Station Found Robbed and Injured.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 21.—Bearing evidence of having been assaulted and beaten by robbers, Michael Boland, janitor at the Southern police station, was found unconscious on the sidewalk at Fifth and Mission streets at a late hour last night. At the Central Emergency hospital, where he was taken in the police ambulance, it was found that Boland was suffering from a possible fracture of the skull, and that the $20 he had with him when he left the station at 3 o'clock was missing.

A careful examination disclosed the fact that his injury had apparently been inflicted by a blunt instrument, and it is likely that he was slugged by a footpad, who robbed him of his money. Boland's nephew, Social Policeman Jack Boland, was summoned and detectives have been detailed on the case.

OAKLAND MASONS INSTALL OFFICERS

Brooklyn Lodge Pays Tribute to Retiring Master S. D. Warren.

Brooklyn Lodge No. 225, F. and A. M., held its installation of newly elected officers at the hall in East Oakland last night. Walter F. Vane, the retiring master, acted as installing officer, and Edwin L. Sargent was master of ceremonies.

The officers installed were:

G. Earle Kelly, worshipful master; Charles H. Davies, senior warden; George H. True, treasurer; John C. Foster, secretary; Thomas B. R. Crandall, chaplain; Charles E. Stowe, senior deacon; Edwin J. Weld, junior deacon; Chester V. Rowell, marshal; Louis Sutter, senior steward; Godfrey E. Wady, junior steward; Alexander Copeland, tyler.

Besides the past master's jewel, which was presented to Vane by Past Master Granville D. Warren, the class of 1910 gave him a set of solid silverware, Milton S. Hamilton acting as spokesman. As a further tribute for the splendid record made by Brooklyn lodge this year, the past masters of the lodge gave Mrs. Vane a set of sterling silver. Past Master John C. Foster making the presentation speech.

Dr. E. E. Baker, Dr. J. H. Pond and F. H. E. O'Donnell were among the speakers of the evening. A number of selections were given by the Brooklyn quartet, composed of W. H. Graham, C. V. Newell, Dr. W. J. McCracken and John McEwing. James H. Gould accompanied the quartet at the organ.

SALE OF LANDS NETS BIG SUM

Twenty-Three States Divide Money Received; Figures in Millions.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—Twenty-three states participated in the division of the moneys received from the sales from the public lands during the last year, according to figures given out at the general land office today. The total amount received from the public land sales totalled approximately $12,198,160, of which $5,257,695 was placed in the United States treasury as the net proceeds of the sales, $6,078,854 went to the credit of the reclamation fund, and $261,911 was turned over to the states as their share of the proceeds.

Only fifteen states participated in the divisions of the reclamation funds. These states receiving no funds on this account have no reclamation projects within their borders. North Dakota leads with the largest amount turned into the treasury, $788,074; Kansas first in the amount received by the states, $239,448, but takes third place in the amount given to the credit of the reclamation fund—$682,714.

SOUTH DAKOTA SECOND.

South Dakota is second in all the divisions. The net proceeds converted into the treasury from the sale of lands in that state amounted to $701,395; the amount accredited to the state is $55,069 and the amount for the reclamation fund is $838,514.

The third state in the matter of net proceeds turned into the treasury and the amount accredited to the state tops the column of those receiving portions of money for the reclamation fund. Montana takes this position. The net proceeds in that state amounted to $633,175. The amount to the state is $31,658, and the amount to the reclamation fund is given as $933,721.

Wisconsin foots the column with $1820 as the net proceeds of the sales in that state; $91 as the amount given to the state and nothing to the reclamation fund.

SILVER PAVES STREET, BUT ONLY SHORT TIME

DENVER, Colo., Dec. 21.—A part of Sixth avenue, Denver, is paved with silver. The street is being surfaced with slag from the dump of the old Grant smelter, and a portion of the dump where a quantity of silver bullion was run off by mistake many years ago, was used before the fact was discovered. The American Smelting and Refining company, which owns the dump, has stopped the removal of the valuable deposit.
